Rusk Ready to Warn Reds of War Dangers

Secretary, Gromyko Meet Today

Berlin Is Focal Point of Parley

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk opens a series of cold war talks with Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko today in a delicate and dangerous diplomatic maneuver to find out whether the Soviet Union is interested in a compromise settlement of the Berlin crisis.

Meet at Lunch

The two men scheduled a luncheon conference for the first of a series of discussions expected to continue into next week. Rusk invited Gromyko to the meeting in his suite at a midtown hotel. Several policy advisers on each side also will attend.

Berlin was the central issue of the meeting but aides of both men said there was no doubt they would also discuss the crisis in the United Nations arising from Soviet opposition to appointment of a successor to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold.

Gromyko gave no advance sign of any Soviet yielding on either of the two great problems that have brought the world's two migitiest powers into threatening conformation.

Rusk in Adamant Mood

Rusk was reported in an adamant mood, determined to warn the Soviet government anew of war dangers in the Berlin dispute and of Western fears for the future of the U.N.

Rusk, who took the initiative in setting up the talks, faced the tricky task of sounding out Soviet views on Berlin negotiations without giving Gromyko any impression that the Western Allies are acting from weakness or fear of war. Such an impression, Western diplomats said, would increase the danger of war over Berlin by encouraging a Soviet miscalculation of Western intentions.

Intent on Two Points

Rusk was reported intent on getting across two points to Gromyko: First, the Western powers will not consider negotiating away their West Berlin rights or tolerate interference with their access to the city. Second, the Western powers are prepared to negotiate on German problems, including Berlin, though they will not negotiate on the Soviet Union's terms.

Hurricane Still Has 100-Winds

Warnings Are Up From L. I.-Maine

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hurricane Esther — apparently tiring from her long journey from the tropics—lost her vicious fury today as she neared Cape Cod and offshore Massachusetts islands.

The weather station at Otis Air Force Base reported, "the eye of the hurricane has closed, winds are diminishing fast and Cape Cod may have no hurricane at all."

Still Called Hurricane

The Weather Bureau observation station at Hyannis Airport still referred to the storm as a hurricane.

Otis weather officials said the center of the storm was 35 miles south of Martha's Vineyard when the eye disappeared.

Otis has radar facilities which permit observers to track the path of the storm and determine its strength.

Esther slammed by the eastern end of Long Island this morning with 100-mile-an-hour winds but the effect on the populous New York area was considered tame.

Most serious consequences appeared to be power failures in thousands of homes, flooding of highways, broken windows and signboards.

No Challenge to '38

Esther seemed unlikely to challenge the record of her unnamed sister which swept up the coast just 23 years ago today. That storm took 588 lives and caused $300 million damage.

Preparedness was the watchword in Esther's path. About 700 persons left their homes in the Montauk, N.Y., area, at the eastern tip of Long Island, for emergency shelters or higher ground.

Massachusetts Civil Defense headquarters evacuated 1,000 families from areas in the path of high tides or coastal flooding in Buzzards Bay and Cape Cod.

Fierce winds tore down electric and power lines. The Long Island Lighting Co. in New York said more than 206,000 homes in Suffolk, Nassau and Queens Counties, all on Long Island, were without power. More than 10,000 phones were out. Schools were closed for the day in many communities.

Connecticut escaped the full force of Esther and Gov. John Dempsey said the worst appeared over at mid-morning without serious damage.

He instructed state police and other officials to make facilities available to needy persons in Rhode Island and Massachusetts.

Rhode Island, hit hard in the 1938 hurricane, fared better today. At least 200 persons were evacuated from waterfront homes. Boat owners had two days of warning to get their craft secured or out of water. But five foot seas in Narragansett Bay washed about a half dozen skiffs ashore.

JFK Children Leave

As a precaution, children in the summer compound of President Kennedy were removed at dawn to Otis Air Force Base, 18 miles away from Hyannis Port. Five cars were used to move the Kennedy vacationists who included the President's children, Caroline and John Jr.

The Secret Service requested they move.

Assembly to Hear President Monday

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy will address the United Nations General Assembly next Monday, the White House announced today.

Certain to Express Policy

Kennedy is expected to set forth the United States position on disarmament and a nuclear test ban.

He is certain to express U. S. policy toward the organization of the United Nations itself in the wake of the death of Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold.

The White House said the United Nations had scheduled a Kennedy speech for Monday morning.

Press secretary Pierre Salinger said the President would appear at that time unless something unforseen interferes.

UAW Using New Local Approach

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union—its threat of a nationwide strike against General Motors Corp. quashed—aimed today at a new approach to local problems holding up complete settlement of a new contract with GM.

Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, said Wednesday night the union has "developed a new approach to expedite the settlements of unresolved local issues."

He scheduled a 10 a.m. meeting today of the General Motors Council, a union advisory board, to discuss the new approach. Reuther declined to elaborate on the plan.

Today's meeting followed a hectic night which saw the council vote to accept a GM-UAW national agreement on the money package and national work rules. A few hours later, however, the council voted to ask the UAW International Executive Board for authority to strike GM in support of local contract demands.

The board, governing body of the UAW, met quickly. Less than two hours later, Reuther announced that the board would not authorize a general strike against GM. He said the advisory council's action was an "action by members demonstrating the bitterness of some toward some local practices. This was a culmination of resentment over local problems and the locals' way of protesting."

He said a general strike "cannot in good conscience be justified, therefore it will not be authorized." He added: "All General Motors employes in plants where local issues are resolved are instructed to stay on the job."

Local unions which still had not reached agreement with their managements retained the authority to strike.

GM officials declined comment on the union's actions.

Wednesday night's flurry followed a day in which GM and the UAW apparently reached agreement on national contract demands and made substantial progress on the various local demands.

Negotiations at GM started

New Shirt Co. To Be Located In Fuller Plant

The former Fuller Shirt Company, Inc. facilities at 45 Pine Grove Avenue will be utilized in the manufacture of high quality boys' shirts. Announcement of the new shirt industry was made today by James R. Fuller, president of The Kingston Shirt Company, which will manufacture the product.

When interviewed, the president indicated that the employment goal of the new organization is 250 employes.

Fuller said the new corporation, The Kingston Shirt Company, has chosen to remain in the Kingston area because of the quality of the needle industry personnel, which is inherent in this community.

President Fuller, who will head the new corporation, will manage the manufacturing facilities in Kingston. All shipping, warehousing and most of the clerical work also will be handled here.

The Kingston Shirt Company will be a subsidiary of the Ramar Shirt Company, whose distribution is nationwide. Ray Rosenbloom, president of Ramar Shirt Company, also will be an officer of the local company.

Employment applications now are being taken at the Pine Grove Avenue plant.

Wallace Co. Picks Kraus Sector For New Million-Dollar Store

Andrew B. Wallace III, president of the Wallace Co. group of department stores, announced today his company's agreement with the Ulster Shopping Center to build a one-story 50,000 square foot store as the principal tenant of the center.

Other stores in the center now under construction include F. W. Woolworth and Food Fair.

In addition, the center will include several small specialty shops. The center is situated on the former Kraus Farm on Albany Avenue, just over the city line in Ulster County.

Opening date for the new Wallace Co. store is tentatively set for late August or early September of 1962.

75,000 to Draw From

Wallace, in making public the plans for the new store, stated, "Our investigation of the Kingston trading area showed that it has had one of the best rates of economic and population growth in the Hudson River Valley. Kingston, and adjacent townships now have a population of 75,000 people — about a one-third increase since 1950."

"A consumer survey by the Kingston Chamber of Commerce," Wallace added, "showed an enormous demand for a department store which would offer real assortments of fashion and quality-right merchandise. That is exactly the kind of store the Wallace Co. has been operating in Poughkeepsie and other cities for more than 50 years."

To Cost Over Million

The new Wallace Co. store will represent an investment of well over one million dollars. The exterior and interior architectural plans have been developed by the New York city firm of Raymond Loewy/Wm. Snaith Co., which has designed some of the nation's most attractive retail facilities.

The store will carry all categories of women's apparel, including coats, suits, dresses, sportswear, shoes, cosmetics, fashion accessories, and intimate apparel.

There will be complete infants', children's and youth departments.

Men's furnishings and shoes will be represented, as well as a complete selection of notions, stationery, luggage and smallwares.

Rocky Plans New Fallout Shelter Plan for State

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Rockefeller administration plans to draft a new fallout-shelter program for New York State.

It will be tied in with federal action expected but not yet specified.

The program may include grants of $50 or $100 to help individual homeowners construct shelters for protection against radioactive fallout from nuclear attack.

Will Call Meeting

Gov. Rockefeller said Wednesday he would summon the state Civil Defense Council to a meeting "in the very near future" to begin drafting the program.

The Republican governor said the basic policy on shelters should be set by the federal government and "supported by state and local action."

Rockefeller will explain federal plans to the state council when it meets. No date has been set.

His trip to Watertown Wednesday was cut short by Hurricane Esther.

Not Quite Satisfied

In other comments during his visit, Rockefeller indicated that he was not entirely satisfied with his identification as leader of the liberal wing of the Republican party.

The governor, a potential candidate for the GOP nomination for president in 1964, has frequently been pictured as a maverick in Republican politics. But he went to great lengths to picture himself as an orthodox, organization Republican.

Red China Seat Certain to Bring Clash Between U. S. and Russians

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The United States and the Soviet Union come to grips today on the perennial issue of giving Red China a U.N. seat. For the first time in a decade both agree the General Assembly should debate the question.

The two big powers are sure to clash, however, when the 21-nation Steering Committee meets later in the day to decide how the explosive question shall be placed before the 99-nation assembly.

Still opposed to admitting the Peiping regime, the United States has agreed only to assembly debate on the issue.

The Red China issue was one of several serious cold war disputes that cropped up either on the agenda or in the background almost as soon as the assembly met Tuesday. Among others are Berlin, disarmament and the future of the United Nations itself. This last involves the task of choosing a successor to the late Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, in the face of stern Soviet opposition.

In the Steering Committee, the United States is determined to block the Soviet demand that the United Nations recognize Peiping as rightful holder of the seat now occipied by Nationalist China.

The U.S. delegation announced support for a New Zealand proposal to debate the over-all question of who should represent China. And the U.S. or one of its allies is expected to move for creation of a special committee to study the issue and report back to the assembly next year.

Aware that this would have the same effect as shelving the issue, the Communists are certain to fight the maneuver. But delegates believe the study plan will get majority support.

In the hunt for a new secretary-general, the Soviet Union killed hopes of East-West agreement by turning down a widely supported plan to name a representative of a nonaligned nation as interim successor until a permanent secretary-general can be agreed upon.

The Soviets insisted they would settle only for Premier Khrushchev's troika plan—a three-man board representing the Western, Communist and neutral nations, each with veto power.

The Western powers are certain such a setup would paralyze the United Nations. They were reported determined to press for a one-man authority, even if it means naming an interim chief who would not be recognized by the Soviets.

The Berlin crisis comes up in private talks between Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. They are trying to pave the way to East-West negotiations, but Rusk wants to find out first whether the Soviets are willing to talk about mutual concessions or simply want to force Western approval of their policies for Germany.

Complete failure was reported Wednesday by the two powers in their attempts to reopen negotiations on disarmament. But they did announce a statement of principles for future negotiations which will open the way for what promises to be a detailed disarmament debate.

Congo Civil War Threat Still Present Despite Firing Halt

NDOLA, Northern Rhodesia (AP)—An uneasy cease-fire was proclaimed today in embattled Katanga but the danger of civil war still hung over the Congo.

President Moise Tshombe of Katanga and the U.N. command signed a provisional cease-fire that froze the positions of their warring forces. Still unsettled is the issue that led to the shooting—Katanga's secession.

While a lull in the fighting was already evident before the peace pact was reached there were no immediate reports whether all shooting had stoppd according to the timetable set for one minute past midnight.

A new threat came from the Congo central government, which has been a bystander during the eight days of fighting between the Katangan forces and U.N. troops acting at the government request.

With Tshombe as adamant as ever in keeping his mineral-rich province independent, Congo Premier Cyrille Adoula alerted the Congolese army with the declaration the central government would "spare no effort to end Katanga's secession."

Speaking in Leopoldville before the cease-fire was announced, Adoula warned his government "will reply to force with force."

The shadow of the late Patrice Lumumba hung over the Congo capital. Supporters of the slain leftist former premier demonstrated in the streets shouting anti-Western slogans, and Soviet diplomats, kicked out after Lumumba's overthrow, moved back to set up shop again.

The provisional cease-fire calling for a freeze in all military operations in Katanga was reached Wednesday night in a cordial but cool atmosphere on neutral grounds in this Northern Rhodesian frontier town.

Smiling and outwardly confident, Tshombe made the announcement first at a news conference. Mahmoud Khiari of Tunisia, who took over as chief U.N. negotiator after Dag Hammarskjold met his death in a plane crash flying to the peace talks, confirmed the agreement later.

Both sides emphasized that the agreement is subject to approval by U.N. headquarters in New York.

Storm Spares Area, Slams Long Island

Ulster County communities and most of the Mid-Hudson Valley were spared the worst portion of the fringe effects of Hurricane Esther which hit the eastern tip of Long Island this morning and reportedly left over 200,000 homes without electricity.

Hardest hit in the valley was Rockland County where according to the Associated Press, there was wide disruption of power service because of falling trees downing power lines. An estimated 80 per cent of the power was cut off in the western part of the county and 40 per cent in the eastern.

Local utilities reported a few trouble spots in the northern and western portion of Ulster County caused by falling limbs and trees.

Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp., reported there were many scattered cases of service interruption, the largest affecting about 700 customers in the West Hurley-Stone Hollow area.

Joseph J. Benjamin, Kingston Operating District distribution superintendent said a large tree fell across power lines along Williams Lane which interrupted service for a short time for about 700 customers. He said the greatest volume of trouble calls were received about 5 a. m.

Benjamin said Central Hudson was sending 22 men from here and Catskill to the Long Island Lighting Company area where it is reported that 70,000 customers have been affected.

This last involves the task of choosing a successor to the late Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, in the face of stern Soviet opposition.

In the Steering Committee, the United States is determined to block the Soviet demand that the United Nations recognize Peiping as rightful holder of the seat now occipied by Nationalist China.

The U.S. delegation announced support for a New Zealand proposal to debate the over-all question of who should represent China. And the U.S. or one of its allies is expected to move for creation of a special committee to study the issue and report back to the assembly next year.

Aware that this would have the same effect as shelving the issue, the Communists are certain to fight the maneuver. But delegates believe the study plan will get majority support.

In the hunt for a new secretary-general, the Soviet Union killed hopes of East-West agreement by turning down a widely supported plan to name a representative of a nonaligned nation as interim successor until a permanent secretary-general can be agreed upon.

The Soviets insisted they would settle only for Premier Khrushchev's troika plan—a three-man board representing the Western, Communist and neutral nations, each with veto power.

The Western powers are certain such a setup would paralyze the United Nations. They were reported determined to press for a one-man authority, even if it means naming an interim chief who would not be recognized by the Soviets.

The Berlin crisis comes up in private talks between Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. They are trying to pave the way to East-West negotiations, but Rusk wants to find out first whether the Soviets are willing to talk about mutual concessions or simply want to force Western approval of their policies for Germany.

Complete failure was reported Wednesday by the two powers in their attempts to reopen negotiations on disarmament. But they did announce a statement of principles for future negotiations which will open the way for what promises to be a detailed disarmament debate.

Congo Civil War Threat Still Present Despite Firing Halt

NDOLA, Northern Rhodesia (AP)—An uneasy cease-fire was proclaimed today in embattled Katanga but the danger of civil war still hung over the Congo.

President Moise Tshombe of Katanga and the U.N. command signed a provisional cease-fire that froze the positions of their warring forces. Still unsettled is the issue that led to the shooting—Katanga's secession.

While a lull in the fighting was already evident before the peace pact was reached there were no immediate reports whether all shooting had stoppd according to the timetable set for one minute past midnight.

A new threat came from the Congo central government, which has been a bystander during the eight days of fighting between the Katangan forces and U.N. troops acting at the government request.

With Tshombe as adamant as ever in keeping his mineral-rich province independent, Congo Premier Cyrille Adoula alerted the Congolese army with the declaration the central government would "spare no effort to end Katanga's secession."

Speaking in Leopoldville before the cease-fire was announced, Adoula warned his government "will reply to force with force."

The shadow of the late Patrice Lumumba hung over the Congo capital. Supporters of the slain leftist former premier demonstrated in the streets shouting anti-Western slogans, and Soviet diplomats, kicked out after Lumumba's overthrow, moved back to set up shop again.

The provisional cease-fire calling for a freeze in all military operations in Katanga was reached Wednesday night in a cordial but cool atmosphere on neutral grounds in this Northern Rhodesian frontier town.

Smiling and outwardly confident, Tshombe made the announcement first at a news conference. Mahmoud Khiari of Tunisia, who took over as chief U.N. negotiator after Dag Hammarskjold met his death in a plane crash flying to the peace talks, confirmed the agreement later.

Both sides emphasized that the agreement is subject to approval by U.N. headquarters in New York.

Storm Spares Area, Slams Long Island

Ulster County communities and most of the Mid-Hudson Valley were spared the worst portion of the fringe effects of Hurricane Esther which hit the eastern tip of Long Island this morning and reportedly left over 200,000 homes without electricity.

Hardest hit in the valley was Rockland County where according to the Associated Press, there was wide disruption of power service because of falling trees downing power lines. An estimated 80 per cent of the power was cut off in the western part of the county and 40 per cent in the eastern.

Local utilities reported a few trouble spots in the northern and western portion of Ulster County caused by falling limbs and trees.

Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp., reported there were many scattered cases of service interruption, the largest affecting about 700 customers in the West Hurley-Stone Hollow area.

Joseph J. Benjamin, Kingston Operating District distribution superintendent said a large tree fell across power lines along Williams Lane which interrupted service for a short time for about 700 customers. He said the greatest volume of trouble calls were received about 5 a. m.

Benjamin said Central Hudson was sending 22 men from here and Catskill to the Long Island Lighting Company area where it is reported that 70,000 customers have been affected.

NEW YORK (AP) -- As new shows erupt across the television schedule these days a new batch of commercials are coming into sight too.

As far as novelty and fresh approaches to salesmanship are concerned, there seems to be little worth mentioning except a stronger trend this season toward weaving plots into the pitches.

One soft drink company managed to insert the whole boy-meets-girl sequence into its middle commercial the other night, with the principals clutching their beloved bottles instead of each other at the smash windup.

The ladies with the fresh shampoos and home permanents are still swirling their heads in slow motion as they admire themselves in mirrors (an advertising executive told me that the greatest sales discovery since halitosis was slow motion film of swirling heads of hair).

Average housewives are still taking whiteness, softness and cleanliness tests -- and I shall spend another season wondering where the sponsors hide the film in which the victim picked the wrong pile of clothes or liked the taste of butter better than that other spread.

It is with keen personal regret that I report we're in for still another season of those repititious family scenes in which daddy or one of the kids rehash the results of a toothpaste test in a college.

My attention has been diverted to other shows recently, but the one thing I'm hoping is that those little boys who rub chocolate syrup, gravy, and soup into clean towels and table cloths will have vanished during the summer.

NBC's "The Joey Bishop Show" got off to a sluggish start Wednesday night with an uninhibited sound track loaded with fake laughter. Bishop, one of the bright young men of comedy, plays a scared underling in a Hollywood publicity office. In the opening show he is fired, and unsuspectingly sounds off about his boss before the concealed microphone and camera of a television show.

"The Candid Camera" device may be new, but the situation and all the jokes were vintage.

Recommended tonight: Ernie Kovacs comedy special, ABC, 10:30-11 (Eastern Daylight Time) --first of a series of six which will turn up from time to time during the season.

Enrollment Is 23,486 In 9 School Districts

School enrollment in Ulster County this year has risen to 23,486, an increase of 1,298 over the start of the 1960-61 school year, a check of the nine school districts in the area disclosed today.

The statistics show a greater volume of increase compared to the overall state picture. The state reported an increase of 89,530 to 3.6 million students, or less than a three per cent jump. Ulster County's increase figures just under six per cent and comes very close to the increase anticipated by the various district school officials.

The Kingston School District (Consolidated) has the most students 8,836 an increase of 408 over the 1960 figure of 8,428.

The Saugerties Central Schools District reported an enrollment of 2,898. This is 199 more than last year's figure of 2,699 and just one under the anticipated rise.

The Onteora Central School District enrollment passed Ellenville this year with a roster of 2,192 students, 161 more than the 1960 figure of 2,031. Ellenville has 2,191, compared to 2,077 last year, a rise of 114.

Rondout Valley Central Schools report 2,069 students enrolled. This is 164 more than the 1,905 of last year.

Marlboro Central Schools revealed a sizeable increase of 135 to 1,259. Last year's figure was 1,124.

Wallkill Central School District has 1,687 students compared to 1,634 last year, a rise of 53.

Highland Central School reported a total of 1,429 students, some 40 more than 1,389 last year.

Pennsy Still Open To Merger Talks With NY Central

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pennsylvania Railroad's chief executive officer says the Pennsy is still willing to discuss a merger with the New York Central.

It would be "a good merger, with savings in the neighborhood of $100 million annually," said the Pennsylvania's chief executive, board chairman James M. Symes Wednesday.

He said such a merger would be in the public interest.

Symes was a surprise rebuttal witness for the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad at an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing on rival bids of Central and C&O to acquire control of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Symes saw the possibility of three big railroad systems in the east in balanced competition—a Pennsylvania - Central combination, the C&O-B&O and a combination of the Norfolk & Western, Nickel Plate and Wabash.

The Pennsylvania and Central launched a merger study in 1958. Symes said the talks were broken off by Central's President A. E. Perlman.

Symes said that not once in the merger studies did Perlman express any reservations about such a merger preventing the formation of balanced competitive rail systems in the East.

After Symes' testimony, Perlman told reporters he stood on his previous testimony that he did not think a Central-Pennsylvania merger would be in the public interest.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Aptimism, that little fire burning brightly in the dark woods of the world, got rained on again. So those who insist man is too intelligent to blow himself to blazes must still wait and see.

Talks between the United States and Russia, not only on banning nuclear tests but on disarmament in general, have broken down. On Sept. 9 the two powers recessed their conversations on banning nuclear tests after 340 sessions in 34 months. It was about time, since the Soviets, after a layoff of almost three years, had already resumed testing.

K Brushes Off Talks

Premier Khrushchev brushed aside such talks anyway. He said there would be no more moratoriums on nuclear tests until there was agreement on general disarmament.

For the inhabitants of the sunny side of the street this was indeed gloomy news but not altogether black because ever since midsummer the United States and Russia had been holding separate talks on disarmament.

Rather, the two sides—in sessions in Washington, Moscow and New York—had not actually been discussing disarmament but only how to set up full-scale discussion on disarmament.

Then Wednesday this collapsed too. The United States and Russia reported to the United Nations the complete failure of their talks on how to start talking about disarmament in general.

Talks Prove Fruitless

Since the end of the war in 1945 the two countries have had perhaps thousands of conversations on disarmament, just the two of them alone or in various international groups in various places. The result is still nothing.

This naturally raises some questions which, while old, are still unanswered:

1. Does Russia really want disarmament or is it stalling until it acquires such a frightening arsenal of weapons that it can terrorize the world into submission?

2. Is it to the best interest of the United States ever to disarm so long as Russia and Red China, with their endless resources of manpower, persist in their campaign to own the earth?

3. Is it possible for a number of nations to have the most modern weapons—the United States, Russia, Britain and France have them and Red China will soon—without getting into war with them, by design or accident?

Only one thing is certain: Until there is a disarmament agreement, and no one is offering odds there will be, the United States and Russia will keep on trying to outdo each other in thinking up ever more nightmare weapons.

Church Relief Service Aids in Texas Hurricane Disaster Area

NEW YORK — To meet emergency needs in hurricane stricken Texas, approximately 30,000 pounds of clothing, bedding and household supplies are being rushed to devastation areas from supplies at the Church World Service Clothing Center in St. Louis.

The relief supplies will be distributed through the Red Cross at Edna, in Jackson County, Texas and in the Houston area.

Request for the Church World Service aid — from used clothing supplies normally collected for overseas distribution — was made by Harold Kilpatrick, executive of the Texas Council of Churches, and by the Rev. Charles Kelly of the Houston Council of Churches.

Church World Service, the overseas relief agency of major Protestant denominations, is a central department of the National Council of Churches.

YMCA Directors Hear Fall, Winter Program Reports

Reports on the fall and winter program by the three secretaries were heard at the Tuesday night meeting of Kingston YMCA board of directors.

The Rev. Roy A. Hassel, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, offered devotions opening the meeting.

Leon I. Van Heusen, youth director, and G. Herbert DeKay, chairman of youth committee gave detailed reports of the new club and craft organization that will be promoted by the new director. Special stress was made concerning a boys membership campaign and other routine program ideas. The boys "kick-off" party will be held Saturday at 10 a. m. and all boys in the Kingston area are invited.

Steve Orozco, physical director, gave a report of the opening of the many activities in the gymnasium, swimming pool, weightlifting club, the young men's basketball and the health club program.

Louis H. Schafer, general secretary, enlarged on the activities of this past summer. The program for boys and girls, young men and the Day Camp boys and girls was the largest and the most outstanding in many years. The fall and winter indoor program will be greatly enlarged with the Industrial Management Club, the modern square dance group, the Parents Club and other interest groups.

George J. Silkworth, chairman of the Day Camp Commitee, also gave a detailed report of the 1961 camp. Many new activities were injected into the camp program. Steve Orozco was commended for his fine work at camp.

The committee on modern square dancing for adults gave a fine report. This new community activity will start Tuesday and continue for 12 weeks. George R. Clapper of Catskill will be the caller and instructor.

Besides Those Mentioned

Attending were President Chester A. Baltz Jr., Secretary H. Irvin Etchells, Bernard J. Mizel, Clifford G. Smith, John R. Shults Jr., Addison Jones and William S. Keyser.

Symes saw the possibility of three big railroad systems in the east in balanced competition—a Pennsylvania - Central combination, the C&O-B&O and a combination of the Norfolk & Western, Nickel Plate and Wabash.

The Pennsylvania and Central launched a merger study in 1958. Symes said the talks were broken off by Central's President A. E. Perlman.

Symes said that not once in the merger studies did Perlman express any reservations about such a merger preventing the formation of balanced competitive rail systems in the East.

After Symes' testimony, Perlman told reporters he stood on his previous testimony that he did not think a Central-Pennsylvania merger would be in the public interest.

Disarmament Accord Held Unlikely

U. S., Reds Will Go on With Plans for Nightmarish Arms

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Optimism, that little fire burning brightly in the dark woods of the world, got rained on again. So those who insist man is too intelligent to blow himself to blazes must still wait and see.

Talks between the United States and Russia, not only on banning nuclear tests but on disarmament in general, have broken down. On Sept. 9 the two powers recessed their conversations on banning nuclear tests after 340 sessions in 34 months. It was about time, since the Soviets, after a layoff of almost three years, had already resumed testing.

K Brushes Off Talks

Premier Khrushchev brushed aside such talks anyway. He said there would be no more moratoriums on nuclear tests until there was agreement on general disarmament.

For the inhabitants of the sunny side of the street this was indeed gloomy news but not altogether black because ever since midsummer the United States and Russia had been holding separate talks on disarmament.

Rather, the two sides—in sessions in Washington, Moscow and New York—had not actually been discussing disarmament but only how to set up full-scale discussion on disarmament.

Then Wednesday this collapsed too. The United States and Russia reported to the United Nations the complete failure of their talks on how to start talking about disarmament in general.

Talks Prove Fruitless

Since the end of the war in 1945 the two countries have had perhaps thousands of conversations on disarmament, just the two of them alone or in various international groups in various places. The result is still nothing.

This naturally raises some questions which, while old, are still unanswered:

1. Does Russia really want disarmament or is it stalling until it acquires such a frightening arsenal of weapons that it can terrorize the world into submission?

2. Is it to the best interest of the United States ever to disarm so long as Russia and Red China, with their endless resources of manpower, persist in their campaign to own the earth?

3. Is it possible for a number of nations to have the most modern weapons—the United States, Russia, Britain and France have them and Red China will soon—without getting into war with them, by design or accident?

Only one thing is certain: Until there is a disarmament agreement, and no one is offering odds there will be, the United States and Russia will keep on trying to outdo each other in thinking up ever more nightmare weapons.

YMCA Directors Hear Fall, Winter Program Reports

Reports on the fall and winter program by the three secretaries were heard at the Tuesday night meeting of Kingston YMCA board of directors.

The Rev. Roy A. Hassel, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, offered devotions opening the meeting.

Leon I. Van Heusen, youth director, and G. Herbert DeKay, chairman of youth committee gave detailed reports of the new club and craft organization that will be promoted by the new director. Special stress was made concerning a boys membership campaign and other routine program ideas. The boys "kick-off" party will be held Saturday at 10 a. m. and all boys in the Kingston area are invited.

Steve Orozco, physical director, gave a report of the opening of the many activities in the gymnasium, swimming pool, weightlifting club, the young men's basketball and the health club program.

Louis H. Schafer, general secretary, enlarged on the activities of this past summer. The program for boys and girls, young men and the Day Camp boys and girls was the largest and the most outstanding in many years. The fall and winter indoor program will be greatly enlarged with the Industrial Management Club, the modern square dance group, the Parents Club and other interest groups.

George J. Silkworth, chairman of the Day Camp Commitee, also gave a detailed report of the 1961 camp. Many new activities were injected into the camp program. Steve Orozco was commended for his fine work at camp.

The committee on modern square dancing for adults gave a fine report. This new community activity will start Tuesday and continue for 12 weeks. George R. Clapper of Catskill will be the caller and instructor.

Besides Those Mentioned

Attending were President Chester A. Baltz Jr., Secretary H. Irvin Etchells, Bernard J. Mizel, Clifford G. Smith, John R. Shults Jr., Addison Jones and William S. Keyser.

Church Relief Service Aids in T exas Hurricane Disaster Area

NEW YORK — To meet emergency needs in hurricane stricken Texas, approximately 30,000 pounds of clothing, bedding and household supplies are being rushed to devastation areas from supplies at the Church World Service Clothing Center in St. Louis.

The relief supplies will be distributed through the Red Cross at Edna, in Jackson County, Texas and in the Houston area.

Request for the Church World Service aid — from used clothing supplies normally collected for overseas distribution — was made by Harold Kilpatrick, executive of the Texas Council of Churches, and by the Rev. Charles Kelly of the Houston Council of Churches.

SEVEN AMENDMENTS

Voters of New York State will be called upon at the general election November 7 to vote on seven amendments to the State Constitution. Numerically these are too many for intelligent appraisal by the electorate and especially so when the text is not readily understandable and the form of submission on the ballot is incomprehensible.

These are the chief reasons why year after year amendments and propositions are ignored with the result that less than half of the voters of the state make the decision. And many who cast their votes often do so on the basis of ignorance or guesswork.

In an effort to acquaint voters with the seven amendments to be voted on this election, the League of Women Voters of New York State has prepared objective data on the proposed changes and also the views of proponents and opponents. A perusal of this information, which will be distributed throughout Ulster County by members of the local League, will help voters in arriving at an informed decision.

The League of Women Voters is a nonpartisan organization devoted to promoting informed citizen participation in government. The league doesn't support or oppose candidates, but it does support or oppose legislation after serious study and substantial agreement among the membership.

This year the League does not support or oppose any of the amendments with the exception of No. 1 which it supports.

Amendment No. 1 would authorize modernization of the courts.

All citizens should be interested in the problem of modernizing New York Courts because they may find themselves at any time in need of speedy justice, prompt court action. If you should have the misfortune to be involved in an accident, to be the victim of personal or property damage, you may learn very quickly why it is important to have well organized court systems.

Proponents list the following in support of the amendment:

State courts are trying to deal with over 2,000,000 a year; the state has some 1,500 courts, sometimes with overlapping authority; there is no one to direct the work of the courts, no financial control, no uniform system of accounting, no standards for personnel, no uniform salary scales; a single family problem may come before as many as five different courts.

Opponents claim the reorganization will not cure delay, the major problem of our courts; strong central administration threatens judicial independence; the only major changes are in New York City and not upstate; disapprove leaving rule-making power in the legislature.

We believe this amendment should be endorsed because it will mean speedier justice at lower cost for everybody.

THE RECORD IS CLEAR

Anyone who remembers America's careful, persistent efforts this year to keep alive the test ban talks at Geneva must be impressed with the sincerity of our purpose.

The Kennedy administration note to Japan on nuclear testing very properly points out, however, that Russia must have been engaged in extensive secret preparations for new tests, all the while its delegates at Geneva professed desire to effect a permanent ban.

Russia's steady string of explosions, starting quick on the heels of its announcement on test resumption, is a dead giveaway. Such complex experiments could not be improvised on short notice.

Each blast underscores Soviet deceit, and the phoniness of its claim that resumption was necessary to offset our own test preparations, our "war threats," and France's quite modest Sahara tests.

The new series of U.S. nuclear tests explosions has not resulted in any fallout—except the political variety.

ON TOURISME

The French are apparently disturbed that Americans, this past Summer, did not visit Paris in droves and spend their money like drunken sailors. France, as many other countries, takes tourisme very seriously because it represents both a visible and invisible income and maintains the exchange rate between the two currencies. Every dollar left in France is beneficial to that country.

Undoubtedly, one reason why the tourist went elsewhere is that the American dollar bought less in many countries than heretofore. The American who can afford to travel may have as much cash as he had a year or five ago, but he resents the double price system which prevails in many countries — that is, one price for natives and another price for Americans. Even if France this year breaks even on tourisme, that is, gets about $300,000,000, the French are nevertheless concerned that large numbers of Americans are going to other countries and that the money they spend goes elsewhere. Tourisme is traditionally an important factor in France's economy.

There are all kinds of Americans who travel. There is the school-teacher with limited funds; there are those playthings whose names appear in Elsa Maxwell's column. Economically, the moderate spending tourist, like the school-teacher or the student or the business man's wife is worth more, in tourisme accounting, than the fancy rich who follow the seasons. Money is of the same value no matter where it comes from. The very rich rarely spend too much, and there are too few of them. It is the middle class person off on a spree who is the best spender.

It is like the expensive restaurants in New York that most people cannot afford to go to. Not one of them earns as much annually as a chain restaurant that caters to large numbers. The prestige restaurant has its value, but money-wise, any place that caters to the mass trade earns more and earns it more easily.

In the United States, the two price system does not exist. Wherever in Europe, it does exist, the American tourist feels that he is a sucker and that he does not like at all. Also, Americans are accustomed to paying tips, rather lavishly, but when the tip is put on the bill and they have to pay another one on top of that they feel that they are being robbed. Also, he wonders, and quite justly, whether the tip on the bill is paid to the waiter or maid who provides the service or whether part of it goes to the managers who are supposed to be above taking tips. Even in New York, when, at banquets, the guest reads a card to the effect that the host has paid the tips, waiters, on the side, complain that the bosses swipe part of the tips. Nobody likes that. The two price system has given France a very bad name.

Also, a large number of Americans go to Asiatic and African countries; and to places like Greece and Hongkong where they can see something old and different and where prices are reasonable; Japan has built up a considerable tourist trade. Hongkong specializes in quick production of men's and women's made-to-order clothes at very reasonable prices. In fact, there has been a startling increase in American tourisme to Hongkong.

When it was possible to bring into the United States considerable purchases from abroad, the trip could be calculated on that basis, but now that a $100 limit is being put on tourists' imports, still fewer will travel because the advantage of buying good clothes at comparatively cheap prices will be gone. A fancy dress is as expensive in Paris as in New York if the duty has to be paid.

Hotel men say that Americans are accustomed to first rate hotel service and that the European hotels are often not more than 19th century boarding houses, with toilet arrangements to which Americans are not accustomed any longer and with plumbing generally that does not suit the American taste. Also, since World War II, Americans have become increasingly critical of unsatisfactory conditions in European countries at what really amounts to high prices. The appearance of American managed new hotels in many parts of the world will make a difference. Americans are accustomed to body comforts and expect them.

Some have found more fun in an automobile, driving about the United States and seeing their own country in great comfort, particularly since the motel has come into existence.

Dud Soothers, Energizers Win Terrific Acceptance

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Suppose I reported to you that, after giving a new tranquilizer to a group of 60 hospitalized patients for six weeks, I received the following evaluations:

Ten patients said they felt less tense and more relaxed. Four experienced a feeling of unusual well-being. One each attested to improved sleep, better insight, increased resistance to fatigue and a lessening of a psoriasis rash.

Nurses in charge of these patients independently noted that 13 were more sociable. Seven showed improved spirits. Six were more relaxed. Three each appeared more co-operative or slept better.

The psychiatrists in charge, also independently, found nine more comfortable and less anxious, seven less moody, six more energetic and sociable, two sleeping better and one with an improvement of his rash.

Suppose I then reported to you that, after giving a new pepper-upper to another group of 60 patients, I received these evaluations:

Six patients said they felt more relaxed and less tense. Three experienced well-being and cheerfuness. Two were more energetic. One each attested to better appetite and improved digestion.

Thus in each instance, the patient received a ently noted that 14 were more sociable. Three seemed less depressed. Two were more energetic. Another pair was more alert. One man slept better and another had a better appetite.

Also the psychiatrists in charge, also independently, found six of their patients more cheerful and less depressed. Another group of six was more sociable and communicative. Three appeared more interested in their surroundings. Another trio was more active and showed more initiative. Two more less tense. Another pair was less worrisome. And one each slept better, ate better or gained weight.

The reason I thought these reports might interest you rests in the fact that they are the results of a study made at the Westchester Division of the New York Hospital after the first group was given an orange tablet that contained only milk sugar and enough quinine to give a bitter taste. And the second, a yellow tablet of milk sugar and a lime salt to give a bland taste!

Thus in each instance, the patient received a dud pill without his knowledge or the knowledge of the attending staff. With the exception of th those who conducted the experiment, no one knew that the new "tranquilizer" and the new "energizer" were blanks.

Here's how the true investigators summarized the experience: "The tendency to ascribe improvement to what were considered to be active drugs illustrated the dubious value of studies which do not employ controlled procedures — double-blind tests in which neither patients nor doctors know what is being given."

But what a gold mine for those who write and broadcast only those "facts" that yield testimonials for their product!

Dear Reader: Dr. Hyman appreciates your comments and questions but regrets that the heavy volume of his mail doesn't permit him to answer each individual letter or post card. However, he will comment in columns like the above upon matters of general or unusual interest.

BY PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON, (NEA)—Any doubts that U. S. commercial farming has become a big business should soon be removed by a huge expansion of Department of Agriculture's farm credit programs.

They are something none of the Communist countries and few of the underdeveloped countries have. But those countries may have to imitate the American private enterprise systems if they are to become self sufficient agriculturally.

"American farmers now have a businessman's approach to credit," says Gov. R. B. Tootel of the Farm Credit Adminitration. "If convinced it will pay them to borrow, they borrow."

LAST YEAR, 173,000 U. S. farmers were using Farmers Home Administration credit. They borrowed a record of 396 million, raising the total of government-supervised loans outstanding to nearly $1.5 billion. Meanwhile, 23,000 U. S. farmers have paid off their FHA loans in full.

Though the number of U. S. commercial farms has dropped 30 per cent in the last eight years, the amount of government supervised farm credit has jumped 120 per cent.

This is expected to increase further under the new credit programs authorized in the 1961 farm bill recently passed by Congress and signed by President Kennedy.

THE LEGISLATION recognizes that modern farming is a high-cost operation. It requires a larger land base, heavier farm machinery and more electrification for efficient and economical operation under today's squeezed-down profits on each unit of farm production.

Heretofore, the limit on the amount of money a farmer could borrow under Department of Agriculture-supervised credit programs has been based on the average farm value in each county. The national average is a little over $40,000.

Under the new regulations, effective Oct. 15, loans to buy and enlarge farms may now be made on any family form if its total indebtedness is not more than $60,000 when the deal is closed.

This will cover not only purchase of farm real estate but also a maximum of a $35,000 operating loan for farm machinery, livestock, seed, feed and fertilizer to get going. The former limit was $20,000.

THESE LOANS CAN BE made by FHA directly, where no other source of credit is available. They may also be made by local banks under FHA guarantee. The bank gets 4.5 per cent interest and FHA collects ½ per cent insurance. The former charge was 1 per cent and the bankers got 4.

What's more, loans may now be made for full 100 per cent of valuation instead of the former 90 per cent limit.

So it's a better deal for all parties concerned.

Farm purchase loans may be made for 40 years. But since 1937 it has been FHA experience that the average loan is paid off in about 17 years.

Operating loans may be made for seven years as in the past, but renewals may be made for five years, instead of three. Interest rates remain 5 per cent. Operating loans may also include educationaal loans to send a farm boy through agricultural college.

ANOTHER BIG EXPANSION is expected in loans to part-time farmers with outside jobs and income. They may borrow to buy and enlarge or improve small farms. Previously, loans were limited to full-time commercial farmers.

Small loans for farm improvement may now be made without a mortgage.

A team of Agriculture Department officials under John Baker, director of credit services, is touring the country this month for meetings with field officers to explain these new programs.

The new credit plans for rural housing and rural area economic development will also be explained to local officials who will make the loans.

Kennedy Urged to Give U N Facts on Soviet Misdeeds

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—What an opportunity President Kennedy now has to go before the United Nations and state the case against the Soviet Union! What a chance to enlighten peoples all over the world including those behind the Iron Curtain—so that hereafter it will be manifest hypocrisy for the UN to ignore the aggressive and sinister plotting in which the Moscow government is continuously engaged!

A simple recitation of the facts of what happened from June, 1950, on in Korea could dispose of the effort of the Soviets to gain admission for Communist China as a member of the UN. It could clarify the same issue in Laos, in other areas where the Soviet Union is undermining the people's freedom.

For the main issue has been obscured too long. The fundamentals are being ignored today by those nations which, strangely enough, seem willing to reward an aggressor state with a seat in the UN.

The story begins as an army of 60,000 North Koreans, with 100 Russian-built tanks, invaded South Korea on June 25, 1950. They violated the 38th Parallel, which had been established at the end of World War 2 as the dividing line between Communist-controlled North Korea and the newly-created Republic of South Korea.

Timely Action Credited

The Communist plot to seize all of Korea failed because of the courageous and timely action of President Truman and Secretary of State Dean Acheson in immediately ordering American forces in the Far East to help the South Koreans. This step was promptly ratified by the United Nations at a Security Council meeting. The force became the United Nations Army. Sixteen member nations sent military contingents to Korea to become an integral part of the UN force, along with the Americans and South Koreans. Six additional countries sent supporting medical and hospital units.

The part played thereafter by the Soviet Union in actually making war on the United Nations Army has never been discussed as fully as it should be. It is a matter of record, however, on Feb. 1, 1951—by formal resolution—declared Communist China an "aggressor." Shall that aggressor now be rewarded?

It was in February, 1953 that U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge said to the political and security committee of the United Nations General Assembly that Russia could stop the war any time if she wanted to do so, but that it was being carried on by arms and equipment supplied to the Communist forces in Korea by the Soviet Union. In his reply to that speech on March 2, 1953, Andri Vishinsky, Foreign Minister of the Soviet government, told the same committee of the U. N.:

"The Soviet Union has never concealed the fact that it sold and continues to sell armaments to its ally, China."

No U. N. Steps Taken

But was it more important to support an ally in its aggression or to honor the obligations of the United Nations charter to which the Soviet Union had given its solemn pledge of adherence?

The U. N. unfortunately, took no extra steps against the treasonable acts of the Soviet Union. No resolutions were adopted formally denouncing the Soviet disregard of the charter. How can any international organization profess to be the friend of small nations, or to be interested in preventing wars, when it closes its eyes to the perfidious behavior of one of its principal members?

President Kennedy need not remain silent on this question. Many people may perhaps have forgotten what happened in the Korean War. But the parents and relatives of the more than 54,000 Americans who died and of the 103,000 who were wounded in that conflict can never forget. The moral force that is to save mankind from future wars cannot be given impetus and world opinion marshaled if such facts are suppressed or ignored.

The President of the United States is the spokesman of freedom in the world. He need not be concerned with the petty policies of the "uncommitted" or "non-aligned" nations who are afraid to stand up for basic principles and who pursue instead policies of timidity, if not indifference toward the crimes of the Soviet Union.

Timely Opportunity

The debate on the issue of Red China's admission to the United Nations furnishes a timely opportunity to proclaim the whole philosophy of freedom against tyranny, free government against autocracy, and the cause of peace as against those who would precipitate war. For the Red China issue in the UN is a vivid reminder of what happens when nations not only ignore but, in effect, reward aggression. The fact that there may be a majority of the members of the UN who would close their eyes to China's misdeeds and admit the Peiping regime, on the pragmatic basis that it controls a large territory, is a sickening illustration of why the United Nations itself is rapidly losing whatever prestige it has had.

There is merit in maintaining a world organization, but not for the sake of a large number of members who believe in ignoring fundamental standards of morality and who think the end justifies the means.

The President of the United States has an almost made-to-order occasion to issue now before the United Nations General Assembly a clarion call for decency, morality and a sense of justice, so that, if war has to come, the issues will be clear. But it is more likely that world opinion can thereby become truly effective in preserving peace.

SEVEN AMENDMENTS

Voters of New York State will be called upon at the general election November 7 to vote on seven amendments to the State Constitution. Numerically these are too many for intelligent appraisal by the electorate and especially so when the text is not readily understandable and the form of submission on the ballot is incomprehensible.

These are the chief reasons why year after year amendments and propositions are ignored with the result that less than half of the voters of the state make the decision. And many who cast their votes often do so on the basis of ignorance or guesswork.

In an effort to acquaint voters with the seven amendments to be voted on this election, the League of Women Voters of New York State has prepared objective data on the proposed changes and also the views of proponents and opponents. A perusal of this information, which will be distributed throughout Ulster County by members of the local League, will help voters in arriving at an informed decision.

The League of Women Voters is a nonpartisan organization devoted to promoting informed citizen participation in government. The league doesn't support or oppose candidates, but it does support or oppose legislation after serious study and substantial agreement among the membership.

This year the League does not support or oppose any of the amendments with the exception of No. 1 which it supports.

Amendment No. 1 would authorize modernization of the courts.

All citizens should be interested in the problem of modernizing New York Courts because they may find themselves at any time in need of speedy justice, prompt court action. If you should have the misfortune to be involved in an accident, to be the victim of personal or property damage, you may learn very quickly why it is important to have well organized court systems.

Proponents list the following in support of the amendment:

State courts are trying to deal with over 2,000,000 a year; the state has some 1,500 courts, sometimes with overlapping authority; there is no one to direct the work of the courts, no financial control, no uniform system of accounting, no standards for personnel, no uniform salary scales; a single family problem may come before as many as five different courts.

Opponents claim the reorganization will not cure delay, the major problem of our courts; strong central administration threatens judicial independence; the only major changes are in New York City and not upstate; disapprove leaving rule-making power in the legislature.

We believe this amendment should be endorsed because it will mean speedier justice at lower cost for everybody.

THE RECORD IS CLEAR

Anyone who remembers America's careful, persistent efforts this year to keep alive the test ban talks at Geneva must be impressed with the sincerity of our purpose.

The Kennedy administration note to Japan on nuclear testing very properly points out, however, that Russia must have been engaged in extensive secret preparations for new tests, all the while its delegates at Geneva professed desire to effect a permanent ban.

Russia's steady string of explosions, starting quick on the heels of its announcement on test resumption, is a dead giveaway. Such complex experiments could not be improvised on short notice.

Each blast underscores Soviet deceit, and the phoniness of its claim that resumption was necessary to offset our own test preparations, our "war threats," and France's quite modest Sahara tests.

The new series of U.S. nuclear tests explosions has not resulted in any fallout—except the political variety.

ON TOURISME

The French are apparently disturbed that Americans, this past Summer, did not visit Paris in droves and spend their money like drunken sailors. France, as many other countries, takes tourisme very seriously because it represents both a visible and invisible income and maintains the exchange rate between the two currencies. Every dollar left in France is beneficial to that country.

Undoubtedly, one reason why the tourist went elsewhere is that the American dollar bought less in many countries than heretofore. The American who can afford to travel may have as much cash as he had a year or five ago, but he resents the double price system which prevails in many countries — that is, one price for natives and another price for Americans. Even if France this year breaks even on tourisme, that is, gets about $300,000,000, the French are nevertheless concerned that large numbers of Americans are going to other countries and that the money they spend goes elsewhere. Tourisme is traditionally an important factor in France's economy.

There are all kinds of Americans who travel. There is the school-teacher with limited funds; there are those playthings whose names appear in Elsa Maxwell's column. Economically, the moderate spending tourist, like the school-teacher or the student or the business man's wife is worth more, in tourisme accounting, than the fancy rich who follow the seasons. Money is of the same value no matter where it comes from. The very rich rarely spend too much, and there are too few of them. It is the middle class person off on a spree who is the best spender.

It is like the expensive restaurants in New York that most people cannot afford to go to. Not one of them earns as much annually as a chain restaurant that caters to large numbers. The prestige restaurant has its value, but money-wise, any place that caters to the mass trade earns more and earns it more easily.

In the United States, the two price system does not exist. Wherever in Europe, it does exist, the American tourist feels that he is a sucker and that he does not like at all. Also, Americans are accustomed to paying tips, rather lavishly, but when the tip is put on the bill and they have to pay another one on top of that they feel that they are being robbed. Also, he wonders, and quite justly, whether the tip on the bill is paid to the waiter or maid who provides the service or whether part of it goes to the managers who are supposed to be above taking tips. Even in New York, when, at banquets, the guest reads a card to the effect that the host has paid the tips, waiters, on the side, complain that the bosses swipe part of the tips. Nobody likes that. The two price system has given France a very bad name.

Also, a large number of Americans go to Asiatic and African countries; and to places like Greece and Hongkong where they can see something old and different and where prices are reasonable; Japan has built up a considerable tourist trade. Hongkong specializes in quick production of men's and women's made-to-order clothes at very reasonable prices. In fact, there has been a startling increase in American tourisme to Hongkong.

When it was possible to bring into the United States considerable purchases from abroad, the trip could be calculated on that basis, but now that a $100 limit is being put on tourists' imports, still fewer will travel because the advantage of buying good clothes at comparatively cheap prices will be gone. A fancy dress is as expensive in Paris as in New York if the duty has to be paid.

Hotel men say that Americans are accustomed to first rate hotel service and that the European hotels are often not more than 19th century boarding houses, with toilet arrangements to which Americans are not accustomed any longer and with plumbing generally that does not suit the American taste. Also, since World War II, Americans have become increasingly critical of unsatisfactory conditions in European countries at what really amounts to high prices. The appearance of American managed new hotels in many parts of the world will make a difference. Americans are accustomed to body comforts and expect them.

Some have found more fun in an automobile, driving about the United States and seeing their own country in great comfort, particularly since the motel has come into existence.

Dud Soothers, Energizers Win Terrific Acceptance

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Suppose I reported to you that, after giving a new tranquilizer to a group of 60 hospitalized patients for six weeks, I received the following evaluations:

Ten patients said they felt less tense and more relaxed. Four experienced a feeling of unusual well-being. One each attested to improved sleep, better insight, increased resistance to fatigue and a lessening of a psoriasis rash.

Nurses in charge of these patients independently noted that 13 were more sociable. Seven showed improved spirits. Six were more relaxed. Three each appeared more co-operative or slept better.

The psychiatrists in charge, also independently, found nine more comfortable and less anxious, seven less moody, six more energetic and sociable, two sleeping better and one with an improvement of his rash.

Suppose I then reported to you that, after giving a new pepper-upper to another group of 60 patients, I received these evaluations:

Six patients said they felt more relaxed and less tense. Three experienced well-being and cheerfuness. Two were more energetic. One each attested to better appetite and improved digestion.

Thus in each instance, the patient received a ently noted that 14 were more sociable. Three seemed less depressed. Two were more energetic. Another pair was more alert. One man slept better and another had a better appetite.

Also the psychiatrists in charge, also independently, found six of their patients more cheerful and less depressed. Another group of six was more sociable and communicative. Three appeared more interested in their surroundings. Another trio was more active and showed more initiative. Two more less tense. Another pair was less worrisome. And one each slept better, ate better or gained weight.

The reason I thought these reports might interest you rests in the fact that they are the results of a study made at the Westchester Division of the New York Hospital after the first group was given an orange tablet that contained only milk sugar and enough quinine to give a bitter taste. And the second, a yellow tablet of milk sugar and a lime salt to give a bland taste!

Thus in each instance, the patient received a dud pill without his knowledge or the knowledge of the attending staff. With the exception of th those who conducted the experiment, no one knew that the new "tranquilizer" and the new "energizer" were blanks.

Here's how the true investigators summarized the experienee: "The tendency to ascribe improvement to what were considered to be active drugs illustrated the dubious value of studies which do not employ controlled procedures — double-blind tests in which neither patients nor doctors know what is being given."

But what a gold mine for those who write and broadcast only those "facts" that yield testimonials for their product!

WASHINGTON, (NEA)—Any doubts that U. S. commercial farming has become a big business should soon be removed by a huge expansion of Department of Agriculture's farm credit programs.

They are something none of the Communist countries and few of the underdeveloped countries have. But those countries may have to imitate the American private enterprise systems if they are to become self sufficient agriculturally.

"American farmers now have a businessman's approach to credit," says Gov. R. B. Tootel of the Farm Credit Administration. "If convinced it will pay them to borrow, they borrow."

LAST YEAR, 173,000 U. S. farmers were using Farmers Home Administration credit. They borrowed a record of 396 million, raising the total of government-supervised loans outstanding to nearly $1.5 billion. Meanwhile, 23,000 U. S. farmers have paid off their FHA loans in full.

Though the number of U. S. commercial farms has dropped 30 per cent in the last eight years, the amount of government supervised farm credit has jumped 120 per cent.

This is expected to increase further under the new credit programs authorized in the 1961 farm bill recently passed by Congress and signed by President Kennedy.

THE LEGISLATION recognizes that modern farming is a high-cost operation. It requires a larger land base, heavier farm machinery and more electrification for efficient and economical operation under today's squeezed-down profits on each unit of farm production.

Heretofore, the limit on the amount of money a farmer could borrow under Department of Agriculture-supervised credit programs has been based on the average farm value in each county. The national average is a little over $40,000.

Under the new regulations, effective Oct. 15, loans to buy and enlarge farms may now be made on any family form if its total indebtedness is not more than $60,000 when the deal is closed.

This will cover not only purchase of farm real estate but also a maximum of a $35,000 operating loan for farm machinery, livestock, seed, feed and fertilizer to get going. The former limit was $20,000.

THESE LOANS CAN BE made by FHA directly, where no other source of credit is available. They may also be made by local banks under FHA guarantee. The bank gets 4.5 per cent interest and FHA collects ½ per cent insurance. The former charge was 1 per cent and the bankers got 4.

What's more, loans may now be made for full 100 per cent of valuation instead of the former 90 per cent limit.

So it's a better deal for all parties concerned.

Farm purchase loans may be made for 40 years. But since 1937 it has been FHA experience that the average loan is paid off in about 17 years.

Operating loans may be made for seven years as in the past, but renewals may be made for five years, instead of three. Interest rates remain 5 per cent. Operating loans may also include educationaal loans to send a farm boy through agricultural college.

ANOTHER BIG EXPANSION is expected in loans to part-time farmers with outside jobs and income. They may borrow to buy and enlarge or improve small farms. Previously, loans were limited to full-time commercial farmers.

Small loans for farm improvement may now be made without a mortgage.

A team of Agriculture Department officials under John Baker, director of credit services, is touring the country this month for meetings with field officers to explain these new programs.

The new credit plans for rural housing and rural area economic development will also be explained to local officials who will make the loans.

Kennedy Urged to Give U N Facts on Soviet Misdeeds

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—What an opportunity President Kennedy now has to go before the United Nations and state the case against the Soviet Union! What a chance to enlighten peoples all over the world including those behind the Iron Curtain—so that hereafter it will be manifest hypocrisy for the UN to ignore the aggressive and sinister plotting in which the Moscow government is continuously engaged!

A simple recitation of the facts of what happened from June, 1950, on in Korea could dispose of the effort of the Soviets to gain admission for Communist China as a member of the UN. It could clarify the same issue in Laos, in other areas where the Soviet Union is undermining the people's freedom.

For the main issue has been obscured too long. The fundamentals are being ignored today by those nations which, strangely enough, seem willing to reward an aggressor state with a seat in the UN.

The story begins as an army of 60,000 North Koreans, with 100 Russian-built tanks, invaded South Korea on June 25, 1950. They violated the 38th Parallel, which had been established at the end of World War 2 as the dividing line between Communist-controlled North Korea and the newly-created Republic of South Korea.

Timely Action Credited

The Communist plot to seize all of Korea failed because of the courageous and timely action of President Truman and Secretary of State Dean Acheson in immediately ordering American forces in the Far East to help the South Koreans. This step was promptly ratified by the United Nations at a Security Council meeting. The force became the United Nations Army. Sixteen member nations sent military contingents to Korea to become an integral part of the UN force, along with the Americans and South Koreans. Six additional countries sent supporting medical and hospital units.

The part played thereafter by the Soviet Union in actually making war on the United Nations Army has never been discussed as fully as it should be. It is a matter of record, however, on Feb. 1, 1951—by formal resolution—declared Communist China an "aggressor." Shall that aggressor now be rewarded?

It was in February, 1953 that U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge said to the political and security committee of the United Nations General Assembly that Russia could stop the war any time if she wanted to do so, but that it was being carried on by arms and equipment supplied to the Communist forces in Korea by the Soviet Union. In his reply to that speech on March 2, 1953, Andri Vishinsky, Foreign Minister of the Soviet government, told the same committee of the U. N.:

"The Soviet Union has never concealed the fact that it sold and continues to sell armaments to its ally, China."

No U. N. Steps Taken

But was it more important to support an ally in its aggression or to honor the obligations of the United Nations charter to which the Soviet Union had given its solemn pledge of adherence?

The U. N. unfortunately, took no extra steps against the treasonable acts of the Soviet Union. No resolutions were adopted formally denouncing the Soviet disregard of the charter. How can any international organization profess to be the friend of small nations, or to be interested in preventing wars, when it closes its eyes to the perfidious behavior of one of its principal members?

President Kennedy need not remain silent on this question. Many people may perhaps have forgotten what happened in the Korean War. But the parents and relatives of the more than 54,000 Americans who died and of the 103,000 who were wounded in that conflict can never forget. The moral force that is to save mankind from future wars cannot be given impetus and world opinion marshaled if such facts are suppressed or ignored.

He need not be concerned with the petty policies of the "uncommitted" or "non-aligned" nations who are afraid to stand up for basic principles and who pursue instead policies of timidity, if not indifference toward the crimes of the Soviet Union.

Timely Opportunity

The debate on the issue of Red China's admission to the United Nations furnishes a timely opportunity to proclaim the whole philosophy of freedom against tyranny, free government against autocracy, and the cause of peace as against those who would precipitate war. For the Red China issue in the UN is a vivid reminder of what happens when nations not only ignore but, in effect, reward aggression. SEEING A WOMAN GUEST HOME

Q: I am a bachelor and am often invited to the houses of my married friends either for dinner or to play cards. Very often there is another guest present, usually a woman. What I would like to know is, am I obliged to take the young woman home at the end of the evening? I don't see why I should be expected to go out of my way to see her home as she is not my guest and I think that she is the host's responsibility. How can I gracefully get out of doing this. Would It be all right if I just saw her to the bus or subway station?

A: If there is no one else to do so, you cannot gracefully get out of seeing her safely home, not just to the bus or subway station. Think of it as your way, as a bachelor, of making a return for the hospitality you receive.

Wives Names Were Omitted

Q: I have just recently returned to the office after a three week holiday in Florida. While I was away I sent picture post cards to my fellow employes. Many of the men with whom I work are married, but I did not include their wives' names on the cards and sent them to the men alone. I have heard that a few of the wives resented my addressing the cards to their husbands alone. Will you please tell me if I was wrong?

A: If you sent the cards to the office, and moreover the wives are strangers to you, you were right not to include their names. But if you addressed the cards to the men's houses, you should have sent them to Mr. and Mrs.

Asking Her Parents Consent

Q: I plan to give my fiancee an engagement ring soon. My mother thinks that I should go first and ask the girl's parents for their permission to marry their daughter. This may have been true in her day, but isn't it completely old-fashioned and uncalled for in the present day? She insists that it is still proper to follow this convention. I would like your opinion on this.

A: It is still proper in the present day, after a man proposes to a girl and she says "yes," for him to go to see her father or whoever is the head of her family and ask for his, or possibly her, consent.

Mayor Edwin F. Radel today announced the appointment of Edward F. Scully of 280 Flatbush Avenue as a member of the Examining Board of Plumbers of the City of Kingston to fill the unexpired term of John Coffey, who recently resigned.

Scully has been in the plumbing business since 1929 when he started with Brown and Dressel, local plumbing contractors. In 1936, he entered the plumbing business with his father and that association continued until seven years ago when his father died.

A member of Local 223, United Association of Journeymen and Apprentices of the Plumbing and Pipe Fitting Industry of the United States and Canada, Scully was born on Davis Street in the Wilbur Avenue section of the city and has resided in Kingston all his life.

He is also a member of the American Legion, Twaalfskill Hose Co., and Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association. Scully resides on Flatbush Avenue with his wife, the former Eunice Short.

Mayor Radel said the appointment of Scully takes effect immediately and will expire on Dec. 31, when Coffey's term would normally have ended.

SEEING A WOMAN GUEST HOME

Q: I am a bachelor and am often invited to the houses of my married friends either for dinner or to play cards. Very often there is another guest present, usually a woman. What I would like to know is, am I obliged to take the young woman home at the end of the evening? I don't see why I should be expected to go out of my way to see her home as she is not my guest and I think that she is the host's responsibility. How can I gracefully get out of doing this. Would It be all right if I just saw her to the bus or subway station?

A: If there is no one else to do so, you cannot gracefully get out of seeing her safely home, not just to the bus or subway station. Think of it as your way, as a bachelor, of making a return for the hospitality you receive.

Wives Names Were Omitted

Q: I have just recently returned to the office after a three week holiday in Florida. While I was away I sent picture post cards to my fellow employes. Many of the men with whom I work are married, but I did not include their wives' names on the cards and sent them to the men alone. I have heard that a few of the wives resented my addressing the cards to their husbands alone. Will you please tell me if I was wrong?

A: If you sent the cards to the office, and moreover the wives are strangers to you, you were right not to include their names. But if you addressed the cards to the men's houses, you should have sent them to Mr. and Mrs.

Asking Her Parents Consent

Q: I plan to give my fiancee an engagement ring soon. My mother thinks that I should go first and ask the girl's parents for their permission to marry their daughter. This may have been true in her day, but isn't it completely old-fashioned and uncalled for in the present day? She insists that it is still proper to follow this convention. I would like your opinion on this.

A: It is still proper in the present day, after a man proposes to a girl and she says "yes," for him to go to see her father or whoever is the head of her family and ask for his, or possibly her, consent.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Here is another interesting story or incident of the Civil War days, of how a quickly hand made American flag saved the home of Mrs. Althea B. Teitter. Mrs. Teitter was the popular postmistress at Glasco back in 1915, which was the 50th anniversary of the assassination of Lincoln. This flag was in her possession at the time and she told this story.

When Mrs. Teitter was a little girl living with her parents at Wheeling, West Va., President Lincoln was murdered. It aroused such a spirit of bitterness against the southern sympathizers, that a general order was given out by Union officers, that every dwelling must display the Union flag at half staff before night of that day, or the home would be raided. In consequence of that order, every solitary flag in town was bought up, and no more could be had for love or money. It so happened, Mrs. Teitter's home did not have a Union flag, and knowing, if they did not display the national colors that evening, their home would be raided, they were, of course frantic.

Mrs. Teitter's parents hunted through the house for material suitable to make up a flag. A red couch cover was torn into stripes and a white sheet used for the white stripes. A blue cambrick garment was cut up for the blue field. The stars were quickly cut out of the white material and pinned on the blue, and the flag was completed in time and their home was saved. Perhaps this flag is still in existetnce, as it was in 1915.

In the Kingston Freeman and Journal of Friday, April 16, 1915, there is a coverage of a Monday accident between a horse and an automobile. It seems, James Callahan of Modena was driving with his 10 year old daughter near Cedar Mill when the horse took fright at an automobile and ran away. Near the cemetery the horse and wagon collided with a tree and the occupants were thrown out, the item explained. Callahan was not hurt but his daughter suffered a broken leg. The girl was taken to a nearby house and given attention until a physician could be summoned. The horse was caught at Marlboro.

From time to time I am asked about jitney taxis which ran for a while in Kingston. The people, I understand found them very convenient and cheap. I see on April 14, 1915, in Albany, the Senate passed a bill which permitted the common council of a city to have jurisdiction over jitney buses.

According to another item, in Kingston, the jitney bus began to run from Rhinebeck to the head of Wall Street, Friday morning, April 9, 1915. The car made trips every 20 minutes from the ferry. A Packard touring car was used and it was said that many more fine cars would be put on the road if the business warrant it. It was conducted by Hiltebrant Taxicab Co.

From the April 9, 1915, Freeman and Journal I see Kelly and Dederick, contractors, were putting on a large concrete addition of two stories on William O'Reilly's news store at 530 Broadway. After the building of the Broadway Underpass, the O'Reilly store was moved across the street and is now at 611 Broadway.

Parolee Hurt Fleeing Police in Stolen Car

TICONDEROGA, N.Y. (AP) — A paroled Vermont convict was in Moses Ludington Hospital here today for treatment of injuries suffered in an automobile crash that ended a police chase.

James W. Peters, 30, of Rochester, Vt., was injured Wednesday when the stolen automobile in which he was fleeing state troopers went off an embankment and overturned, state police said.

Peters was paroled last month from Vermont State Prison at Windsor, where he had been serving a 4-to-7 year sentence for assaulting a policeman, burglary and grand larceny, troopers said.

They said he sped away when they approached his parked car for a routine check. Troopers said the car was stolen Sunday in Vergennes, Vt.

Peters will be turned over to Vermont authorities when he is able to leave the hospital, police said.

matter of FACT

Experimenters have duplicated the vibration that hits a rocket in space. They've built a device that creates sound waves so loud you can't hear them. The noise-maker can shake a building like an earthquake. If sound didn't lose its strength in the open air, the inventors would have the perfect death ray—a ray so loud that it's silent.

Lacks Power to Punish Primary Opponents

Legislative Leaders Say Wagner Can't Dump Them From Positions

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Democratic legislative leaders who unsuccessfully opposed Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City in a primary fight expect to retain their jobs.

Sen. Joseph Zaretzki told a reporter Wagner lacked power to replace him. Zaretzki said two county leaders Wagner upset in the bitter primary contest earlier this month retain control of sufficient Democratic senators and assemblymen to prevent Wagner forces from taking over party control in either house.

The county leaders are Joseph T. Sharkey of Brooklyn and U.S. Rep. Charles A. Buckley of the Bronx.

They control 12 of the 25 Democratic senators who elect a minority leader, Zaretzki said. His own vote would make a 13-man edge.

Only Three From Upstate

Zaretzki said he also would expect support from Manhattan and Queens Democrats. Only three of the Senate Democrats are from Upstate.

The Senate leader said Anthony J. Travia, his counterpart in the Assembly, also would command sufficient Brooklyn-Bronx support to weather any attempts to replace him.

Both Zaretski and Tavis supported State Comptroller Arthur Levitt against Wagner for the mayoral nomination.

But Zaretzki said he now supports the mayor for re-election and "we have been friends for a long time."

Even if efforts were made to oust Zaretzki, the senator, said, "Sharkey and Buckley control the delegation, not the mayor."

Remain in Control

Sharkey and Buckley remained in control of their respective county organizations despite the fact they opposed Wagner in the city-wide contest.

Tammany Leader Carmine DeSapio became ineligible to continue as Manhattan leader when he lost a bid for re-election to the New York County Democratic Committee.

His Rule Beats Him

DeSapio, ironically, had brought about the rule that no one but an elected district representative could be elected leader. This "reform" proved his undoing.

Neither the Brooklyn nor Bronx committee has this rule. Their respective leaders thus were not personally involved in the primary, as was DeSapio.

Wagner has said he would eject "the bosses" who oposed him.

The mayor, now involved in an election fight with Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz, the Republican candidate, has not announced whether he will seek new Democratic leadership in the Legislature.

The legislative leaders are the mayor's chief spokesmen in Albany.

Like Boomerang

If Zaretzki and Tavia have the assignment next year of fighting for the mayor's programs, members of the Republican majorities undoubtedly will be quick to remind them of the criticisms the Democrats heaped upon Wagner during the brawling prior to the primary.

Members of the Legislature were not up for re-election this year, and substantially the same lawmakers will be on hand for the 1962 session as heard the Democratic leaders lash Wagner often this year.

Kiwanis to Take 14,880 Red Roses To Area Friends

Saturday, Sept. 23 is the Kingston Kiwanis Rose Day, when 1,240 dozen of red roses will be delivered to people in the city and vicinity.

Under the direction of Harold Heider of the New York Telephone Company, members of the Kingston Kiwanis Club will assemble early Saturday morning to act as delivery messengers for the red roses.

Rose Day was planned locally for the purpose of augumenting the funds utilized by the Kiwanis Club for its boys and girls service work. Under the co-chairmanship of John Haulenbeek and G. Herbert DeKay, members of the local service club were divided into teams for the purpose of promoting the sale of red roses to friends in the vicinity. A portion of the returns from the sales went directly into the Kiwanis fund.

Heider announced today that his plans for delivery service are completed, and he issued the reminder to local citizens that many of them will receive a dozen roses Saturday, Sept. 23, when the Kingston Kiwanis Club will celebrate Rose Day.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Here is another interesting story or incident of the Civil War days, of how a quickly hand made American flag saved the home of Mrs. Althea B. Teitter. Mrs. Teitter was the popular postmistress at Glasco back in 1915, which was the 50th anniversary of the assassination of Lincoln. This flag was in her possession at the time and she told this story.

When Mrs. Teitter was a little girl living with her parents at Wheeling, West Va., President Lincoln was murdered. It aroused such a spirit of bitterness against the southern sympathizers, that a general order was given out by Union officers, that every dwelling must display the Union flag at half staff before night of that day, or the home would be raided. In consequence of that order, every solitary flag in town was bought up, and no more could be had for love or money. It so happened, Mrs. Teitter's home did not have a Union flag, and knowing, if they did not display the national colors that evening, their home would be raided, they were, of course frantic.

Mrs. Teitter's parents hunted through the house for material suitable to make up a flag. A red couch cover was torn into stripes and a white sheet used for the white stripes. A blue cambrick garment was cut up for the blue field. The stars were quickly cut out of the white material and pinned on the blue, and the flag was completed in time and their home was saved. Perhaps this flag is still in existetnce, as it was in 1915.

In the Kingston Freeman and Journal of Friday, April 16, 1915, there is a coverage of a Monday accident between a horse and an automobile. It seems, James Callahan of Modena was driving with his 10 year old daughter near Cedar Mill when the horse took fright at an automobile and ran away. Near the cemetery the horse and wagon collided with a tree and the occupants were thrown out, the item explained. Callahan was not hurt but his daughter suffered a broken leg. The girl was taken to a nearby house and given attention until a physician could be summoned. The horse was caught at Marlboro.

From time to time I am asked about jitney taxis which ran for a while in Kingston. The people, I understand found them very convenient and cheap. I see on April 14, 1915, in Albany, the Senate passed a bill which permitted the common council of a city to have jurisdiction over jitney buses.

According to another item, in Kingston, the jitney bus began to run from Rhinebeck to the head of Wall Street, Friday morning, April 9, 1915. The car made trips every 20 minutes from the ferry. A Packard touring car was used and it was said that many more fine cars would be put on the road if the business warrant it. It was conducted by Hiltebrant Taxicab Co.

From the April 9, 1915, Freeman and Journal I see Kelly and Dederick, contractors, were putting on a large concrete addition of two stories on William O'Reilly's news store at 530 Broadway. After the building of the Broadway Underpass, the O'Reilly store was moved across the street and is now at 611 Broadway.

Legislative Leaders Say Wagner Can't Dump Them From Positions

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Democratic legislative leaders who unsuccessfully opposed Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City in a primary fight expect to retain their jobs.

Sen. Joseph Zaretzki told a reporter Wagner lacked power to replace him. Zaretzki said two county leaders Wagner upset in the bitter primary contest earlier this month retain control of sufficient Democratic senators and assemblymen to prevent Wagner forces from taking over party control in either house.

The county leaders are Joseph T. Sharkey of Brooklyn and U.S. Rep. Charles A. Buckley of the Bronx.

They control 12 of the 25 Democratic senators who elect a minority leader, Zaretzki said. His own vote would make a 13-man edge.

Only Three From Upstate

Zaretzki said he also would expect support from Manhattan and Queens Democrats. Only three of the Senate Democrats are from Upstate.

The Senate leader said Anthony J. Travia, his counterpart in the Assembly, also would command sufficient Brooklyn-Bronx support to weather any attempts to replace him.

Both Zaretski and Tavis supported State Comptroller Arthur Levitt against Wagner for the mayoral nomination.

But Zaretzki said he now supports the mayor for re-election and "we have been friends for a long time."

Even if efforts were made to oust Zaretzki, the senator, said, "Sharkey and Buckley control the delegation, not the mayor."

Remain in Control

Sharkey and Buckley remained in control of their respective county organizations despite the fact they opposed Wagner in the city-wide contest.

Tammany Leader Carmine DeSapio became ineligible to continue as Manhattan leader when he lost a bid for re-election to the New York County Democratic Committee.

His Rule Beats Him

DeSapio, ironically, had brought about the rule that no one but an elected district representative could be elected leader. This "reform" proved his undoing.

Neither the Brooklyn nor Bronx committee has this rule. Their respective leaders thus were not personally involved in the primary, as was DeSapio.

Wagner has said he would eject "the bosses" who oposed him.

The mayor, now involved in an election fight with Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz, the Republican candidate, has not announced whether he will seek new Democratic leadership in the Legislature.

The legislative leaders are the mayor's chief spokesmen in Albany.

Like Boomerang

If Zaretzki and Tavia have the assignment next year of fighting for the mayor's programs, members of the Republican majorities undoubtedly will be quick to remind them of the criticisms the Democrats heaped upon Wagner during the brawling prior to the primary.

Members of the Legislature were not up for re-election this year, and substantially the same lawmakers will be on hand for the 1962 session as heard the Democratic leaders lash Wagner often this year.

Parolee Hurt Fleeing Police in Stolen Car

TICONDEROGA, N.Y. (AP) — A paroled Vermont convict was in Moses Ludington Hospital here today for treatment of injuries suffered in an automobile crash that ended a police chase.

James W. Peters, 30, of Rochester, Vt., was injured Wednesday when the stolen automobile in which he was fleeing state troopers went off an embankment and overturned, state police said.

Peters was paroled last month from Vermont State Prison at Windsor, where he had been serving a 4-to-7 year sentence for assaulting a policeman, burglary and grand larceny, troopers said.

They said he sped away when they approached his parked car for a routine check. Troopers said the car was stolen Sunday in Vergennes, Vt.

Peters will be turned over to Vermont authorities when he is able to leave the hospital, police said.

matter of FACT

Experimenters have duplicated the vibration that hits a rocket in space. They've built a device that creates sound waves so loud you can't hear them. The noise-maker can shake a building like an earthquake. If sound didn't lose its strength in the open air, the inventors would have the perfect death ray—a ray so loud that it's silent.

Kiwanis to Take 14,880 Red Roses To Area Friends

Saturday, Sept. 23 is the Kingston Kiwanis Rose Day, when 1,240 dozen of red roses will be delivered to people in the city and vicinity.

Under the direction of Harold Heider of the New York Telephone Company, members of the Kingston Kiwanis Club will assemble early Saturday morning to act as delivery messengers for the red roses.

Rose Day was planned locally for the purpose of augumenting the funds utilized by the Kiwanis Club for its boys and girls service work. Under the co-chairmanship of John Haulenbeek and G. Herbert DeKay, members of the local service club were divided into teams for the purpose of promoting the sale of red roses to friends in the vicinity. A portion of the returns from the sales went directly into the Kiwanis fund.

Heider announced today that his plans for delivery service are completed, and he issued the reminder to local citizens that many of them will receive a dozen roses Saturday, Sept. 23, when the Kingston Kiwanis Club will celebrate Rose Day.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ham heads the hit parade in many supermarket and neighborhood grocery listing of specials this week.

Stores in New England, the Middle Atlantic States, Midwest and Far West will feature smoked ham, while others in the New York area are offering fresh (uncured) ham and canned ham. Loin of pork also is a favored item in some Eastern and Midwestern markets.

Prices of Chops Dip

Pork prices have held up fairly well in recent months as hog farmers have maintained a cautious course on production. Last spring's pig crop, which produced the hams and pork chops now coming to market, was up 7 per cent over that of 1960 but the second smallest in eight years. Indications now are that the fall crop—representing next spring and summer's pork supply—will be up only 2 per cent over last fall.

Pork chops were down 4 to 20 cents a pound over a fairly wide area this week, although higher in some places.

Broiling and frying chickens also are featured in many markets, reflecting record ouput and wholesale prices at their lowest levels in many years.

Beef is rpresented in some sections with specials on such bargain favorites as chuck roast and hamburger, while stewing chickens are offered at bargain rates in some Midwestern stores.

Fish specials included smelts, haddock, perch fillets from the great lakes, little neck clams and flounder. Leg of lamb is an occasional special in New England and the Midwest.

Best Produce Buys

Produce markets offer a fair-sized list of outstanding and good buys both in vegetables and fruits.

Heading the list among vegetables are beans, cabbage, carrots, Chinese cabbage, corn, endive, escarole, green squash, watercress and rutabagas. Onions and potatoes also are an outstanding buy where you can get them from nearby fields, but no better than a good buy elsewhere.

Other good buys are artichokes, beets, broccoli, cauliflower, celery, eggplant, lettuce, mushrooms, peppers, radishes, spinach, sweet potatoes, tomatoes, cucumbers, yellow squash, turnips and parsnips. Parsley is fairly expensive.

Fruit counters offer the best bargains among honeydew melons, limes, lemons, western bartlett pears, prunes and grapes.

Apples, avocados, peaches, California oranges and bananas are rated as good buys, but you'll have to pay more for cantaloupe, cranshaw melons, nectarines, strawberries and raspberries.

went down played dummy's nine and let it hold the trick. Then for some reason best known to himself he attempted to cash the ace and king of diamonds. West ruffed the second diamond and the hand was set.

The other South was a simple soul. He decided that it would be much easier to play for a 3-2 trump break. Hence, he went up with the king of trumps from dummy. Then he led the nine to his jack and ruffed a club with the ace of trumps.

After that it was no trouble to get back to his hand by ruffing the five of spades. The queen of trumps lead pulled East's last tooth and South proceeded to spread his hand since he was able to discard his last two small clubs on dummy's high spades.

Cold War at Eerie Heights of Fantasy

Even Statesmen Are Stumped By War Threats and Crises

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —If statesmen are stumped by threats of war and cascades of crises crashing down on this temple to peace, the world's ordinary citizens by now must be wholly bewildered.

The cold war has reached eerie heights of fantasy. Things happening daily seem to defy all logic. As Alice remarked in a happier Wonderland, things are getting curiouser and curiouser.

Just as an example, within a few hours there were these developments:

Item: Premier Khrushchev cited the words of Pope John XXIII as support for arguments put forward by atheistic communism.

Item: The U.S.S.R., Washington announced, set off its 14th nuclear blast in the atmosphere since Sept. 1. The Kremlin bitterly criticized the United States as a menace to peace for testing nuclear devices underground.

Item: The United States and the Soviet Union agreed in principle it would be a good idea to eliminate all nuclear weapons—all armies, for that matter. But they couldn't agree on how to get started talking about it.

Item: The U.N. was unable to find a way to name a new chief executive officer to replace Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, killed in Africa trying to restore peace in a new nation torn by pressures of a world political war.

Premier Khrushchev talks almost incessantly about peace. And he boasts that Soviet armed forces will have a bomb with the force of 100 million tons of TNT, enough to blow a country off the map if it offends him.

And in Communist North Viet Nam, a radio commentary happily labels that pretty weapon "the peace bomb."

War, claims the Kremlin, no longer is inevitable.

And, invariably in the same breath it claims war is just around the corner because the imperialists, principally the United States, "have insane plans for war against the Soviet Union."

Will Take Three Months

NDOLA, Northern Rhodesia (AP)— Harry Julien, the injured lone survivor of the Hammarskjold plane crash, will be in the hospital here for three months, a senior hospital spokesman said Wednesday.

The American U.N. security guard had severe burns and multiple injuries.

On Espionage Laws

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation to extend espionage laws to activities of American citizens abroad was passed by voice vote in the Senate Wednesday and sent to the White House.

UNDER THE GUN—This is what Soviet Russia's 7,500-mile-long shots on the central Pacific range mean to the rest of the world. A line drawn from the impact area around the globe would encircle every major country. Shaded area on Newsmap includes all points which could be reached from only the one launching point, near the Caspian Sea, from which the test missiles were fired. (Distortion is result of map projection.)

Wall in Berlin Is Real Pattern Of Communism

BERLIN (AP)—No matter how many times you see it, Berlin's wall is unbelievable.

This ugly line of concrete and barbed wire, cutting a jagged line through the heart of a great city, is something the mind can scarcely accommodate.

The East German Communists, backed by Moscow, hardly could have demonstrated anything so faithfully true to the pattern of communism as pictured by the West.

The absolute priority of political convictions over human relationships was never more clearly shown. The wall is lined with thousands of heartaches.

Old friends can no longer talk to each other, but must wave handkerchiefs across the wall if they can reach it. Lovers look at each other through binoculars. A father shouts up to his little son in a third story window behind the wall.

Old mothers wait in vain for visits from their sons and daughters. Newly married couples turn up in their finery at the wall so parents can take a look. An old man sits in a second floor window on Waldemarstrasse, waving tirelessly at old friends. He is too old to contemplate escape.

The wall, with all its tragedies, attracts Berliners by the thousands. They turn up nightly to wave, to heckle the East German police across the wall, to shout insults.

They hope they will get to see someone escape, but escapes are becoming more difficult.

School Crossing Guards Receive Salary Increase

At Monday night's meeting of the Saugerties Village Board of Trustees, George Terpening, police commissioner, recommended to the board that Mrs. Helen Gardner and Mrs. Margaret Rightmyer, school crossing guards be given an increase in pay to compensate for the added hours worked this year due to split sessions in the elementary schools.

After a lengthy discussion of the increase in hours and the rate paid per hour, the board decided to grant an increase and pay them a flat rate of $45 a week for Mrs. Gardner and $30 a week to Mrs. Rightmyer.

The terms were accepted on Wednesday by both guards. Mrs. Gardner is stationed at the Main Street School and Mrs. Rightmyer at St. Mary's of the Snow.

Boys Brigade Has Weekend Campout

The Stockade Group of Christian Service Brigade 425 held a weekend outing Sept. 15 and 16 at Devil's Tombstone State Campsite. The local stockade for boys 8 to 11 years is one of about 1500 such groups across the country, and meets each Tuesday evening at the First Baptist Church of Saugerties.

Thirty-one boys and six leaders, under the direction of Gerald Finger, left Saugerties at 6 p. m. Friday for Devil's Tombstone. After supper, a rousing song-fest around a blazing campfire was concluded with a brief message by the Rev. Brooks Henry of Saugerties, who is a member of the local advisory committee.

Committeeman Michael Battaglia and Rangers Jack Reynolds, Bill Overbaugh and Charles Bading were in charge of breakfast and lunch arrangements Saturday. The boys climbed Hunter Mountain by way of the Becker Trail, returning home at 4 p. m.

Stockaders in attendance were David Overbaugh, Jeffrey Cox, James Cody, Paul Overbaugh, John Cody, Mark Battaglia, David Bading, Andrew Nordquist, Steven Vaughn, Timothy Vaughn, Charles Lillis, Gregory Proper, Alan Proper, Carl Nickerson.

Anthony Konopka, Walter Konopka, Frank Abate, William Kelly, Steven Cart, John Wells, Jesse Ector, George Mickle, Steven Schoonmaker, John Sulky, Russell Converse, Robert Schoonmaker, Charles Tyler, Bert Schoonmaker, Barry Arp, and Larry Langevin.

Regula meetings begin Sept. 26 at 7 p. m. for both the Stockade ages 8 to 11, and the advanced Battalion ages 12 to 8. Interested boys in these age groups may attend the opening meetings or contact any of the leaders for details.

Pageant Winners To Take Part in Fashion Parade

Pennie Pettinger, Miss Saugerties 1962, and Marguerite Clowry, Miss Woodstock 1961, will participate in the annual Jayncee fashion show which will be held Oct. 3 at the Saugerties High School.

Miss Pettinger will wear the white Grecian gown which she designed and wore in the evening gown competition at the recent Miss Saugerties Pageant, and also the street length white cotton sheath which she made herself and wore while participating in the talent competition.

Miss Clowry will entertain with the skit which won her the talent award when she appeared last July in the Miss New York State pageant in Kingston.

The fashion show will feature the homemade clothes entered in the annual sewing contest. Judging will take place this Saturday at the Reformed Church at 1 p. m. All entries will be judged on this day, but awards will be presented by Miss Pettinger at the fashion show. Winners will not be announced until that time.

Refreshments will be served during the fashion show.

Knitted Fashions To Be Featured at Show on Sept. 24

Fashions in knitwear will be the feature of the fashion show of the Saugerties Council of Columbiettes Sunday 7 p. m. at St. John's Hall, Veteran.

Models for the show were announced Wednesday. They are Patricia and Betty Ann Dean, Diane Dobbin, Karen, Gerry and Mark McKeon, Philip Cosme, Darlene Naccarato. Also the Mmes. Charles Cosme, George Barber, Philip Barber, John Amrod and Miss Lucille Nau.

Miss Pennie Pettinger, Miss Saugerties 1962, will be present to model the gown which she designed and wore in the recent Miss Saugerties Pageant, and present the Ballad of the Harp Weaver which won her the talent award as a preliminary winner.

Scouts to Have Auction

The Saugerties Chapter of the Order of the Arrow, Boy Scouts of America, will hold an auction of all new merchandise. Sunday 3 p. m. in the yard of Robert Gardner, 16 Mt. View Avenue, Simmons Park. Proceeds will go for much needed equipment for the chapter.

A variety of articles will be auctioned off by Orman Leighton, acting as auctioneer.

Guidance Meeting

A meeting for parents of seniors to assist them in helping their children plan for advanced education will be held at 7:30 p. m., Sept. 28 in the auditorium of Saugerties High School by Miss A. Frances Larned, director of guidance.

Miss Larned will discuss problems to be considered in planning for advanced education, parents' responsibilities in connection with applications, admissions procedures used by different types of schools, loan funds and other financial resources available for advanced education, and related information.

A question period will follow at the conclusion of the formal program.

Chances Are Slim On Deferment for Guard, Reserves

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—If you've been called to active duty as a reservist or National Guardsman your chance of getting a deferment now isn't very good.

This is what the Pentagon is telling a growing number of anxious men calling for information on deferments.

Except for extreme hardship cases—and these must be documented—it appears few men are likely to stay behind when their units muster starting in a few days.

Grounds Established

The grounds for deferment have been laid down by the Defense Department and are generally common to reserve components of the Army, Navy and Air Force.

Officers noted that even when no callup is imminent, reserve and guard elements are supposed to screen personnel as to whether they should be moved back to the standby reserve, which is not subject to call except in a dire national emergency.

Thus, the officers said, a reservist who holds a critical job or a student who plans to attend college should by this time have taken steps to get out of the ready reserve.

Some reservists in this group, the officers said, have been staying in their units and drawing drill pay while taking their chances on not being called up.

80 Occupations Listed

The Labor Department lists more than 80 critical occupations —from agronomists to veterinarians—rated as eligible for deferment consideration.

Also among those eligible are college students studying in fields that will qualify them for critical occupations.

Another category takes in men whose callup would result in "extreme personal or community hardship." Enlisted men having four or more dependents normally would be considered as meeting the hardship qualification, the regulations say.

OLD TIMERS' CIVIL WAR NOTES

Sergt. Charles J. Ackert wrote an interesting letter, Dec. 10, 1863, from Louisiana in which the Ulster County man has much to say about the activities of our 156th Infantry Regiment: Dr. George C. Smith has charge of our medical department and "Van" Deusen has dispensing of the DPH's and 7x9's. Van is an institution by himself. Capt. Peter A. Lefever recently, at Baton Rouge, presented to Sergt. John B. Quick of Co. A a splendid gold pen and case. Quick at this time is acting sergeant major of the regiment and Jonathan Snyder is the acting adjutant. William Eckert, Esopus, of Co. E was killed at Baton Rouge Dec. 5.

Alvah Van Vie, a member of our Company A when it was first organized, died at Port Hudson September 15 while serving with Battery G of the 5th U. S. Artillery. Capt. Peter Lefever has been permanently assigned to the command of Company H. Practically every man in Co. A, his old command, had signed a petition stating they preferred him to any other as their captain. Cornelius V. Day, Co. D, died December 11 at Baton Rouge Hospital. Two members of Company A — Josiah R. Wood and Jonathan Fuller—are still in the hospital.

A dispatch received in Kingston Nov. 18, 1863 states that our recent losses in General Sedgwick's forward movement at Rappahannock was very heavy, although the Yanks succeeded in driving the Johnnies across the river. Between 600 and 700 were killed or wounded. The wounds are said to be of the worst description, having been inflictd principally with shell fragments. The Yanks were exposed to terrific fire from batteries on both sides of the river. Our take of prisoners in this gallant action totalled 1,846, including a brigadier general, four colonels, four lieut.-colonels and 121 other commissioned officers. Regiments from Maine and Wisconsin took prisoners almost the entire 2nd North Carolina Infantry.

Saturday evening, Nov. 3, 1863, soldiers stationed at the Kingston Arsenal took a six-pounder down to the Jacob's Valley Green and fired a two-round national salute in glorification of the recent Union election victory in N. Y. State. An expert in artillery practice accompanied the boys and directed the shooting. Nov. 15, '63, Capt. Theodore F. Overbaugh, late of the 120th Regiment, died in Catskill. A brave and noble officer and patriot is gone. Provost Marshal General Fry says President Lincoln has ordered that every citizen, who has paid $300 Draft commutation, shall receive the same credit as if he had furnished a substitute and is exempt from military service for the term he was drafted, to wit; three years.

November, 1863: A factory in Maine concentrates 1,000 bushels of potatoes for the Union Army every day. All water is absorbed, leaving five pounds of nutriments from a 60-lb. bushel. The concentrate is then ground up, giving it the appearance of corn meal. . . . Nov. 5, '63—Lieut. J. T. Ketcham of Milton, who was wounded and taken prisoner, reportedly has since died. A brother recently was killed in battle. Brave boys, let their names be cherished in the hearts of all. Richmond papers of August 31 says activities have been stepped up in the Carolinas. Some 1,215 shells and solid shot were hurled against Fort Sumter in two days. Down at Lookout Mountain, Tennessee, October 28, Hooker captured four officers, 103 men and 1,000 Enfield rifles.

A letter from Port Hudson under date Nov. 30, 1863, from 'C.A.W.' — (definitely not Old Timer) to local friends, says in part: I am assigned to the 12th Regiment, U. S. Infantry, Department of Gulf. I left Kingston October 12 and on the 15th embarked on the Steamer Locust Point for New Orleans. In the Gulf of Mexico we went through a very hard storm: there was much sea-sickness and I was among the first to 'turn myself.' We finally landed in New Orleans on the 28th and were three days making the 130 miles up the river to Port Hudson in government transports. We tied up en route at Baton Rouge and, learning our 156th was there, I went ashore and soon met Samuel Schoonmaker, an old friend, who took me to camp where I saw Colonel Sharpe and several of my acquaintances. Brig.-Gen. Andrews, post commander, assigned us to the regiment and we are building a fort to prevent the enemy from taking over this place again.

One of our soldiers down at Chicamauga declared that the Johnnies fought with a gallantry akin to desperation, and we are proud to say when asked to whom we were opposed,—"Longstreet's men!" The enemy fashion of going into battle was peculiar. Had you seen them pouring out of the woods in long, gray lines, you could have likened them to streams of turbid water gushing through a seive . . . Aug. 28, 1863,—Through the patriotic exertions of ladies of the Loyal Legion of Milton, Capt. W. H. Mann, the hero of Aldie and rescuer of General Kilpatrick, has been presented with a splendid war horse costing $400.

Sept. 8, 1863,—Colonel George H. Sharpe of our grand old 120th Infantry is now in Kingston on a visit to home and friends. He looks well.—C. A. W.

ERICK, Okla. (AP)—Mrs. Lou Bennett, who started photography as a hobby, may be the state's oldest in the business at the age of 90.

This is architect's drawing of the new Wallace Co. department store planned for the Ulster Shopping Center on the former Kraus farm, Albany Avenue Extension. The 50,000 square foot store, costing more than a million dollars, is expected to open in late August or early September 1962.

Wallace Picks

rugs, draperies, lamps, gifts, china, glassware and housewares will be stocked.

Firm Has Five Stores

The Wallace Co., which was founded in 1905, has five department stores. They are located in Northampton, Mass., Holyoke, Mass., North Adams, Mass., Schenectady, and Poughkeepsie.

Joseph Kenney, general manager of the Poughkeepsie store, attributed the decision to locate in Kingston as "an affirmation of the faith the Wallace Co. has in the future of the Hudson River Valley area. Our store in Poughkeepsie has an acceptance for Wallace's merchandise and policies that increases each year. It is our aim to achieve the same stature in Kingston."

Serving in Greece

A/2C ANDREW M. COHN

A/2C Andrew M. Cohn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold S. Cohn, 63 Fairview Avenue, is presently stationed at Tanagra, Greece, where he is performing duties as an administrative specialist.

Airman Cohn enlisted in the U. S. Air Force on July 16, 1959, took basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, then went to Air Force Technical School for training as an administrative specialist.

Upon completion of that training he was stationed at Stead Air Force Base, Nevada, for approximately a year. Last May he received a transfer to his present station, according to Sgt. R. C. Lambert, Air Force recruiter, 597 Broadway.

THE FREE-FORM HOME—Windows, doors, walks and chimneys all flow together in this house design by St. Louis architect John C. McEwen. It is a revolutionary thought, almost bringing abstract art into architecture. But he bases it on Frank Lloyd Wright's established idea that a house should fit the landscape. Though in appearance "primitive" to the point that it is reminiscent of the cave living of early man, it is entirely practical. Metal lath and cement plaster are the basic materials for the "continuous" construction.

WASH AND BEWARE—An East German policeman, gun slung over shoulder, stands guard behind wire fence in Berlin. The laundry belongs to an East German housewife.

NEW TRACK ANGLE—A rider stands on high side of car speeding on two wheels at track near Copenhagen, Denmark. At wheel was French stunt driver Jean Sunny.

ReformedChurchNotes

HIGH FALLS — Services for Sunday in the newly organized Reformed Church will be 9 a. m. Sunday school worship service and class instruction for all ages; 10 a. m. worship service with Donald Maxam, a senior student at the New Brunswick Seminary, bringing the message. A nursery is maintained in the basement during the service for small children.

A training class for Sunday school teachers was organized last Monday at the regular monthly Sunday school staff meeting. The class will meet the first and third Monday evenings of the month under the direction of Mrs. Dewitt Hasbrouck.

Area Activities

Mr. and Mrs. Calvert Harvey and son have moved into the Feinberg apartment.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hornbeck and children spent Sunday in Grahamsville with his mother, Mrs. Ethel Hornbeck.

Mrs. Oliver Bogart and daughter Miss Charlotte Bogart and mother, Mrs. Anna Schoonmaker called on Mrs. Roy Ransom Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Elsa D. Hart and Miss Anna Draudt have returned from a visit with their brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Draudt of Marion, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Smith are home from a trip to Fenton, Mich., to visit their daughter and family, the Dr. Koops.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hertzog spent the weekend at their home in Bethlehem, Pa.

Adult Education

Registration for the fall semester of Rondout Valley adult education program will be held Tuesday 7 p. m. in the high school cafeteria, Kyserike. A few of the courses offered are English for the foreign born, high school equivalency, painting and drawing, typing for beginners, law everyone should know, clothing construction, driver's education, and standard first aid courses, said Director Charles Ayasse. More information can be obtained by calling Marbletown School. A minimum of 14 is necessary for each class.

Hardy Oldster

CARTHAGE, Mo. (AP)—Mrs. Etta R. Hackworth picked herself up and called an ambulance.

She said she had been on the roof of her house trimming a tree and fell to the ground.

Hospital officials kept her for observation but said they could not find any injury.

Fast Work

BALTIMORE (AP) — Talk about fast work by firemen: 15 seconds to get to the fire, 1½ minutes to put it out.

The fire broke out in the deep frying unit of a restaurant just across the street from the firehouse.

Last Chance

ASHTON, Idaho (AP)—Here's a bandit believes in signs. He held up the Last Chance Inn and fled with $148.

Littlest Queen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—As beauty queens go, Cindy Traver is unusual. She stands 3-feet-4, weighs 40 pounds and measures a voluptuous 23-23-23. Cindy, 4 years old, took top honors in a Dayton school play ground beauty contest. The prize—one lollipop.

Kansas is known as the "wheat state."

Matching Colors

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A customer of printer Tom Kingston ordered a job in a shade of blue to match the envelopes the city distributes with parking tickets. Kingston tried but he couldn't manage to get a ticket. An obliging meter maid finally gave him an envelope only.

Littlest Queen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—As beauty queens go, Cindy Traver is unusual. She stands 3-feet-4, weighs 40 pounds and measures a voluptuous 23-23-23. Cindy, 4 years old, took top honors in a Dayton school play ground beauty contest. The prize—one lollipop.

Kansas is known as the "wheat state."

Matching Colors

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A customer of printer Tom Kingston ordered a job in a shade of blue to match the envelopes the city distributes with parking tickets. Kingston tried but he couldn't manage to get a ticket. An obliging meter maid finally gave him an envelope only.

One pair of house mice has about 60 young per year.

ReformedChurchNotes

HIGH FALLS — Services for Sunday in the newly organized Reformed Church will be 9 a. m. Sunday school worship service and class instruction for all ages; 10 a. m. worship service with Donald Maxam, a senior student at the New Brunswick Seminary, bringing the message. A nursery is maintained in the basement during the service for small children.

A training class for Sunday school teachers was organized last Monday at the regular monthly Sunday school staff meeting. The class will meet the first and third Monday evenings of the month under the direction of Mrs. Dewitt Hasbrouck.

Area Activities

Mr. and Mrs. Calvert Harvey and son have moved into the Feinberg apartment.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hornbeck and children spent Sunday in Grahamsville with his mother, Mrs. Ethel Hornbeck.

Mrs. Oliver Bogart and daughter Miss Charlotte Bogart and mother, Mrs. Anna Schoonmaker called on Mrs. Roy Ransom Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Elsa D. Hart and Miss Anna Draudt have returned from a visit with their brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Draudt of Marion, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Smith are home from a trip to Fenton, Mich., to visit their daughter and family, the Dr. Koops.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hertzog spent the weekend at their home in Bethlehem, Pa.

Adult Education

Registration for the fall semester of Rondout Valley adult education program will be held Tuesday 7 p. m. in the high school cafeteria, Kyserike. A few of the courses offered are English for the foreign born, high school equivalency, painting and drawing, typing for beginners, law everyone should know, clothing construction, driver's education, and standard first aid courses, said Director Charles Ayasse. More information can be obtained by calling Marbletown School. A minimum of 14 is necessary for each class.

Hardy Oldster

CARTHAGE, Mo. (AP)—Mrs. Etta R. Hackworth picked herself up and called an ambulance.

She said she had been on the roof of her house trimming a tree and fell to the ground.

Hospital officials kept her for observation but said they could not find any injury.

Fast Work

BALTIMORE (AP) — Talk about fast work by firemen: 15 seconds to get to the fire, 1½ minutes to put it out.

Last Chance

ASHTON, Idaho (AP)—Here's a bandit believes in signs. He held up the Last Chance Inn and fled with $148.

Sardines Provide Low-Cost Protein

TASTY Maine sardines, marinated here in a tempting appetizer, are an inexpensive but high-in-protein food.

GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Sardines from the icy waters of Maine are a bountiful source of low-cost, first-quality protein. They, like all other protein food from the waters of the world, are the subject of the FAO International Conference on Fish in Nutrition in Washington, D. C., this week.

Food scientists and technologists and public health officers are highlighting the importance of fish and sea food, so abundant in the oceans of the world, in combating malnutrition and for use in animal feeding. The U. S. State Department is sponsoring the 400 attending representatives.

The Maine sardine industry has done much research in food value of the high-protein low-caloried sardine.

Marinated Maine Sardines
(6 servings)

2 cans (4 oz. ea.) Maine sardines
1 cucumber, peeled and thinly sliced
1 medium onion, thinly sliced
½ green pepper, thinly sliced
1 cup commercial sour cream
2 tablespoons chopped chives
¼ teaspoon garlic powder
⅛ teaspoon black pepper
3 tablespoons lemon juice
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
½ teaspoon celery salt
Lettuce or water cress

Drain sardines. Arrange layers of sardines, cucumber and green pepper in shallow dish. Combine remaining ingredients, except lettuce and pour over fish. Cover with foil and place in refrigerator for 2 hours or overnight, to chill and allow flavors to blend. Serve as first course, garnished with lettuce or water cress.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued to rebound in moderate trading early this afternoon. Autos were pacemakers.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .60 at 253.00 with industrials up 1.60, rails up .20 and utilities off .10.

Gains of fractions to a point or more prevailed among most key stocks.

News of the labor settlement at General Motors continued to inspire buying of auto stocks and other industrials.

Steels followed along more moderately. Building material issues posted some sharp gains.

Aircrafts, oils, utilities and nonferrous metals were mixed. Tobaccos, airlines, drugs, rubbers and mail order-retails were a little higher.

Gillette bounded ahead half a dozen points on word of proposals for a 3-for-1 stock split and a dividend boost.

Honolulu Oil recovered more than 3 points of Wednesday's 15-point loss on antitrust news.

Ford was up more than a point. GM was up close to a point and Chrysler a fraction. American Motors and Studebaker-Packard continued heavily traded, each adding a fraction.

Johns-Manville and U. S. Gypsum advanced more than a point.

Also advancing more than a point were Firestone, Magnavox, Air Reduction and Montgomery Ward.

Du Pont was up a couple of points.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 2.34 at 709.66.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange moved generally higher in light trading.

Corporate bonds were mostly steady. Long-term U. S. government bonds advanced.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

by ROGER E. SPEAR
Investment Advisor and Analyst

Reader's Choices Assure Stable Income, Growth

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "Nearing retirement age, I would like to rearrange my investments so that common stocks account for about 60 per cent of the total. Since there will be a need for income, I favor common stocks which will yield about 3½ per cent as a minimum and which, in addition to being stable income-producers, have possibilities for at least some growth over the next decade.

Would you kindly indicate how well the following stocks meet these requirements: American Can, Standard Oil of N. J., National Biscuit, G. W. Helme, General Telephone, Marine Midland, Libbey-Owens-Ford, Montana Power, Northern States Power, Ohio Edison and Pacific Lighting."—J. L.

A) Let me compliment you on the intelligent way you have approached an investment program.

The idea of putting a majority of your capital into common stocks is, I think, a good one. In addition, you have worked up a balanced list of stocks which ought to meet your goals with something extra to space.

Your best yields are afforded by American Can, Jersey Standard, G. W. Helme, and Libbey-Owens Ford. I don't believe that these four issues have a lot in the way of growth ahead of them, but they are worthwhile as income holdings.

Your utility group — Montana Power, Northern States Power, Ohio Edison, and Pacific Lighting—makes up a strong package and should provide you with stability, reasonable return and ample capital appreciation over a period of years.

The story is pretty much the same with Marine Midland, another solid holding. The two remaining issues—National Biscuit and General Telephone — rate high in my book for conservative growth. At present market levels these 11 issues return about 4 per cent and, taken together, should easily provide the gradual appreciation which you requested.

Q) "I purchased Brunswick in the middle 60's. Should I continue to hold?"—G. R.

A) By all means. Brunswick looks good on my charts, and its next move upward could be a very impressive one.

SHOKAN NEWS

SHOKAN—Local callers Monday included Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilbur Wright of Youmans Avenue, Washington, N. J., who were on their way to Schenevus to visit friends and relatives. Mr. Wright on September 15 and 16 won the state class B golf championship at Mountain Ridge Country Club. He is a grandson of Ira Boulson, Schenevus resident who attained the age of 104 years. His great-grandfather, Claud Boulson was the sole survivor of a massacre by Indians. He was adopted as a baby by the Oneonta Tribe and was brought up by Chief Schenevus. Boulson remained with the tribe and was known in the Cherry Valley area as the "White Indian."

Mrs. Cornwell Longyear, the former Evelyn Wands of Shokan, has changed her residence from Alberquerque, N. Mex. to Maitland, Fla. where her younger sister, Bessie, lives. Mrs. Longyear and her husband who was a native of Phoenicia were school teachers before moving to the Southwest some 30 years ago.

A number of gray squirrels reportedly were fished out of the west basin of the reservoir recently. A story is going the rounds that two fishermen rescued an all but exhausted squirrel and set him in the end of their boat where he sat, chattering away as is the custom of these rodents. At about 15 feet from the shore line he suddenly made a dive and swam safely to land.

Whether this aquatic show put on by the grays portends another mass migration remains to be seen. The Freeman story of last week in which Columnist Douglas so graphically described the great squirrel movement of 1933 and other years was of much interest to local readers, one of whom recalls he came near losing a fine field of corn when the thousands of roving animals passed through this county on their great westward movement Corn "was in the shock," that autumn of 1933, and so were the squirrels. Quick action saved this farmer's crop, however, though that of his nearest neighbor was a total loss.

It was closed season on squirrels, our reader continues, so he went down to Kingston and explained the situation to Fred Dewitt, the then game protector. Fred said, "Go ahead and shoot 'em, if it will save your crop." This he did, and with the aid of a small bore rifle he killed or scared away the invaders. He bagged 50 of them before they made it ot the stone wall and into the woods. Says his wife "didn't like squirrel stew" so he just cut the tails off and tacked them on his big barn doors.

RESPONSE!

Newspaper Advertising Brings Reader Response...through Buying Action!

More buying action results from newspaper advertising because of the atmosphere of believability. You've heard people say, "I know it's true, it's in the papers." The printed word has always been accepted as more honest and binding.

Newspapers report facts; other media offer entertainment. Your advertising in an atmosphere of believability is bound to induce more "want-to-buy" action than that framed in fiction or entertainment.

Newspapers offer another vital element—an atmosphere of timeliness and urgency. This sense of immediacy fosters "here-and-now" sales action that no other print medium can match.

If it's a question of consumer response—newspapers are the answer!

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued to rebound in moderate trading early this afternoon. Autos were pacemakers.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .60 at 253.00 with industrials up 1.60, rails up .20 and utilities off .10.

Gains of fractions to a point or more prevailed among most key stocks.

News of the labor settlement at General Motors continued to inspire buying of auto stocks and other industrials.

Steels followed along more moderately. Building material issues posted some sharp gains.

Aircrafts, oils, utilities and nonferrous metals were mixed. Tobaccos, airlines, drugs, rubbers and mail order-retails were a little higher.

Gillette bounded ahead half a dozen points on word of proposals for a 3-for-1 stock split and a dividend boost.

Honolulu Oil recovered more than 3 points of Wednesday's 15-point loss on antitrust news.

Ford was up more than a point. GM was up close to a point and Chrysler a fraction. American Motors and Studebaker-Packard continued heavily traded, each adding a fraction.

Johns-Manville and U. S. Gypsum advanced more than a point.

Also advancing more than a point were Firestone, Magnavox, Air Reduction and Montgomery Ward.

Du Pont was up a couple of points.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 2.34 at 709.66.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange moved generally higher in light trading.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

by ROGER E. SPEAR
Investment Advisor and Analyst

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "Nearing retirement age, I would like to rearrange my investments so that common stocks account for about 60 per cent of the total. Since there will be a need for income, I favor common stocks which will yield about 3½ per cent as a minimum and which, in addition to being stable income-producers, have possibilities for at least some growth over the next decade.

Would you kindly indicate how well the following stocks meet these requirements: American Can, Standard Oil of N. J., National Biscuit, G. W. Helme, General Telephone, Marine Midland, Libbey-Owens-Ford, Montana Power, Northern States Power, Ohio Edison and Pacific Lighting."—J. L.

A) Let me compliment you on the intelligent way you have approached an investment program.

The idea of putting a majority of your capital into common stocks is, I think, a good one. In addition, you have worked up a balanced list of stocks which ought to meet your goals with something extra to space.

Your best yields are afforded by American Can, Jersey Standard, G. W. Helme, and Libbey-Owens Ford. I don't believe that these four issues have a lot in the way of growth ahead of them, but they are worthwhile as income holdings.

Your utility group — Montana Power, Northern States Power, Ohio Edison, and Pacific Lighting—makes up a strong package and should provide you with stability, reasonable return and ample capital appreciation over a period of years.

The story is pretty much the same with Marine Midland, another solid holding. The two remaining issues—National Biscuit and General Telephone — rate high in my book for conservative growth. At present market levels these 11 issues return about 4 per cent and, taken together, should easily provide the gradual appreciation which you requested.

Q) "I purchased Brunswick in the middle 60's. Should I continue to hold?"—G. R.

A) By all means. Brunswick looks good on my charts, and its next move upward could be a very impressive one.

SHOKAN NEWS

SHOKAN—Local callers Monday included Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilbur Wright of Youmans Avenue, Washington, N. J., who were on their way to Schenevus to visit friends and relatives. Mr. Wright on September 15 and 16 won the state class B golf championship at Mountain Ridge Country Club. He is a grandson of Ira Boulson, Schenevus resident who attained the age of 104 years. His great-grandfather, Claud Boulson was the sole survivor of a massacre by Indians. He was adopted as a baby by the Oneonta Tribe and was brought up by Chief Schenevus. Boulson remained with the tribe and was known in the Cherry Valley area as the "White Indian."

Mrs. Cornwell Longyear, the former Evelyn Wands of Shokan, has changed her residence from Alberquerque, N. Mex. to Maitland, Fla. where her younger sister, Bessie, lives. Mrs. Longyear and her husband who was a native of Phoenicia were school teachers before moving to the Southwest some 30 years ago.

A number of gray squirrels reportedly were fished out of the west basin of the reservoir recently. A story is going the rounds that two fishermen rescued an all but exhausted squirrel and set him in the end of their boat where he sat, chattering away as is the custom of these rodents. At about 15 feet from the shore line he suddenly made a dive and swam safely to land.

Whether this aquatic show put on by the grays portends another mass migration remains to be seen. The Freeman story of last week in which Columnist Douglas so graphically described the great squirrel movement of 1933 and other years was of much interest to local readers, one of whom recalls he came near losing a fine field of corn when the thousands of roving animals passed through this county on their great westward movement Corn "was in the shock," that autumn of 1933, and so were the squirrels. Quick action saved this farmer's crop, however, though that of his nearest neighbor was a total loss.

It was closed season on squirrels, our reader continues, so he went down to Kingston and explained the situation to Fred Dewitt, the then game protector. Fred said, "Go ahead and shoot 'em, if it will save your crop." This he did, and with the aid of a small bore rifle he killed or scared away the invaders. He bagged 50 of them before they made it ot the stone wall and into the woods. Says his wife "didn't like squirrel stew" so he just cut the tails off and tacked them on his big barn doors.

RESPONSE!

Newspaper Advertising Brings Reader Response...through Buying Action!

More buying action results from newspaper advertising because of the atmosphere of believability. You've heard people say, "I know it's true, it's in the papers." The printed word has always been accepted as more honest and binding.

Newspapers report facts; other media offer entertainment. Your advertising in an atmosphere of believability is bound to induce more "want-to-buy" action than that framed in fiction or entertainment.

Newspapers offer another vital element—an atmosphere of timeliness and urgency. This sense of immediacy fosters "here-and-now" sales action that no other print medium can match.

If it's a question of consumer response—newspapers are the answer!

Diabetes Clinic Finds 71 Cases at Fair

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Seventy-one cases of diabetes were detected at a State Health Department free clinic at the State Fair in Syracuse.

Commissioner Herman E. Hilleboe said Wednesday the names of persons in whom diabetes was detected have been reported to their physicians.

The other 1,989 persons who were tested for diabetes at the fair were notified by postcard that their tests were negative.

The results on X-ray tests for tuberculosis, another department program at the fair, are not yet available, Hilleboe said. He said 7,615 persons were X-rayed in this program.

Saxton to Replace Gidney in Money Post-Definitely

WASHINGTON (AP)—In an on-again, off-again bit of White House byplay, President Kennedy has named Chicago lawyer James J. Saxon to replace Ray M. Gidney as comptroller of currency.

The appointment, announced Wednesday, will become effective Nov. 15.

Gidney, a Republican, has disagreed strongly with Atty Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, the president's brother, over antitrust policy on bank mergers.

The White House announced nomination of Saxon, a Democrat Wednesday afternoon. A spokesman said he understood Gidney was stepping out under a verbal agreement with Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon.

Less than two hours later, the White House withdrew the nomination. The Treasury Department said it was all a mistake, that the nomination had been sent to the White House "as a result of a clerical error in the rush at the close of the session in Congress."

Still later, the White House press secretary, Pierre Salinger, summoned reporters back to the White House and said Gidney is resigning effective Nov. 15 and Saxon would succeed him in the $20,500 job.

Gidney's term is not scheduled to expire until 1963. Saxon will be given a recess appointment to finish out Gidney's term. The nomination requires Senate approval.

Shot Accidentally

UTICA, N.Y. (AP) — A Polish immigrant who was to have entered the Army today died Wednesday of an accidental gunshot wound, police report.

Joseph Puchalski Jr., 22, of Utica, was sitting in an automobile with his head on the muzzle of a .22-caliber rifle when the weapon discharged, police said. Coroner Preston R. Clark ruled the death was accidental.

Puchalski and a friend had been target-shooting, police said.

Saxton to Replace Gidney in Money Post-Definitely

WASHINGTON (AP)—In an on-again, off-again bit of White House byplay, President Kennedy has named Chicago lawyer James J. Saxon to replace Ray M. Gidney as comptroller of currency.

The appointment, announced Wednesday, will become effective Nov. 15.

Gidney, a Republican, has disagreed strongly with Atty Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, the president's brother, over antitrust policy on bank mergers.

The White House announced nomination of Saxon, a Democrat Wednesday afternoon. A spokesman said he understood Gidney was stepping out under a verbal agreement with Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon.

Less than two hours later, the White House withdrew the nomination. The Treasury Department said it was all a mistake, that the nomination had been sent to the White House "as a result of a clerical error in the rush at the close of the session in Congress."

Still later, the White House press secretary, Pierre Salinger, summoned reporters back to the White House and said Gidney is resigning effective Nov. 15 and Saxon would succeed him in the $20,500 job.

Gidney's term is not scheduled to expire until 1963. Saxon will be given a recess appointment to finish out Gidney's term. The nomination requires Senate approval.

Shot Accidentally

UTICA, N.Y. (AP) — A Polish immigrant who was to have entered the Army today died Wednesday of an accidental gunshot wound, police report.

Joseph Puchalski Jr., 22, of Utica, was sitting in an automobile with his head on the muzzle of a .22-caliber rifle when the weapon discharged, police said. Coroner Preston R. Clark ruled the death was accidental.

Puchalski and a friend had been target-shooting, police said.

Lefkowitz Raps Fiscal Policies Of Wagner Rule

NEW YORK (AP)—Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz, Republican candidate for mayor, said today that "with the Wagner administration in office, bankruptcy is around the corner."

Lefkowitz denounced the fiscal policies of his Democratic opponent, Mayor Robert F. Wagner, in a speech prepared for a luncheon meeting of the Civic Executives' Conference of Metropolitan New York.

Lefkowitz remarked:

"Having filled the bulging fiscal gaps before with a long series of burdensome and discriminatory nuisance taxes — on restaurant bills, theater tickets, taxi fares, auto use taxes — Mayor Wagner will find that the industries involved, as well as the unions, will not stand for this any longer.

"A sound tax program must replace the present patchwork policies.

"Nor will the general public be receptive to the payroll tax that Mayor Wagner once proposed..."

Track Working Conditions Are Being Studied

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A three-man state commission—a former judge, an economics professor and a professional arbiter — is studying the working conditions of "hot walkers, grooms, exercise boys and stablehands at Belmont, Aqueduct and Saratoga Race tracks.

The commission, formed as one of the terms for ending a strike at Aqueduct, was told by Gov. Rockefeller to report its findings with dispatch. No date was set, however.

The strike at Aqueduct was settled Aug. 25. It also had hampered operations of Saratoga Race Track.

When the stablehands struck, elections were being conducted on a stable-by-stable basis by the state Labor Relations Board to determine the workers' collective bargaining representative.

Local 917 of the Teamsters Union had won bargaining rights for 19 stables but was rejected by 20 others. In five stables, the results are being reviewed.

Rockefeller appointed to the commission David W. Peck of New York City, former presiding justice of the Appellate Division of State Supreme Court in New York City; Emanuel Stein of Long Beach, professor of economics at New York University, and Joseph S. Murphy of The Bronx, vice president of the American Arbitration Association.

Peck was named chairman. The members of the commission will receive $100 a day while on commission business, the governor's office said yesterday in announcing the appointments.

The labor relations board, meanwhile, said elections at 53 other stables would be held Oct. 5, 6 and 7.

If the American nation will speak softly and yet build and keep at a pitch of the highest training a thoroughly efficient navy, the Monroe Doctrine will go far."

Liesje Cramer Receives Crafts Award of $100

The $100 prize given by the Woodstock Crafts Foundation for the finest professional work in any classification has been awarded to Liesje Cramer for her block print.

The award was made prior to the opening of the crafts exhibition at the Guild Gallery Wednesday. Raymond Kenyon received the $25 student award for his silver cuff links.

Honorable mention by the three professional judges went to the following: Arthur E. Hansen, wooden bench; Nan Mason, enamelled plaque; Donald Jennings, ceramic cat; Kurt A. Matzdorf, metal work, cream and sugar duo; Grace McVey, weaving, tweed; Joan Pond, enamelled box; Esther Sluizer, weaving, stole; and Jean Wrolsen, sculpture, fish.

The judges were Mrs. Helen Cronk, Woodbury, Conn.; Miss Frances Felton, Winsted, Conn.; and Kenneth Green of New Paltz, winner of last year's $100 award.

The current exhibition promises to be the most brilliant to date and the public is cordially invited to attend. The show will continue through Sept. 30, with daily hours from 1 p. m. to 5:30 p. m.

Double Sessions In Kindergarten At Ashokan Annex

The Ashokan kindergarten annext has been placed on a temporary emergency double-session status by a vote of the Onteora Board of Education.

The board took affirmative action on recommendations by Ronald P. Vanni, director of elementary education, and Dr. George Sullivan, district principal.

Reasons given for the move were (1) large size of the class, 36 pupils; (2) size of the room—minimum capacity for kindergarten program in this room is approximately 25 children and (3) inability to transfer a sufficient number of children to another annex because of the enrollment in other annxes and or the physical size of the annex classrooms.

Under the new plan, morning session begin at 9 a. m. and lasts until 11:30 a. m. Children now assigned to Ashokan and living in the area west of the American Legion hall would be assigned to the morning session. The afternoon session would begin at 1 p. m. and last until 3:30 Children now assigned to Asokan and living in the area east of the Legion hall would be assigned to the afternoon session.

Changes Enrollment

This move would revise the Onteora Central kindergarten annex enrollment as follows: Ashokan, a. m., 19; p. m., 14; Mt. Tremper, 31; Phoenicia, 31; West Shokan, 18.

To effect this move, it was necessary to add a supplement to the existing bus run, MGI.5, which will cost an additional $2,158. The extra appropriation was approved by the board.

Discussion on unsatisfactory conditions in other district annexes was postponed until Monday night when the board plans an informal meeting to discuss school plant survey, school building needs and other related items.

Re-Submit Bids

The board ordered that bids be resubmitted for musical instruments.

The following list of substitute teachers was approved for the school year, 1961-62: Nancy Angeloch, Audrey Bagnall, Dorothy Berleth, Carolyn Brabcato, Laura Eignor, Ernest Estes, Judith Finigan, B. Sturdevant Gardner, Sue Goffredi, Joyce Goodrich, Sonia Gordon, Alison Hansen, Donald Hoffman, Catherine Jenny, Barbara Jordan, Betty Jorgensen, Lucille Kalish, Joan Morhouse, Marguerite Morrissey, Catherine O'Reilly, Joyce Riffenburg, Anna Riseley, Barbara Ryan, Elizabeth Stefano, Katy Stowe, Ruth Swenson, Olive Toms, Constance Vanni, Eva Wesselmann, Fernando Valdivia.

The board accepted the resignation of Thelma Osterhoudt, a member of the school cafeteria staff. Resignations were also accepted from Mrs. Suloff and Mrs. Stefano. Leave of absence was granted Mary Owens.

The board formally accepted the resignations of Trustees Edward G. West and John Aalto and authorized letter of thanks for their services.

Christ Lutheran Will Name Four To Its Council

Four vacancies on the Church Council of Christ Lutheran Church in Woodstock will be filled at the annual congregational meeting to be held on Monday, Sept. 25, at 8 p. m.

The nominees thus far are: Ronald Gray, Robert Hessenauer, Harold Schussler and Mrs. Ruth Bark. The first three candidates are residents of West Hurley, while the other candidate resides in Bearsville.

Consideration of a unified plan of financial operation plus the presentation of annual organizational reports will also receive the attention of the members at this meeting.

Lawrence Deede, superintendent of the Church School, has announced that Promotion Sunday will be held on September 24. Parents are urged to accompany their children in order to become acquainted with the staff and work of the Church School.

Church Notes

A five-session adult membership class will begin Wednesday, Sept. 27 at 8 p. m. Pastor Krapf will lead a discussion of the topic entitled: "The Church and the Bible." All are welcome to attend, especially those who plan to unite with Christ Lutheran through transfer or through special order following instruction.

The Confirmation Class will be formed on Saturday, Sept. 30, at 10 a. m. Children who will reach their 13th birthday before August 1, 1962, are eligible. Children who will reach their 12th birthday before August 1, 1962, should come to the church at 11 a. m., as a one-year required course on the Bible will be initiated for their benefit. Parents should accompany their children and bring along the baptismal certificates of the children in order that the pastor may acquire certain necessary information.

The newly elected officers of the Church School will be installed at the service Sunday, Sept. 24. Pastor Krapf will preach on the topic entitled: "The Posture of the Church School."

Reformed Church Sets Rally Day

Sunday, Sept. 24 is Rally Day at the Woodstock Reformed Church. The Sunday school will on this date begin a new community service which is the sending of a bus into the Bearsville Flats developments to pick up children for Sunday school. The bus will leave the church at 9 a. m. in order to get the children to their classes by 9:30. After Sunday school, the bus will return the children to their homes. All parents are invited to utilize this service, whether members of this church or not.

The Rally Day theme will be carried over into the Sunday worship service at 11 a. m. Pastor Olson will install teachers and officers of the school and preach a sermon on Christian Education. All members of the church are urged to be present, as well as those who visit in the Woodstock area; or who have no regular church home of their own. Nursery care is provided for small children.

The Guild for Christian Service meets in the church basement on Tuesday, Sept. 26, at 8 p. m. for the election of officers. All women of the church are invited.

Adult Sessions At Onteora Set To Open, Oct. 5

Opening Adult Education sessions will be held at the Onteora Central School's central building in Boiceville on Thursday, Oct. 5, at 7:30 p. m. Classes will be held each Thursday thereafter.

At least 10 persons must be enrolled before a class can be started and each class must maintain an average attendance of eight to insure its continuance. Certain courses in high school equivalency and related courses are not bound by this rule.

Registration fees must be paid by the second class meeting. Students must assume the cost of all materials used.

A group of 12 or more may request instruction for a course not listed in this year's program. Under certain circumstances, classes may be conducted in the West Hurley and Woodstock schools.

Registration in person will be conducted in the general office of the Onteora Central School on Thursday, Sept. 28, between the hours of 7 and 9 p. m. Registrations will also be accepted by mail. These should be addressed to: Director of Adult Education, Onteora Central School, Boiceville. Persons may also register at the central school on any Thursday evening susequent to starting sessions, contingent upon available class openings.

Courses to be offered this year include: Americanization, general English for foreign born, ceramics, crafts, driver education, elementary algebra, instrumental music, metal shop, millinery, painting, piano, photography, sewing, shorthand, Spanish, speed reading, French, typing, woodworking.

Board Approves Transportation For Students

Onteora Board of Education has approved transportation for four Woodstock and Bearsville students starting their senior year at Kingston High school.

The four are enrolled in Kingston through an agreement with their families by the Board of Education. Permission was granted upon annexation by Woodstock and this will be the last group of Woodstock students eligible for such transportation.

The students are Barbara Cohn, Pamela Dendy, Sue Gurland of Woodstock and Joanne Marr of Bearsville.

The board hired three new teachers as follows: Adolf A. Karmelik, secondary teacher in chemistry at starting salary of $7100; Mrs. Goleta Ann Wahl, elementary teacher, $5500; and Vincent Brancato, permanent substitute for school year, $5500.

Board approved a bid by the Borden Ice Cream Co. of Kingston for furnishing ice cream at a cost of $4960. It also approved payment of $597.86 for balance of clerk of the work's salary thereby clearing the board of any further obligations. A change order in the amount of $382.61 was approved for R. J. Walsh and Co.

Cafeteria personnel were approved as follows: full time cook, Chrystal Vredenburgh; part time cooks, Lorice Landstrom, Anne Park, Catherine Mercier and Hildegarde Schlesinger. Approved as substitute cooks were Helen Ocker and Dorothy Burke.

Can't Decide About Type of Shelter

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Lt. Gen. Francis W. Farrell, whose job as state Civil Defense Director includes urging the public to build fallout shelters, has a shelter problem.

He says he is undecided whether to build a prefabricated shelter or a permanent concrete shelter in his rented home in suburban Delmar.

"I may have to move again and it would be less expensive to take my shelter along," Farrell said.

This move would revise the Onteora Central kindergarten annex enrollment as follows: Ashokan, a. m., 19; p. m., 14; Mt. Tremper, 31; Phoenicia, 31; West Shokan, 18.

To effect this move, it was necessary to add a supplement to the existing bus run, MGI.5, which will cost an additional $2,138. The extra appropriation was approved by the board.

Discussion on unsatisfactory conditions in other district annexes was postponed until Monday night when the board plans an informal meeting to discuss school plant survey, school building needs and other related items.

Re-Submit Bids

The board ordered that bids be resubmitted for musical instruments.

The following list of substitute teachers was approved for the school year, 1961-62: Nancy Angeloch, Audrey Bagnall, Dorothy Berleth, Carolyn Brabcato, Laura Eignor, Ernest Estes, Judith Finigan, B. Sturdevant Gardner, Sue Goffredi, Joyce Goodrich, Sonia Gordon, Alison Hansen, Donald Hoffman, Catherine Jenny, Barbara Jordan, Betty Jorgensen, Lucille Kalish, Joan Morhouse, Marguerite Morrissey, Catherine O'Reilly, Joyce Riffenburg, Anna Riseley, Barbara Ryan, Elizabeth Stefano, Katy Stowe, Ruth Swenson, Olive Toms, Constance Vanni, Eva Wesselmann, Fernando Valdivia.

The board accepted the resignation of Thelma Osterhoudt, a member of the school cafeteria staff. Resignations were also accepted from Mrs. Suloff and Mrs. Stefano. Leave of absence was granted Mary Owens.

The board formally accepted the resignations of Trustees Edward G. West and John Aalto and authorized letter of thanks for their services.

Christ Lutheran Will Name Four To Its Council

Four vacancies on the Church Council of Christ Lutheran Church in Woodstock will be filled at the annual congregational meeting to be held on Monday, Sept. 25, at 8 p. m.

The nominees thus far are: Ronald Gray, Robert Hessenauer, Harold Schussler and Mrs. Ruth Bark. The first three candidates are residents of West Hurley, while the other candidate resides in Bearsville.

Consideration of a unified plan of financial operation plus the presentation of annual organizational reports will also receive the attention of the members at this meeting.

Lawrence Deede, superintendent of the Church School, has announced that Promotion Sunday will be held on September 24. Parents are urged to accompany their children in order to become acquainted with the staff and work of the Church School.

Church Notes

A five-session adult membership class will begin Wednesday, Sept. 27 at 8 p. m. Pastor Krapf will lead a discussion of the topic entitled: "The Church and the Bible." All are welcome to attend, especially those who plan to unite with Christ Lutheran through transfer or through special order following instruction.

The Confirmation Class will be formed on Saturday, Sept. 30, at 10 a. m. Children who will reach their 13th birthday before August 1, 1962, are eligible. Children who will reach their 12th birthday before August 1, 1962, should come to the church at 11 a. m., as a one-year required course on the Bible will be initiated for their benefit. Parents should accompany their children and bring along the baptismal certificates of the children in order that the pastor may acquire certain necessary information.

The newly elected officers of the Church School will be installed at the service Sunday, Sept. 24. Pastor Krapf will preach on the topic entitled: "The Posture of the Church School."

Reformed Church Sets Rally Day

Sunday, Sept. 24 is Rally Day at the Woodstock Reformed Church. The Sunday school will on this date begin a new community service which is the sending of a bus into the Bearsville Flats developments to pick up children for Sunday school. The bus will leave the church at 9 a. m. in order to get the children to their classes by 9:30. After Sunday school, the bus will return the children to their homes. All parents are invited to utilize this service, whether members of this church or not.

The Rally Day theme will be carried over into the Sunday worship service at 11 a. m. Pastor Olson will install teachers and officers of the school and preach a sermon on Christian Education. All members of the church are urged to be present, as well as those who visit in the Woodstock area; or who have no regular church home of their own. Nursery care is provided for small children.

The Guild for Christian Service meets in the church basement on Tuesday, Sept. 26, at 8 p. m. for the election of officers. All women of the church are invited.

Adult Sessions At Onteora Set To Open, Oct. 5

Opening Adult Education sessions will be held at the Onteora Central School's central building in Boiceville on Thursday, Oct. 5, at 7:30 p. m. Classes will be held each Thursday thereafter.

At least 10 persons must be enrolled before a class can be started and each class must maintain an average attendance of eight to insure its continuance. Certain courses in high school equivalency and related courses are not bound by this rule.

Registration fees must be paid by the second class meeting. Students must assume the cost of all materials used.

A group of 12 or more may request instruction for a course not listed in this year's program. Under certain circumstances, classes may be conducted in the West Hurley and Woodstock schools.

Registration in person will be conducted in the general office of the Onteora Central School on Thursday, Sept. 28, between the hours of 7 and 9 p. m. Registrations will also be accepted by mail. These should be addressed to: Director of Adult Education, Onteora Central School, Boiceville. Persons may also register at the central school on any Thursday evening susequent to starting sessions, contingent upon available class openings.

Courses to be offered this year include: Americanization, general English for foreign born, ceramics, crafts, driver education, elementary algebra, instrumental music, metal shop, millinery, painting, piano, photography, sewing, shorthand, Spanish, speed reading, French, typing, woodworking.

Board Approves Transportation For Students

Onteora Board of Education has approved transportation for four Woodstock and Bearsville students starting their senior year at Kingston High school.

The four are enrolled in Kingston through an agreement with their families by the Board of Education. Permission was granted upon annexation by Woodstock and this will be the last group of Woodstock students eligible for such transportation.

The students are Barbara Cohn, Pamela Dendy, Sue Gurland of Woodstock and Joanne Marr of Bearsville.

The board hired three new teachers as follows: Adolf A. Karmelik, secondary teacher in chemistry at starting salary of $7100; Mrs. Coleta Ann Wahl, elementary teacher, $5500; and Vincent Brancato, permanent substitute for school year, $5500.

Board approved a bid by the Borden Ice Cream Co. of Kingston for furnishing ice cream at a cost of $4960. It also approved payment of $597.86 for balance of clerk of the work's salary thereby clearing the board of any further obligations. A change order in the amount of $382.61 was approved for R. J. Walsh and Co.

Cafeteria personnel were approved as follows: full time cook, Chrystal Vredenburgh; part time cooks, Lorice Landstrom, Anne Park, Catherine Mercier and Hildegarde Schlesinger. Approved as substitute cooks were Helen Ocker and Dorothy Burke.

Can't Decide About Type of Shelter

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Lt. Gen. Francis W. Farrell, whose job as state Civil Defense Director includes urging the public to build fallout shelters, has a shelter problem.

He says he is undecided whether to build a prefabricated shelter or a permanent concrete shelter in his rented home in suburban Delmar.

"I may have to move again and it would be less expensive to take my shelter along," Farrell said.

Veterans Record Advice Is Given

Veterans with rated disabilities of 50 per cent or more were cautioned today by Charles L. Culver, NYS veteran counselor, NYS Division of Veterans' Affairs and John B. Tyler, director, Ulster County Veterans' Service Agency, 32 Main Street, not to let their official family records get out of date. For these veterans an increase in number of dependents means an increase in compensation payment.

Under the terms of Public Law 86-490 additional compensation on account of dependents is payable from the effective date of the 50 per cent or higher rating, provided the basic proof of dependents is received by the Federal Government within 60 days from th date of notification of such rating action. Another law, PL 86-499, authorizes additional compensation for more than three children.

If the veteran's 50 per cent or more disability rating is due to "peacetime" service, the additional compensation rates are 80 per cent of the amount payable for wartime service connected disability.

In any case, it is suggested that such disability veterans contact the local office of the New York State Division of Veterans' Affairs and the Ulster County Veterans' Service Agency at 32 Main Street, with branch offices in Saugerties, Highland, Ellenville and Kerhonkson.

Gets $22,000 Job In Claims Court On 58th Birthday

WATERLOO, N.Y. (AP) — J. Seward Bodine of Waterloo celebrated his 58th birthday today with a present from Gov. Rockefeller—a seat on the State Court of Claims.

Bodine, a Seneca County judge, was named Wednesday to the $22,000-a-year post. He succeeds Judge William G. Easton of Rochester, who recently was appointed to the State Supreme Court in the Seventh Judicial District.

Bodine was named to a term ending Dec. 31, 1967. The appointment is subject to approval by the state Senate.

STOP, LOOK AND MARVEL—That's the rule in Kruger National Park, an 8,000-square-mile game preserve in South Africa. Above, a four-ton elephant ambles across the tourist road. Animals never bother a car as long as occupants stay quietly inside (fumes from exhaust kill human scent).

FENCY WORKER—Wearing a de luxe decoration of soap on his head, a Movenda tribesman works on a fence being constructed at Kruger National Park in South Africa. He is one of 240 natives erecting the fence around the 8,000-square-mile preserve to contain and protect wildlife.

WILDLIFE PRESERVE—Natives work in one of the last sections of a 600-mile-long fence being erected around Kruger National Park in South Africa. Costing $1.5 million, the fence is intended to keep animals in and poachers out of the 8,000-square-mile preserve, larger than New Jersey.

PREDATORY PEDESTRIANS—Two female lions walking unconcernedly along a tourist road in Kruger Big Game National Park, South Africa, provide a thrill for motorists. Humans are perfectly safe as long as they stay inside their cars. A 600-mile-long fence, the world's largest, is being erected around the park to protect animals like these in their natural habitat.

Farm Credit Official Returns From Parley

C. Kenneth Taber of the Cooperative Farm Credit Office, Kingston, has just returned after attending a management training conference held at Schine Inn, Chicopee, Mass., where the Farm Credit Banks of Springfield were hosts.

More than 125 managers and assistant managers of the Federal Land Bank and Production Credit Associations, fieldmen of the FLB and Federal Intermediate Credit Bank from the six New England states, New York and New Jersey, served by the Springfield banks, attended the two-day meeting.

Reporting on the meeting, C. Kennethh Taber manager of the Federal Land Bank Association of Kingston serving Ulster County, stated that the meeting provided an opportunity for additional training as well as to share experiences and to talk "shop" with others who are counseling with and extending credit service to Northeast farmers.

Fined for No Sticker

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Michael A. Schaller, 76, of nearby Cheektowaga, told the judge he never had had a ticket in 60 years of driving an automobile. He then paid a $10 fine for failing to have an up-to-date inspection sticker on his car.

Lake Michigan is becoming shallower at a rate of three inches every 100 years due to the accumulation of sediment on its bottom.

Seaway Tonnage Up

OTTAWA (AP) — Tonnage on the St. Lawrence Seaway this year is running 9.5 per cent ahead of last year.

The St. Lawrence Seaway authority said Wednesday traffic through the Montreal-to-Lake Ontario route in August totaled 2,922,289 tons.

In August 1960, the inland waterway carried 2,731,405 tons.

On the Welland Canal, 4,094,020 tons were recorded in August, an increase of 238,076 tons over August 1960.

The authority said the amount of cargoes heading eastward on both sections showed substantial increases for the month but were offset partially by decreases in traffic moving toward the Great Lakes.

Big Issues Still on Tap As Congress Nears Quit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress plodded today toward a possible weekend adjournment with a half dozen important issues awaiting action.

Many House members already had pulled up stakes and had left for home. About a score of senators already had departed or were leaving for meetings abroad.

Leaders of both houses hoped for a speedy agreement today on the amount of foreign aid money that will be made available for the current government year and on the final terms for establishment of a disarmament agency.

The Senate voted $4,196,600,000 in foreign aid funds and the House $3,657,500,000. President Kennedy originally had asked for $4,762,500,000 and Congress had agreed earlier to authorize up to $4,253,500,000.

The House scheduled a vote today on a compromise bill for permanent establishment of the Peace Corps, already approved by the Senate.

The Senate was expected to give speedy approval to the nomination of Fowler Hamilton, New York lawyer, as new foreign aid chief.

Senate-House conferees slated a meeting to try to work out differences on the proposed new disarmament agency. The House voted to set up a separate "Arms Control" bureau with a head directly responsible to the President. The Senate had acted to place the agency under the State Department with an undersecretary of state as its head.

Holmes to Head Moon Project, Is Appointed by JFK

WASHINGTON (AP) — D. Brainerd Holmes, a veteran of the missile industry, will direct President Kennedy's stepped-up drive to send a man to the moon by 1970.

Holmes, 40, currently is project manager for development of the ballistic missile early warning system by RCA Defense Electronic Products at Moorestown, N.J.

He was named Wednesday to head America's manned space flight programs, including Project Apollo — the mission to place a man on the moon. He will take over the $21,000 job Nov. 1.

Holmes called the appointment a huge challenge.

Holmes was a 1943 electrical engineering graduate from Cornell University. He is married and father of two daughters, Dorothy, 16, and Katherine, 12.

Ex-Port Editor Is Named to New Post

STROUDSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Joseph Cusack of Milford has been named managing editor of The Stroudsburg Daily Record. He succeeds John F. Hill, who resigned.

Cusack's appointment was announced Wednesday by the Daily Record's editor and general manager, Horace G. Heller.

Cusack was formerly editorial page editor of The Port Jervis, N.Y., Union Gazette. Both the Union Gazette and the Daily Record are members of the Ottaway Newspaper Group.

Farley Is Ousted From N.Y. Post, No Kin to Jim

NEW YORK (AP) —James J. Farley, an anti-Wagner Democrat, says he has been fired from his $12,500-a-year city job.

"I don't think there is any question but that my dismissal was politically motivated," Farley said Wednesday.

Farley, who was assistant commissioner of public works in Manhattan Borough President Edward R. Dudley's office, said he was dropped by Dudley.

Farley did not condemn Dudley for the ouster.

But he said Wagner, who has threatened ousters of a number of city officials who opposed the Wagner slate in the recent primary, "wouldn't make a good office boy in any city department."

Farley is not a relative of James A. Farley, former Democratic national chairman who supported Wagner.

Eckert Graduated

Graduated Sept. 1, from Naval Supply School at the Naval Schools Command, Newport, R. I., were John H. Eckert, storekeeper second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hayward C. Eckert of Rifton. He received five weeks training as a storekeeper and has received orders to active duty.

$500,000 for Victory

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner's campaign manager estimates that his successful primary campaign for renomination cost more than $500,000. Nearly half the total cost is said to have been spent for radio and television time.

Quotas, Penalties Possible For Low Yield Wheat Fields

Some small wheat producers who have grown less than 15 acres of wheat in the past three years may be subject to marketing quotas and penalties under provisions of the Wheat Stabilization Program for 1962 according to E. M. Wood, chairman, Ulster County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Under previous programs, farms that had less than 15 acres of wheat, or farms that did not produce more than 200 bushels of wheat annually, were not subject to marketing quotas even though they had allotments of 15 acres or less. The 200 bushel exemption has been repealed, and the 15-acre exemption is no longer applicable under the new program.

Exemptions Changed

For 1962, the marketing quota exemption for those who planted 15 acres of wheat during any one of the three years 1959, 1960, or 1961, and whose allotment is less than 13.5 acres, will be reduced to 13.5 acres. Exemption for growers who planted less than 13.5 acres of wheat will be the highest planted acreage in any one of these three years of the 1962 allotment in less than such highest acreage.

In addition to these quota requirements, some small producers may also be subject to marketing quota penalties under certain conditions, Wood pointed out. For example, farmers who have not grown wheat in any one of the past three years and who grow wheat for harvest without an allotment in 1962 will be subject to marketing quota penalties on the entire production.

Another group of producers who will also be subject to wheat marketing quota penalities are those who have grown 13.5 acres or more in one of the three years, 1959, 1960, or 1961 and whose 1962 allotments are 13.5 acres or less and who grow for harvest more than 13.5 acres in 1962.

Penalities may also apply to small producers who exceed their 1962 allotment when that allotment is greater than the average planted for harvest in any one of the years 1959, 1960, or 1961.

Figured on Allotment

On farms where there is excess wheat acreage, the amount of wheat subject to a marketing quota penalty would be twice the normal yield of the excess acres multiplied by 65 per cent of the May 1962 parity price of wheat. Downward adjustments in this determination may be made if the producer furnished evidence of his actual production. In those cases where a producer exceeds the exemption, the penalty is figured from the allotment rather than the exemption.

Approximately two-thirds of the wheat producers in the United States grow less than 15 acres, yet these small growers raise about one-sixth of all the wheat grown in the country, Wood explained. By reducing the wheat market quota exemption, these growers now have an opportunity to make a greater contribution in the national effort to bring wheat supplies more nearly in line with demand.

Episcopalians Back Movement For Unification

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

DETROIT (AP)— After putting new steam into a move for Christian reunion, the legislative machinery of the Episcopal Church today ground to a halt—for a look at some other kinds of machinery.

Nearly 1,000 representatives of the church from across the country—bishops, pastors, theologians and lay delegates—headed into the whirring labyrinth of Detroit's industrial empire.

Their purpose: To hunt clues on how the church can break out of its parochial walls into the mass — organized, mechanized world that has engulfed much of modern American life.

The tour came after the House of Bishops Wednesday swept through a dramatic measure aimed at uniting a wide range of American churches, including at least four other denominations.

It calls for talks with United Presbyterians, Methodists, the United Church of Christ, the Polish National Catholic Church and possibly others to "explore the possibilities of an eventual united church, truly catholic, truly reformed and truly evangelical."

Altogether, the denominations have about 20 million members.

Not Hot Air for Hair

The best method of drying hair is to towel it dry. Next, brush it thoroughly. But if you haven't the time to wait, make sure that your home dryer is set on warm, not hot. Heat dries the oil out of your hair.

GALVESTON REVISITED—"Only Yesterday" might well be the title of this picture of a flooded section of Galveston, Tex. This was not hurricane Carla, however, but the aftermath of the great hurricane and tidal wave of September 8, 1900, which claimed 5,000 lives. An interesting sidelight is that the Galveston disaster was the last occasion in which Clara Barton, who was 78, actively participated in relief work. One example of Red Cross aid in 1900 was the replacement of 1.5 million strawberry plants that were swept away in the flood. A box of the first strawberries from the new crop was later sent to Miss Barton. Today, the Red Cross carries on in the tradition of its founder.

Must Conquer Reds Through Church Force: Snyder View

Frederic Snyder, Kingston news commentator, told the Albany Exchange Club Wednesday that "we must conquer Russia through spiritual forces" and warned that Italy was a "greater potential peril" than Berlin to the security of the Free World.

Speaking at the luncheon meeting of the Exchange Club at The Sheraton-Ten Eyck Hotel, "The Red Star (of Communism) will one day be mastered by the peaceful power witnessed in the Star of Bethlehem which heralded the birth of the Prince of Peace."

Taking the long view on eventual decline of Communism, Snyder was a bit more pessimistic about the short time view. He looks upon Italy as a greater potential peril than Berlin of the security of the free world and said "Berlin is a stabilized broken joint with a splint" but he said "we face a flaming abscess in Italy."

He explained that the West knows what it is facing in Berlin, but cannot be sure of the outlook in Italy, where, he said Communism has a great appeal.

We need an extra strong Italy to insure the safety of the Mediterranean bases, Snyder said, but we can't be sure of that country's stability.

Marion Davies Is Near Death

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Former actress Marion Davies may die at any hour, her physicians report.

They said Wednesday she had been administered last rites of the Roman Catholic Church last week when her death seemed near.

Miss Davies, 61, entered Cedars of Lebanon Hospital May 16. She was operated on June 7 for osteomyelitis of the jaw. Osteomyelitis is an inflammation of bone marrow.

Twelve days after surgery, Miss Davies fell in the hospital room and broke her left leg.

Class of 1941 Holds Reunion

WALLKILL — More than 15 members of the record-size class of 40 members of the Class of 1941 of Wallkill Central School attended a 20-year reunion dinner and dance held at Spruce Lodge Saturday evening, Sept. 16. Including their husbands, wives, and escorts, the group numbered 33. In addition to being the largest graduation class up to that time, this also was the first class to graduate from the newly formed Wallkill Central School District.

All officers were present: President, Marion Hammesfahr Doolittle; vice president, David Freer; treasurer, Arthur Barry; and secretary, Lois Morehouse Morris. In addition there were two of the original members of the student council present, Iris Caswell Bellarosa, and Albert Woessner. Robert Hughes, the third member of the student council in the senior year, now resides in Minnesota, working for IBM, and was unable to be present.

Freer acted as toastmaster for the group and greeted the class members. Those attending were, Mr. and Mrs. William Dobson (Frances McCabe); Mr. and Mrs. Harry Denton (Alice Moran); Mr. and Mrs. James Blondi (Dorothy McCabe); Mr. and Mrs. George Sisti; Mr. and Mrs. Everette Poole (Margaret Edsall); Mr. and Mrs. S. Ellis Masten; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Jamieson; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bayard; Miss Melanie Pertschnigg; Miss Bessie Powell; and Arthur Ruger; Mr. and Mrs. Tony Socci (Betty Lawrence); Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bellarosa; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Woessner; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Barry, Mr. and Mrs. David Freer; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Morris and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Doolittle.

Letters were also read from Ralph Van Horn, Dexter Tilroe, and Robert J. Robinson, all former teachers. Class members also writing were Clara Moran Hance; Fern Coy Quick.

It was ascertained that only three class members were not to be located, and two, Ray Gonzales and Michael Kane are deceased.

It was voted to hold another such reunion in five years, with the hope that additional people would be able to attend.

Local Red Cross Answers Calls on Disaster Victims

"Several requests for information about the safety of persons in Texas have been received by the local Red Cross Chapter from residents in Ulster County," Wakeman R. Gardner, chairman of the Hurricane Carla Appeal said today, "and through Red Cross Telecommunications Service is was learned these hurricane victims were safe and well."

Gardner added that recent reports advise that mighty Carla left a trail of wreckage in 14 coastal counties of Texas that includes 40,200 homes damaged or destroyed; 900 farm buildings, and 240 boats and house trailers destroyed or damaged. These figures are from survey teams traveling by car, helicopter, and on foot in the area between Port Arthur and Corpus Christi. The area is littered for miles with debris in the wake of the most powerful storm of the century in this region.

"Victims of Hurricane Carla are applying at registration centers for Red Cross assistance in meeting needs for home repairs and rebuilding, and other long-term needs beyond their own resources," Gardner said. He pointed out that the needs of the hurricane affected families will be a heavy drain on the disaster funds of the organization and emphasized the need for donations which will be accepted by the local Red Cross Chapter at 308 Clinton Avenue, and earmarked specifically for aid to Hurricane Carla disaster victims.

Ship Talks Go On

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Federal mediators scheduled continued meetings today in an attempt to avert a possible strike that could tie up most West Coast shipping when a Taft-Hartley law injunction expires at midnight.

The 80-day injunction halted a nationwide shipping strike last July. Since then most major disputes have been settled. But the Pacific Maritime Association and the International Organization of Masters, Mates and Pilots are still in disagreement.

A strike could affect 13 West Coast shipping companies with 136 ships.

Among other demands, the union seeks continuous overtime while ships are being moved in ports.

New Paltz Area Methodist Notes

Baptism at Service

Worship services will be held in the New Paltz Methodist Church, Main and Grove Streets, Sunday at the regular hours of 8:30 a. m. and 11 a. m. The sermon at each of the services will be delivered by the pastor, the Rev. Willett Porter. He will be assisted in the ordering of the service by Roger Brown, newly-appointed associate minister to students.

The Sacrament of Baptism will be administered at the 11 o'clock service. Arrangements may be made by calling the church office.

Following the 11 a. m. service a reception and coffee hour will take place in the church social hall to greet students and faculty members and to honor Mr. and Mrs. Brown, and their predecessors in the local church's student program, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Jacobs.

Rummage Sale

The annual fall rummage sale of New Paltz Methodist Church is announced for Friday and Saturday, Oct. 13 and 14, in the local church's social hall. Chairmen for the sale will be Mrs. Edward Morrison and Mrs. Irving Dederick. They may be contacted for further details.

Junior Choir Resumes

Rehearsals of the junior choir of New Paltz Methodist Church will resume for the fall season Friday, 3:30 p. m. Mrs. Paul Steiner will again direct this choral group and Miss Barbara Baumgartner will be the new accompanist. New choir members may attend the rehearsal in the choir practice room.

Class of 1941 Holds Reunion

WALLKILL — More than 15 members of the record-size class of 40 members of the Class of 1941 of Wallkill Central School attended a 20-year reunion dinner and dance held at Spruce Lodge Saturday evening, Sept. 16. Including their husbands, wives, and escorts, the group numbered 33. In addition to being the largest graduation class up to that time, this also was the first class to graduate from the newly formed Wallkill Central School District.

All officers were present: President, Marion Hammesfahr Doolittle; vice president, David Freer; treasurer, Arthur Barry; and secretary, Lois Morehouse Morris. In addition there were two of the original members of the student council present, Iris Caswell Bellarosa, and Albert Woessner. Robert Hughes, the third member of the student council in the senior year, now resides in Minnesota, working for IBM, and was unable to be present.

Freer acted as toastmaster for the group and greeted the class members. Those attending were, Mr. and Mrs. William Dobson (Frances McCabe); Mr. and Mrs. Harry Denton (Alice Moran); Mr. and Mrs. James Blondi (Dorothy McCabe); Mr. and Mrs. George Sisti; Mr. and Mrs. Everette Poole (Margaret Edsall); Mr. and Mrs. S. Ellis Masten; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Jamieson; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bayard; Miss Melanie Pertschnigg; Miss Bessie Powell; and Arthur Ruger; Mr. and Mrs. Tony Socci (Betty Lawrence); Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bellarosa; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Woessner; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Barry, Mr. and Mrs. David Freer; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Morris and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Doolittle.

Letters were also read from Ralph Van Horn, Dexter Tilroe, and Robert J. Robinson, all former teachers. Class members also writing were Clara Moran Hance; Fern Coy Quick.

It was ascertained that only three class members were not to be located, and two, Ray Gonzales and Michael Kane are deceased.

It was voted to hold another such reunion in five years, with the hope that additional people would be able to attend.

Local Red Cross Answers Calls on Disaster Victims

"Several requests for information about the safety of persons in Texas have been received by the local Red Cross Chapter from residents in Ulster County," Wakeman R. Gardner, chairman of the Hurricane Carla Appeal said today, "and through Red Cross Telecommunications Service is was learned these hurricane victims were safe and well."

Gardner added that recent reports advise that mighty Carla left a trail of wreckage in 14 coastal counties of Texas that includes 40,200 homes damaged or destroyed; 900 farm buildings, and 240 boats and house trailers destroyed or damaged. These figures are from survey teams traveling by car, helicopter, and on foot in the area between Port Arthur and Corpus Christi. The area is littered for miles with debris in the wake of the most powerful storm of the century in this region.

"Victims of Hurricane Carla are applying at registration centers for Red Cross assistance in meeting needs for home repairs and rebuilding, and other long-term needs beyond their own resources," Gardner said. He pointed out that the needs of the hurricane affected families will be a heavy drain on the disaster funds of the organization and emphasized the need for donations which will be accepted by the local Red Cross Chapter at 308 Clinton Avenue, and earmarked specifically for aid to Hurricane Carla disaster victims.

Ship Talks Go On

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Federal mediators scheduled continued meetings today in an attempt to avert a possible strike that could tie up most West Coast shipping when a Taft-Hartley law injunction expires at midnight.

The 80-day injunction halted a nationwide shipping strike last July. Since then most major disputes have been settled. But the Pacific Maritime Association and the International Organization of Masters, Mates and Pilots are still in disagreement.

A strike could affect 13 West Coast shipping companies with 136 ships.

Among other demands, the union seeks continuous overtime while ships are being moved in ports.

Hollywood Tabs Jack Paar Pet 'Hate of Week'

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Jack Paar is the movie industry's hate of the week, thanks to his performance at the bastions of Berlin.

Paar's penchant for trouble bounced back on Hollywood. Congress and the Pentagon hit the ceiling at reports of troops being used as extras for Paar's show from Berlin.

Some congressmen aimed their complaints at the use of troops in movies, especially Darryl Zanuck's current "The Longest Day." There were calls for a review of the practice of service cooperation with movie makers.

20-Year Link

All this pained the producers and no doubt the Pentagon, too. For 20 years, Hollywood and the services have been working together in an alliance that was both smooth and little known. Both sides claim it has been mutually profitable.

The alliance hasn't been noised about for an obvious reason. Too much publicity would cause politicians to question—with some justice—about such use of taxpayers' money. That is exactly what happened in the Paar case.

How does the system operate?

A producer sends his script to the Pentagon with a request for service cooperation. A board reviews the script with an eye toward how the service is portrayed. If in a bad light, cooperation is refused. Or the board might point out what it found objectionable and leave it to the producer whether he wanted to make changes.

"From Here to Eternity" kicked around Hollywood for years until the late Buddy Adler found ways to make it palatable to the Army. "The Caine Mutiny" also required changes before the Navy would lend its ships.

"Most service pictures couldn't be made without Pentagon help," explained a top producer. "We couldn't afford to pay for that many extras. And we would have no means of securing the equipment."

Many Advantages

What is the advantage of cooperation to the services?

No. 1, they can control film material, so irresponsible producers cannot portray the services in a derogative way.

No. 2, there is the intangible matter of morale and enlistment glamor.

Who can measure the effect of these films in World War II: "Wake Island," "Purple Heart," "Destination Tokyo," "The Story of G.I. Joe,' "'30 Seconds Over Tokyo," "They Were Expendable," "Air Force," "Winged Victory"?

Or of these films since then: "Battleground," "To Hell and Back," "The Bridge at Toko-Ri," "Sands of Iwo Jima," "Strategic Air Command," "The Hails of Montezuma"?

Said a producer: "It would be tragic if Paar wiped out Zanuck's picture. D-Day is a great chapter in American courage and especially timely today by its portrayal of Allied cooperation. It deserves to be told."

Woman Sues Assn. For Fall From Horse in Parade

The Columbia County Agricultural Society, sponsor of the Chatham Fair, is being sued for $30,000 by a Columbia County woman who was injured while participating in a parade in 1959. She alleges the Society was negligent and responsible for the accident.

Mrs. Joan Van Alstyne alleges she suffered a broken leg when the horse she was riding in the parade bolted and she was thrown to the ground when someone tossed a firecracker under the animal.

She claims she has suffered a permanent defect in the leg and her husband, James Van Alstyne, is suing for medical and hospital expenses. She spent considerable time in Columbia Memorial Hospital.

The case is scheduled to be heard at the November term of Supreme Court in Columbia County.

Gas War Continues

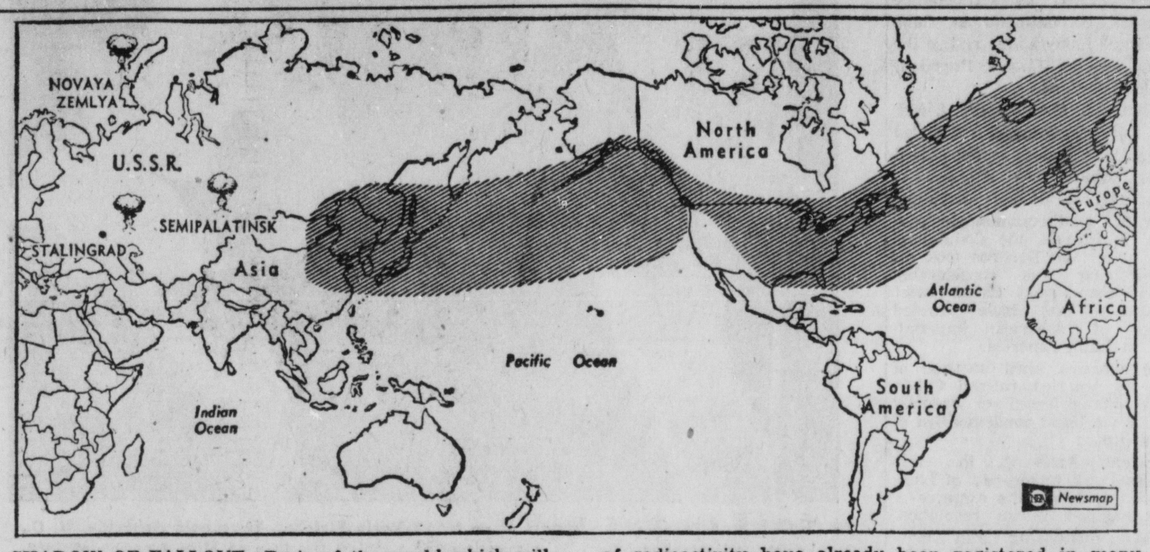
A gasoline price war at some service stations on Route 9W at Highland and Port Ewen, today continued with prices ranging from 21.9 cents a gallon for regular gasoline to 28.9 per gallon.

One station posted a sign at Highland listing high test gasoline at 22.9 cents a gallon. Other prices were 22.9, 23.9 and 24.9 cents a gallon for regular gasoline.

A Port Ewen service station advertised regular gasoline at 21.9 cents a gallon.



SHADOW OF FALLOUT—Parts of the world which will feel the greatest effects from Russia's current series of above-ground nuclear explosions are shown on Newsmap, based on information from U.S. Weather Bureau. Although all of the northern hemisphere will register some radioactive particles, wind patterns will confine heaviest concentrations to the shaded area. Increases in the level of radioactivity have already been registered in many places, but most of the fallout will not settle until next June, after spring rains wash it out of the sky. Western monitors have spotted three locations as sites of the Soviet blasts (mushroom clouds on map): the Arctic island of Novaya Zemlya; somewhere east of Stalingrad; near the city of Semipalatinsk. Some may have involved missiles.

The Peril of Fallout...

NO SECRETS—Scientific instruments located hundreds of miles away get the facts about atomic blasts. The energy generated is so great that the four detectors shown above get the whole story. Cross-checking by radio gives location. Analysis of barometer readings discloses power. Fall-out picked up by planes can be tested to discover bomb's makeup.

Poultry Session Set for Accord

A regional meeting of the State Poultry Industry Coordinating Effort, (SPICE), will be held at the Accord grade school Thursday, Sept. 28, at 8 p. m.

At that meeting there will be an opportunity to discuss the poultry problems and ascertain just what SPICE is doing for the poultry industry, Robert D. Guzewich, Associate Ulster County Agricultural Agent, said.

This new organization is making an all-out effort to improve the economic well-being of the New York State poultry industry.

At the Accord meeting plans will be discussed and the views of those in attendance will be sought. Among the matters which will be brought up for discussion and opinion from poultrymen are:

State label for New York eggs.

Means of collecting funds for promotion and advertising these eggs.

14 Escape Night Boarding Home Fire in Kerhonkson

Fire at 9 o'clock Wednesday night drove 14 persons, including 10 elderly inmates, from the Olive Moore Boarding Home on Samsonville Road, Kerhonkson. No one was injured and the blaze in the attic of the two and a half story house was quickly controlled by firemen from Accord, Kerhonkson, Kripplebush and Rochester.

Accord Fire Chief Edward W. Carle said the fire, of undetermined origin, was discovered by Mrs. Marie Dolan, a niece of the owner. The flames were confined to the attic which was filled with antiques, bedding and personal belongings of the inmates.

Chief Carle said the blaze was controlled by use of booster lines and very little damage was done to the contents.

The fire swept through the attic and burned through to the outside of the building in both the east and west ends before it was finally extinguished.

In the boarding house at the time of the fire were Mrs. Dolan, her brother, Martin VanDeMark, two visitors and the 10 elderly inmates. All were able to leave the building safely.

The Ulster County Welfare Department through Miss Beatrice Smith, case worker, today placed the 10 inmates, the youngest of whom is 77, in other boarding homes in the area.

Mrs. Moore, owner of the burned home, is visiting in California.

Chief Carle explained that damage to the building and its attic contents was kept to a minimum through the use of only booster lines. He was assisted in fighting the fire by Chief Emanuel Samuels and apparatus from Accord; by a tank truck from Kripplebush and Rochester Fire Co. 2. An Accord truck was stationed at the scene throughout the night as a precautionary measure although most of the apparatus left about 10:40 p. m.

Fallout Detection Expanding to Test Red Blast Results

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service is expanding its fallout detection network and is speeding efforts to determine whether any significant health hazard may be expected from the Soviet Union's nuclear tests in the atmosphere, it was learned today.

At the same time, top fallout experts of the agency told a reporter that even the comparatively high levels of atmospheric radiation reported at least temporarily in some parts of the country could be exceeded many times without necessarily posing a significant health threat.

Concern Is About Food

They said it all boils down to this: Regardless of what the atmospheric readings show, any threat to health depends on how much and what kinds of radioactive material ultimately are ingested by people in milk, water and food—or are inhaled.

So far, they said, they have not made sufficient tests to enable estimates on these latter points—but some new steps are designed to help speed such assesment.

New Actions Disclosed

They disclosed these new actions:

1. Two additional fallout detection stations were added during the past few days to add to the 45 stations in 39 states. The new ones are at Bismarck, N.D., and Nashville, Tenn.

Plans are in progress to have a station in all states.

2. Six of the approximately 60 stations maintained by the service's radiological health division to take samples of milk to allow analysis of radioactive content have been alerted to take samples every day, instead of monthly as all stations did previously.

The stations so alerted are at Atlanta; Jackson, Miss., Charlotte, S.C.; Tampa, Fla., New Orleans and St. Louis. And analyses will be done for these stations by the health service's laboratory at Montgomery, Ala.

Set Special Apparatus

3. Ten of the stations in the nationwide network of fallout detection stations are being equipped with special apparatus designed to get better estimates than heretofore of the actual amount of radioactive iodine-131 which may be present in air samples.

The stations getting the new "iodine samplers," reported Ernest Anderson, chief of technical operation, are located at Seattle, Wash.; Berkeley, Calif.; Phoenix, Ariz.; Salt Lake City, Utah; Boise, Idaho; Helena, Mont.; Oklahoma City, Okla.; Madison, Wis.; Anchorage, Alaska and Rockville, Md.

Woman Sues Assn. For Fall From Horse in Parade

The Columbia County Agricultural Society, sponsor of the Chatham Fair, is being sued for $30,000 by a Columbia County woman who was injured while participating in a parade in 1959. She alleges the Society was negligent and responsible for the accident.

Mrs. Joan Van Alstyne alleges she suffered a broken leg when the horse she was riding in the parade bolted and she was thrown to the ground when someone tossed a firecracker under the animal.

She claims she has suffered a permanent defect in the leg and her husband, James Van Alstyne, is suing for medical and hospital expenses. She spent considerable time in Columbia Memorial Hospital.

The case is scheduled to be heard at the November term of Supreme Court in Columbia County.

Gas War Continues

A gasoline price war at some service stations on Route 9W at Highland and Port Ewen, today continued with prices ranging from 21.9 cents a gallon for regular gasoline to 28.9 per gallon.

One station posted a sign at Highland listing high test gasoline at 22.9 cents a gallon. Other prices were 22.9, 23.9 and 24.9 cents a gallon for regular gasoline.

A Port Ewen service station advertised regular gasoline at 21.9 cents a gallon.

The Peril of Fallout...

NO SECRETS—Scientific instruments located hundreds of miles away get the facts about atomic blasts. The energy generated is so great that the four detectors shown above get the whole story. Cross-checking by radio gives location. Analysis of barometer readings discloses power. Fall-out picked up by planes can be tested to discover bomb's makeup.

Poultry Session Set for Accord

A regional meeting of the State Poultry Industry Coordinating Effort, (SPICE), will be held at the Accord grade school Thursday, Sept. 28, at 8 p. m.

At that meeting there will be an opportunity to discuss the poultry problems and ascertain just what SPICE is doing for the poultry industry, Robert D. Guzewich, Associate Ulster County Agricultural Agent, said.

This new organization is making an all-out effort to improve the economic well-being of the New York State poultry industry.

At the Accord meeting plans will be discussed and the views of those in attendance will be sought. Among the matters which will be brought up for discussion and opinion from poultrymen are:

State label for New York eggs.

Means of collecting funds for promotion and advertising these eggs.

14 Escape Night Boarding Home Fire in Kerhonkson

Fire at 9 o'clock Wednesday night drove 14 persons, including 10 elderly inmates, from the Olive Moore Boarding Home on Samsonville Road, Kerhonkson. No one was injured and the blaze in the attic of the two and a half story house was quickly controlled by firemen from Accord, Kerhonkson, Kripplebush and Rochester.

Accord Fire Chief Edward W. Carle said the fire, of undetermined origin, was discovered by Mrs. Marie Dolan, a niece of the owner. The flames were confined to the attic which was filled with antiques, bedding and personal belongings of the inmates.

Chief Carle said the blaze was controlled by use of booster lines and very little damage was done to the contents.

The fire swept through the attic and burned through to the outside of the building in both the east and west ends before it was finally extinguished.

In the boarding house at the time of the fire were Mrs. Dolan, her brother, Martin VanDeMark, two visitors and the 10 elderly inmates. All were able to leave the building safely.

The Ulster County Welfare Department through Miss Beatrice Smith, case worker, today placed the 10 inmates, the youngest of whom is 77, in other boarding homes in the area.

Mrs. Moore, owner of the burned home, is visiting in California.

Chief Carle explained that damage to the building and its attic contents was kept to a minimum through the use of only booster lines. He was assisted in fighting the fire by Chief Emanuel Samuels and apparatus from Accord; by a tank truck from Kripplebush and Rochester Fire Co. 2. An Accord truck was stationed at the scene throughout the night as a precautionary measure although most of the apparatus left about 10:40 p. m.

Fallout Detection Expanding to Test Red Blast Results

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service is expanding its fallout detection network and is speeding efforts to determine whether any significant health hazard may be expected from the Soviet Union's nuclear tests in the atmosphere, it was learned today.

At the same time, top fallout experts of the agency told a reporter that even the comparatively high levels of atmospheric radiation reported at least temporarily in some parts of the country could be exceeded many times without necessarily posing a significant health threat.

Concern Is About Food

They said it all boils down to this: Regardless of what the atmospheric readings show, any threat to health depends on how much and what kinds of radioactive material ultimately are ingested by people in milk, water and food—or are inhaled.

So far, they said, they have not made sufficient tests to enable estimates on these latter points—but some new steps are designed to help speed such assesment.

New Actions Disclosed

They diclosed these new actions:

1. Two additional fallout detection stations were added during the past few days to add to the 45 stations in 35 states. The new ones are at Bismarck, N.D., and Nashville, Tenn.

Plans are in progress to have a station in all states.

2. Six of the approximately 60 stations maintained by the service's radiological health division to take samples of milk to allow analysis of radioactive content have been alerted to take samples every day, instead of monthly as all stations did previously.

The stations so alerted are at Atlanta; Jackson, Miss., Charlotte, S.C.; Tampa, Fla., New Orleans and St. Louis. And analyses will be done for these stations by the health service's laboratory at Montgomery, Ala.

Set Special Apparatus

3. Ten of the stations in the nationwide network of fallout detection stations are being equipped with special apparatus designed to get better estimates than heretofore of the actual amount of radioactive Iodine-131 which may be present in air samples.

The stations getting the new "iodine samplers," reported Ernest Anderson, chief of technical operation, are located at Seattle, Wash.; Berkeley, Calif.; Phoenix, Ariz.; Salt Lake City, Utah; Boise, Idaho; Helena, Mont.; Oklahoma City, Okla.; Madison, Wis.; Anchorage, Alaska and Rockville, Md.

Gets Probation Term

A 19-year-old youth today pleaded guilty before Special City Judge Arthur B. Ewig to two charges of petty larceny and was placed on probation for six months on one charge and received a suspended sentence on the other.

Howard John Haughey, of 129 Chamber Street, was arrested Sept. 12 by Detective Guernsey Burger and Patrolman Floyd Krom. The youth was accused of taking a transistor radio valued at $40 from a Lincoln Street resident and a ring and rosary beads valued at $44.95 from a Hanratty Street house.

Reds Soft Pedal Ties for Castro

MOSCOW (AP)—A joint communique that some Western observers viewed as soft-pedaling Moscow's commitment to Cuba was issued today at the end of the 10-day visit of Cuba's President Osvaldo Dorticos.

A Kremlin Cuban-Soviet friendship rally Wednesday resounded to hostile references to the United States, which was accused of threatening the Cuban revolution.

But the joint communique published in Pravda, the Communist party paper, as Dorticos took off for Peiping was considerably milder than past Cuban-Soviet statements that have carried charges of "American imperialism" in Latin America.

The abortive April invasion of Cuba by American-trained Cuban exiles was referred to casually without the usual condemnation of Washington.

Noticeably missing, too, was the usual call to the rest of Latin America to follow the example of Fidel Castro's Cuban revolution.

Without mentioning Latin America, the communique cited Cuba as a "remarkable example for peoples fighting to rid their countries of the domination of foreign monopolies and for their complete national liberation."

The statement said the talks between Dorticos and Soviet Premier Khrushchev "affirmed the solidarity of the positions of the Soviet Union and the Republic of Cuba on all international questions discussed."

21,000 Centenarians

LONDON (AP) — Soviet scientists reported today that Russia has 21,000 centenarians and most of them live in six "zones of longevity."

Tass, the Soviet news agency, defined these zones as "geographic areas with the greatest concentration of persons aged 100 years or more."

They are: the Caucasus, South Russia, Ukraine-Moldavia, Siberia, Central Asia-Kazakhstan and Byelorussia-Lithuania.

Exiled Red Takes Life

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—Police said today that Dimitri Kandaurov, 59-year-old exiled Russian novelist, committed suicide by hanging himself in his home here Wednesday night.

Kandaurov worked for radio liberation, and anti-Communist radio station largely financed by private American money.

Japanese Testing Strontium Effects By Taking Some

TOKYO (AP) — A Japanese atomic scientist is using himself as a guinea pig to test the rate of elimination and effects of dangerous strontium 85 when taken by humans.

Dr. Toshio Aoki, 52, of the Atomic Energy Research Institute swallowed a dose of the radioactive element on Aug. 16 by mixing it with his coffee. The amount was one-tenth of the level considered dangerous to human bodies.

He estimated today about .1 per cent of the strontium still remains in his body. He figured it will remain with him until late next year. The radiation readings revealed the strontium lodged in the bones of his shoulder, hip and spine.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

EDITOR'S NOTE—Is the economy stagnant and really in need of a helping hand from government? In this, third of four articles on the threat of inflation, Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, discusses the dispute over making more jobs at the risk of triggering another spurt in prices.

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—More jobs for more people—more spending money for a higher standard of living—more government spending to spur the economy's growth but without higher tax rates—more industrial output at moderately higher wage scales but at about the same price levels.

And all this without triggering a boom and bust or an unwelcome spurt in the cost of living that could be curbed only by federal controls over prices and wages and production.

Is it possible?

Goal Is Possible

Administration economists say we can achieve the goal with judicious government monetary action and proper labor and management restraint.

Critics of the administration policy call it excessive, unjustified by present conditions, and unlikely to succeed, judged by past experiences.

This dispute cuts deeper than today's headlined trading of jabs over whether steel companies can hold the price line or how high auto wages can go without setting a wage-price hiking pattern for other industries.

More basic is whether the economy is growing fast enough, whether unemployment can be licked, whether the government can intervene without its pump priming setting off another round of inflation.

President Kennedy and his Council of Economic Advisers say the economy must grow faster if jobs are to be found for an increasing labor force.

Would Lower Taxes

Walter Heller, chairman of the council, says that at the start of the year industry had the capacity to produce 8 per cent more than it actually did. He holds that the gap was due to a failure of demand for goods and services. He urges this demand be stimulated by a combination of easy money and greater government spending or, if that isn't enough, by lower taxes.

Mechanized factories with more efficient production methods would be expected to absorb moderate wage rises without increasing prices. And increased sales volume, even at present profit margins, would be counted upon to keep total earnings high enough.

Opponents challenge this. They deny that the economy is really stagnant. They contend that further government pump priming on top of the current business recovery would just bring on a boom and bust. They fear further inflationary weakening of the marketplace value of the dollar, so that higher prices would nullify any apparent gain in wages.

Other Questions

Beyond this dispute two other questions are being asked with increasing frequency.

How much unemployment is to be regarded as normal? Is creeping inflation really bad?

The old goal of minimum unemployment was 2 or 3 per cent of the labor force. That would include the hard core of the unemployables and those in transit from job to job or place to place.

More recently have been added the unskilled for whom there is less demand in a mechanized age, and also those displaced workers whose particular skills have been taken over by machines.

The jobless total is now around 7 per cent of the labor force. President Kennedy has said he hopes his policies will bring this down fairly soon to 4 per cent. But a few economists have been saying, mostly in hushed tones, that maybe our economy will have to learn to live with 6 per cent or so as the norm.

The question about creeping inflation is how much it really hurts. One theory is that prices must creep higher as industry grows enough to make more jobs. Such price rises, the argument goes, won't be nearly as bad as stagnation that would mean increasing unemployment.

Friday: How big a role do the money managers play, can they play, in pushing the cost of living up or down?

TV Channel Situation In Further Muddle

WASHINGTON (AP)—The muddled television channel situation in Binghamton, N.Y., was further complicated today by a federal communications commission proposal to substitute channels.

The commission proposed Wednesday to substitute channel 34 for channel 56, which presently is assigned to Binghamton but is not on the air.

The switch would involve deletion of channel 34 at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and channel 20 at Ithaca, N.Y. Both changes are for engineering reasons, the FCC said.

The commission also has proproposed shifting the present very high freuqnecy station, channel 12, to ultra-high frequency channel 24.

This would make all channels assigned to the area ultra-high frequency bands. The second Binghamton station uses Channel 40.

The all UHF proposal has run into opposition from some members of Congress.

Channels 2 through 13 are VHF bands while channels 14 through 83 are UHF. Because VHF television was developed first ,most television receivers are built to receive only VHF.

Bank Buys Pool Hall

MIAMI, Fla. ( AP)—A Miami bank recently bought a pool hall. It wasn't intended as a recreation area for tired executives. The bank explained the building, adjoining the bank, was considered an eyesore. So it will be remodeled and leased as an attorney's office.

PONTIAC TRIGGERS ANOTHER TEAM OF WINNERS. Every one is a fancy mover. Choice of 110, 115, 120 or 140 h.p., gas-saving 4-cylinder engine. A couple of extra cost options: 4-barrel carb, 166 h.p. Plenty of punch without big maintenance and running costs. The citizen who wants more can go for an aluminum V-8 option that pulls an honest 185 horses.

TEMPEST HAS INDEPENDENT SUSPENSION—FRONT AND REAR! Each wheel (and it's a big 15" one) moves up and down independently of the opposite wheel. There's no solid axle in the rear. Result: Firm ride on pavement, soft ride in the boondocks! Swing axles in the rear help the Tempest to carve out clean, firm curves.

TEMPEST HAS A FRONT ENGINE/REAR TRANSMISSION! (The only American car with this feature.) It gives Tempest equal weight at every wheel. It has biting traction on the bricks or in the mud. Tires last longer. Brakes take hold like they mean it. The front floor is practically flat (no big hump in the middle). Tempest seats six—easily!

PLUSH NEW SERIES—THE LE MANS (LUH-MAHNZ). The Tempest Convertible and Coupe are out this year in special custom trim. Call them the Le Mans! They both have sports-type bucket seats, full carpeting, floor mounted stick shift, acceleration rear axle option—no extra cost. Extra cost option: 4-speed gearbox. # Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

EDITOR'S NOTE—Is the economy stagnant and really in need of a helping hand from government? In this, third of four articles on the threat of inflation, Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, discusses the dispute over making more jobs at the risk of triggering another spurt in prices.

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—More jobs for more people—more spending money for a higher standard of living—more government spending to spur the economy's growth but without higher tax rates—more industrial output at moderately higher wage scales but at about the same price levels.

And all this without triggering a boom and bust or an unwelcome spurt in the cost of living that could be curbed only by federal controls over prices and wages and production.

Is it possible?

Goal Is Possible

Administration economists say we can achieve the goal with judicious government monetary action and proper labor and management restraint.

Critics of the administration policy call it excessive, unjustified by present conditions, and unlikely to succeed, judged by past experiences.

This dispute cuts deeper than today's headlined trading of jabs over whether steel companies can hold the price line or how high auto wages can go without setting a wage-price hiking pattern for other industries.

More basic is whether the economy is growing fast enough, whether unemployment can be licked, whether the government can intervene without its pump priming setting off another round of inflation.

President Kennedy and his Council of Economic Advisers say the economy must grow faster if jobs are to be found for an increasing labor force.

Would Lower Taxes

Walter Heller, chairman of the council, says that at the start of the year industry had the capacity to produce 8 per cent more than it actually did. He holds that the gap was due to a failure of demand for goods and services. He urges this demand be stimulated by a combination of easy money and greater government spending or, if that isn't enough, by lower taxes.

Mechanized factories with more efficient production methods would be expected to absorb moderate wage rises without increasing prices. And increased sales volume, even at present profit margins, would be counted upon to keep total earnings high enough.

Opponents challenge this. They deny that the economy is really stagnant. They contend that further government pump priming on top of the current business recovery would just bring on a boom and bust. They fear further inflationary weakening of the marketplace value of the dollar, so that higher prices would nullify any apparent gain in wages.

Other Questions

Beyond this dispute two other questions are being asked with increasing frequency.

How much unemployment is to be regarded as normal? Is creeping inflation really bad?

The old goal of minimum unemployment was 2 or 3 per cent of the labor force. That would include the hard core of the unemployables and those in transit from job to job or place to place.

More recently have been added the unskilled for whom there is less demand in a mechanized age, and also those displaced workers whose particular skills have been taken over by machines.

But a few economists have been saying, mostly in hushed tones, that maybe our economy will have to learn to live with 6 per cent or so as the norm.

The question about creeping inflation is how much it really hurts. One theory is that prices must creep higher as industry grows enough to make more jobs. Such price rises, the argument goes, won't be nearly as bad as stagnation that would mean increasing unemployment.

Moss Hails JFK Move to Reduce Secret Material

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has set up a system for automatically taking the secrecy wraps off a considerable amount of classified government material.

Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., who along with newspaper editor groups has frequently criticized excessive governmental secrecy, said the action Wednesday was "a major improvement in the information protection system."

Moss, chairman of the House Information subcommittee, and newspaper groups have protested that classified labels sometimes are used by government officials to conceal mistakes or policies that should be made public.

Moss said the system was recommended by his group three years ago and supported by the American Society of Newspaper Editors and Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic society.

The executive order provides for downgrading the secrecy classification of documents at regular intervals, or sooner if officials decide they no longer need special protection.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said the details an interdepartmental committee of the system were worked out by on internal security after a long study of government classification methods.

Bares Powerful Soviet Rocket, Space Platform

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — The Soviet Union reportedly has a rocket capable of orbiting a 12-ton satellite and already is building a space platform which Premier Khrushchev has called the "ultimate atomic warfare weapon."

This report, unconfirmed by other sources, came from Kilsoo Haan, a former Korean underground worker during World War II who now is a naturalized American citizen.

Haan, who says his information comes from inside Communist territory, submitted to President Kennedy Sept. 9 information which said Khrushchev had advised Red Chinese leader Mao Tze-Tung of the powerful new rocket and that the space platform was being built.

Haan, who lives here, is western divisional sales manager for a Duluth, Minn. food concern.

2 in Stolen Car Intercepted at Bridge Tollgate

Two Cleveland, Ohio, youths are being held in Dutchess County Jail today on fugitive from justice charges following their arrest by state police at the tollgate of the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge last night.

State police at Rhinebeck Barracks were alerted by Patrolman Anderson of Rhinebeck that a car bearing Ohio plates had sped through the village knocking down several flower pots and going through red lights, apparently heading for the bridge. The troopers called the tollgate and men on duty there halted a car containing Jose Felicano and James Thompson, both of Cleveland.

Troopers Colberg and Cobey of the Rhinebeck Barracks were quickly on the scene and subsequent investigation disclosed the car had been stolen two days ago in Dayton, Ohio. The boys were taken before Justice of the Peace William Pollard of Rhinebeck and held for further investigation.

Catskill Driver Backs Into Truck, Issued Summons

A Catskill man was treated and released from Kingston Hospital this morning following a mishap at the toll booth of Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge in which he backed his pick-up truck into a tractor-trailer, Kingston state police reported.

Walter Kendall Westcott, 39, driver of the pick-up truck, who complained of back injuries, was issued a summons by Trooper W. Wiedemann for backing unsafely. Wescott must appear before Town of Ulster Justice of the Peace Arthur Reilly at Lake Katrine Grange Hall Wednesday, Sept. 27.

The driver of the tractor trailer owned by Gilnack Trucking Company, Hyde Park, was Paul Everett Joslin, 35, of Oneonta, who was reported uninjured.

Trooper Wiedmann said Westcott drove his 1961 pick-up truck into the wrong stall at the toll booth and was told by the collector to back out and come into the correct stall designated by the green traffic signal. Westcott started to back out when the rear end of the pick up was in collision with the rear dual wheels of the tractor trailer, state police reported. The mishap occurred at 5:50 a. m.

Tank Explodes, Three Men Hurt, Contained Oxygen

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Three men were in satisfactory condition in University Hospital today after being injured when an oxygen tank exploded at the New Process Gear Division of Chrysler Corp.

A fourth man, Arthur Madison, 50, of Syracuse, was treated at the hospital and sent home.

Hospitalized were James Look, 28, of Weedsport; Edward Antclak, 28, and Thomas Hannon, 61, both of Syracuse.

The tank exploded Wednesday night when the men were about to attach it to a heat-treating machine at the plant in suburban DeWitt.

Men Killed in Crash

MAYVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — Two men were killed and three others were injured Wednesday night in a two-car collision on Route 424, five miles north of this Chautauqua County village.

The dead men were:

Richard A. Hall, 28, of nearby DeWittville, and George Iteen, 70, of Forestville.

Harrel Sentence Set Sept. 29th, Other Court Cases

Moses Harrel, charged with third degree burglary, unlawful entry and attempted grand larceny, arising out of an alleged entrance to the Grand Union market at New Paltz, entered a plea of guilty to third degree burglary before County Judge Raymond J. Mino in County Court. Charles Saccoman, attorney for defendant, asked for postponement of sentence. Judge Mino set September 29. Robert Hendrickson Jr., also indicted for the same offense, already had taken a plea of guilty and is serving a 2½ to 5 year term in prison.

Frederick Vaughn, charged with burglary in the third degree, unlawful entry and first degree grand larceny for an alleged entrance to the Davenport Feed Store on June 18, 1960, entered a plea of guilty to petit larceny and was given a year suspended sentence in jail. He was placed on probation for the maximum period of time. Louis DiDonna appeared for Vaughn.

A jury was completed for trial of the Hugh Mulligan case. Defendant is charged with first degree grand larceny committed at the Numeric Arms Corporation, West Hurley, where he was employed. The indictment alleges he took gun parts to a value of over $500 from May 6, 1960 to October 13, 1960. G. Thomas Rea appears for defendant. Trial was scheduled to be resumed at 1:30 p. m. to which court recessed after other jurors had been excused until Monday at 10 a. m.

Post Office Is

Postmaster Oscar V. Newkirk on Oct. 3, 1958, replacing Thomas L. Gorham who retired Sept. 30, 1958 after more than 40 years of service with the post office department.

1958 Last Move

The Rondout branch of the local postal system operated for more than 30 years at 3 West Strand. The building was known many years ago as the Mansion House, once a busy hotel in the more active days of the Rondout waterfront area.

The branch post office moved to 44 Broadway on April 15, 1958 and has since been located in the building owned by Leo Salutsky of Queens Village.

Reds Slowing Campaign to Clear Border

BERLIN (AP) — The Communists appeared to be moving slowly today in their campaign to clear residents from a strip along the wall dividing Berlin.

Moving vans failed to turn up along the city's 25-mile border, after more than 250 people were moved out of their apartments Wednesday by the Communists.

Neues Deutschland, central organ of the East German Communist party, said that moving vans would be in evidence all over East Berlin during the next weeks and months.

"Happy tenants will be moving into their new homes," the paper said. It claimed that during the first eight months of this year, 5,000 new apartments had been built in East Berlin.

Billboard Blown Loose in Po'kip, 2 Persons Hurt

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y. A(P) —Winds from Hurricane Esther blew a billboard off a three-story building and sent it sailing into the city's main intersection today.

Although the intersection of Main and Market Streets was crowded at the time, only two persons were injured — neither seriously.

The collapse of the 15 by 30-foot sign ripped down power lines and tied up traffic for 30 minutes. Fragments of the billboard were sent flying in all directions after it hit the ground.

The oldest public building in the state of Nebraska is the courthouse in Nebraska City.

Community Chest Film at Rotary

A film graphically depicting some of the essential work of the Ulster County Community Chest and the activities of its member agencies was shown for members of the Kingston Rotary Club at its luncheon-meeting Wednesday.

Preceding the film, Norman L. McLeod explained that the goal of $177,000 this year, an increase over last year's, was due to the addition of two new agencies and the expansion of area coverage. The two new health agencies are Cerebral Palsy and Gateway Industries. The expansion of the Ulster County Chest now includes the area of New Paltz and Rosendale and Saugerties.

Because of the wider scope of the Ulster County Chest, he asked Rotarians for greater participation this year. He also asked cooperation in organizing group support such as payroll deduction.

George Swart, general contractor, was welcomed into the club by President Grover.

matter of Fact

Sept. 15 is the Central American "Fourth of July." In Guatemala City a "declaration of independence" from Spain was issued on that date in 1821. The Latin founding fathers set up a republic called the United States of Central America. Some stormy years passed. In 1839, the squabbling states broke up into the present-day countries of Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras, and Nicaragua. But they all still wave their various flags on the same Independence Day.

Community Chest Film at Rotary

A film graphically depicting some of the essential work of the Ulster County Community Chest and the activities of its member agencies was shown for members of the Kingston Rotary Club at its luncheon-meeting Wednesday.

Preceding the film, Norman L. McLeod explained that the goal of $177,000 this year, an increase over last year's, was due to the addition of two new agencies and the expansion of area coverage. The two new health agencies are Cerebral Palsy and Gateway Industries. The expansion of the Ulster County Chest now includes the area of New Paltz and Rosendale and Saugerties.

Because of the wider scope of the Ulster County Chest, he asked Rotarians for greater participation this year. He also asked cooperation in organizing group support such as payroll deduction.

George Swart, general contractor, was welcomed into the club by President Grover.

matter of Fact

Sept. 15 is the Central American "Fourth of July." In Guatemala City a "declaration of independence" from Spain was issued on that date in 1821. The Latin founding fathers set up a republic called the United States of Central America. Some stormy years passed. In 1839, the squabbling states broke up into the present-day countries of Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras, and Nicaragua. But they all still wave their various flags on the same Independence Day.

Kinzua Plan Is Called Best for Water Resources

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kinzua Dam is the best plan presented for the development of water resources in the Allegheny River Basin, a Senate committee reports.

The Senate Appropriations Committee recommended appropriation of $15 million for construction of the controversial dam on the Allegheny River in Pennsylvania.

President Kennedy had asked and the House has approved $15 million for the project.

The committee, in a report on the public works appropriation bill Wednesday, said however it was deeply concerned "that the Seneca Indian Nation be given the utmost consideration."

The dam, though in Pennsylvania, will flood portions of the Seneca reservation in Southwestern New York. The indian nation has fought bitterly against construction of the dam.

The committee urged that "all possibilities be explored for the amelioration of the difficulties and hardships which the construction of the reservoir will impose" on the Senecas.

The committee noted that President Kennedy recently wrote the Seneca Nation, informing the leaders he had directed federal departments and agencies to take every action within their authority to assist Senecas who must relocate.

In other action, the committee added 17 new construction starts to the 57 voted by the House for the Army Engineers and 15 more projects to the House-approved bill.

It also voted increases totaling $13,472,000 in budgeted items for 17 projects in the flood control and navigation program.

In all, the committee recommended that the Senate appropriate $735,923,880, an increase of $54,878,000 over the House allotment.

None of the changes, however, affected New York State projects.

Among the suggestions the President made involving the Senecas was the possibility of the federal government securing a tract of land suitable for tribal purposes and uses contiguous to the remaining Seneca land and exchanging it for the area to be flooded.

Retired Educator Will Advise State On N. Y. Changes

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Dar. Mark C. Schinnerer, retired Cleveland superintendent of schools, today was appointed the state's representative in the New York City school reorganization.

He will report to the State Education Commissioner and the State Board of Regents on any permanent changes in the state laws he feels are needed for more effective administration of the city's giant school system.

The Regents and education commissioner must submit their recommendations to the Legislature by Feb. 1.

Commissioner James E. Allen Jr., said Schinnerer would begin work next Tuesday for a three-month term. He will be paid $2,500 a month.

Schinnerer will work closely with the new city board of education that took office at midnight, Allen said.

The nine-member board was appointed by Mayor Robert F. Wagner from a list of 25 candidates proposed by a nominating panel.

Under the law that set up the panel, the education department is to make recommendations to the Legislature to ensure the freedom of the city board of education, revitalization of the local school board system in the city and effective participation of the people in their schools.

Police Probing Fire Started Outside Building

City detectives and fire officials today investigated a fire which Wednesday night extensively damaged a 1½-story building owned by the West Shore Division of the New York Central Railroad at 36 O'Neil Street.

Police said the investigation was requested by Fire Chief James M. Brett. Detectives William Slover and Albert Hutton Jr., were assigned to the case.

Patrolman Thomas Carpino Jr. was on patrol shortly before 9:45 p. m. when he discovered fire burning on the outside of the building near a doorway on the south side. He sounded the alarm and Engines 1 and 2, Trucks 1 and 2 and Wicks Salvage Truck responded in command of Chief Brett and Deputy Chief Edwin Murphy.

The building is situated near the Zwick & Schwartz wholesale fruit and produce property between Cornell and O'Neil Streets.

Firemen removed 10 feet of siding and flooring on the upper floor of the building to check spread of the flames. Authorities said the front and rear doors were secured with snap locks.

Lester Strickland, railroad signal inspector, and R. H. Whalen of the Central's signal division were notified about the fire and both went to the scene.

Fire officials said Strickland told authorities he was in the building between 7:30 and 8 p. m. and at that time there was no sign of the fire.

The flames burned up the outer wall of the building to the second floor before the fire was extinguished firemen said.

Investigation is being conducted in an effort to determine the cause of the fire, which evidently started outside the building near a locked door.

College Night Program Slated At Ellenville HS

At a meeting of the Ulster County Guidance Counselors' Association at Ellenville High School, September 19 attended by counselors from Rondout Valley Central School, Onteora Central School, Ellenville High School, Wallkill Central School, Marlboro Central School, Highland High School, New Paltz Central School, and Saugerties High School. Plans were made for the Ulster County College Night Program to be held at Ellenville High School Tuesday, Oct. 10 at 7:30 p. m.

Sophomores, juniors and seniors in the Ulster County high schools and their parents may attend the program. It is expected that representatives of approximately 45 two-year colleges, four-year colleges, institutes, business schools and special schools will be present at the college night program to provide information about their schools.

The program has been planned so that during the evening one will have an opportunity to hear representatives from three different advanced educational institutions. Arrangements to attend the program may be made with the guidance counselor of any of the schools participating.

At the business meeting presided over by William Diedrich, president of the association and counselor at Wallkill Central School, plans were made to hold the next meeting of the association Oct. 24 at Saugerties High School. James R. Spence of the office of admissions, State University of New York, will be the guest speaker at the meeting.

Parachute Jumper Acquitted for Lack of Evidence

A teenaged parachute jumper arrested by state police, Sept. 10 after a parachute jump in Florida, N. Y., was acquitted Wednesday in Goshen.

Joseph Mausser, 18, of the Florida Cloud-Hoppers Club made a test jump after state police had said they would arrest anyone caught parachute jumping on Sunday, charging it was an exhibition and among the activities banned by the law against business on Sunday.

Justice of Police John Meehan of Goshen in freeing Mausser declared there wasn's sufficient evidence to find the youth guilty. Mausser told the court the jumping was purely for sport; that no admission fee was charged, nor was the jumping advertised.

The police action stemmed from the death of an army officer in a parachute jump at Florida on Sunday, Sept. 3.

ALBANY — State Comptroller Arthur Levitt announced today the publication of the 1961 edition of the handbook State Aid to Local Government.

This descriptive booklet presents information regarding each type of the 71 forms of state aid payable to local government, a brief description of each program, the statutory authorization, the method of apportionment, the amount distributed during the past fiscal year, and, where available, the trend in payments from the inception of the program to the present. All changes in state aid programs affected by the 1961 Legislature have been included in this edition.

Among the programs included are those relative to highway, welfare, health, mental hygiene and public works. Thirty-three formulae for state aid to education are described.

This 86-page technical publication is available and may obtained by writing to the Division of Municipal Affairs, New York State Department of Audit and Control, Albany.

JFK's Children Taken to Otis Due to Esther

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—President Kennedy's 3½-year-old daughter Caroline and 10-month-old son John Jr., were removed from their Cape Cod summer home today for protection from Hurricane Esther.

They were taken to Otis Air Force Base at Falmouth, 18 miles from Hyannis Port. With them in a five-car caravan went all persons at the "Kennedy compound," including six cousins.

They made the trip by automobile at 6 a.m., the White House said, at the request of the Secret Service which is responsible for the protection of the President's family.

In addition to the President's children, those at Hyannis Port were the two children of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Smith; three of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lawford; and one of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kennedy.

None of the parents was with them at Hyannis Port, the White House said, but the President's father, Joseph P. Kennedy, was there.

The White House said the children were being cared for at a Strategic Air Command installation at the base, 18 miles from Hyannis Port.

Police Probing Fire Started Outside Building

City detectives and fire officials today investigated a fire which Wednesday night extensively damaged a 1½-story building owned by the West Shore Division of the New York Central Railroad at 36 O'Neil Street.

Police said the investigation was requested by Fire Chief James M. Brett. Detectives William Slover and Albert Hutton Jr., were assigned to the case.

Patrolman Thomas Carpino Jr. was on patrol shortly before 9:45 p. m. when he discovered fire burning on the outside of the building near a doorway on the south side. He sounded the alarm and Engines 1 and 2, Trucks 1 and 2 and Wicks Salvage Truck responded in command of Chief Brett and Deputy Chief Edwin Murphy.

The building is situated near the Zwick & Schwartz wholesale fruit and produce property between Cornell and O'Neil Streets.

Firemen removed 10 feet of siding and flooring on the upper floor of the building to check spread of the flames. Authorities said the front and rear doors were secured with snap locks.

Lester Strickland, railroad signal inspector, and R. H. Whalen of the Central's signal division were notified about the fire and both went to the scene.

Fire officials said Strickland told authorities he was in the building between 7:30 and 8 p. m. and at that time there was no sign of the fire.

The flames burned up the outer wall of the building to the second floor before the fire was extinguished firemen said.

Investigation is being conducted in an effort to determine the cause of the fire, which evidently started outside the building near a locked door.

College Night Program Slated At Ellenville HS

At a meeting of the Ulster County Guidance Counselors' Association at Ellenville High School, September 19 attended by counselors from Rondout Valley Central School, Onteora Central School, Ellenville High School, Wallkill Central School, Marlboro Central School, Highland High School, New Paltz Central School, and Saugerties High School. Plans were made for the Ulster County College Night Program to be held at Ellenville High School Tuesday, Oct. 10 at 7:30 p. m.

Sophomores, juniors and seniors in the Ulster County high schools and their parents may attend the program. It is expected that representatives of approximately 45 two-year colleges, four-year colleges, institutes, business schools and special schools will be present at the college night program to provide information about their schools.

The program has been planned so that during the evening one will have an opportunity to hear representatives from three different advanced educational institutions. Arrangements to attend the program may be made with the guidance counselor of any of the schools participating.

At the business meeting presided over by William Diedrich, president of the association and counselor at Wallkill Central School, plans were made to hold the next meeting of the association Oct. 24 at Saugerties High School. James R. Spence of the office of admissions, State University of New York, will be the guest speaker at the meeting.

Parachute Jumper Acquitted for Lack of Evidence

A teenaged parachute jumper arrested by state police, Sept. 10 after a parachute jump in Florida, N. Y., was acquitted Wednesday in Goshen.

Joseph Mausser, 18, of the Florida Cloud-Hoppers Club made a test jump after state police had said they would arrest anyone caught parachute jumping on Sunday, charging it was an exhibition and among the activities banned by the law against business on Sunday.

Justice of Police John Meehan of Goshen in freeing Mausser declared there wasn's sufficient evidence to find the youth guilty. Mausser told the court the jumping was purely for sport; that no admission fee was charged, nor was the jumping advertised.

The police action stemmed from the death of an army officer in a parachute jump at Florida on Sunday, Sept. 3.

Lenox Quartet Will Give Concert At Vassar College

The Lenox Quartet will give a concert on Wednesday, Sept. 27, at 8:30 p. m. in Skinner Recital Hall, Vassar College. The program will consist of three works, each representing a different era of music: Quartet in C major, K. 465 (Dissonant) by Mozart, Quartet, No. 2 by Elliott Carter, and Quartet in F major, op. 96 (American) by Antonin Dvorak.

The group was formed four years ago when the members met at Tanglewood, where they were subsidized chiefly to read and perform contemporary works. All four members of the Lenox Quartet are also members of the Pittsburgh Symphony. They are Peter Marsha, violin, Theodora Mantz, violin, Paul Hersch, viola, and Donald McCall, cello.

In December, 1960, the Quartet played at the Carnegie Hall where it won great acclaim for its interpretations of modern chamber music as well as classic quartets. The New York Times heralded it as " . . . one of the finest string quartets this country has yet produced."

Area Residents Attending Vassar

Vassar College opened its second century this month at convocation ceremonies attended by 1,493 students. This is the largest enrollment in the history of the college, which was founded in 1861. Included in the total are 434 freshmen from 40 states and nine foreign countries which are Brazil, Denmark, Germany, India, Israel, Jamaica, Switzerland, Taiwan and Thailand.

Among the freshmen are Jennifer C. Baswick, Krumville, Irene Berkey, Kerhonkson, and Edith Borchardt, Kingston. Also in the freshmen class are 50 with alumnae mothers, 11 whose grandmothers attended Vassar and three with alumnae great-grandmothers.

Slated to Speak Before GOP Women On Supervisors

KENNETH L. WILSON

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, county chairman of the Republican committee, will be the featured speaker at the first meeting of the season of the Ulster County Women's Republican Club. The meeting will be held Thursday, tonight, at 8 p. m. at the Governor Clinton Hotel. The speaker's topic will be "Importance of Our Board of Supervisors."

The women's group met Tuesday evening at the Court House for the first School of Politics. The instructors for the evening were Howard C. St. John, city chairman, and Jesse McHugh, county vice-chairman. Mrs. Ward Tongue is the chairman of the school of Politics for the Women's Republican Club.

Mrs. Raymond Le Fever, president, Ulster County Women's Republican Club, has announced that the Ulster County Campaign Headquarters will open October 1 through November 7. Anyone who wishes to volunteer to assist at the headquarters may contact the chairman, Mrs. Ward Tongue.

House Tour Sunday Includes Historic Area Landmarks

One of the many rooms open to guests on the autumn house tour scheduled for Sunday by the Women's Guild of the Old Dutch Church will be the lovely Federal dining room at the Fred Johnston home, 63 Main Street, Kingston. The Waterford chandelier, Sheraton-Hepplewhite furniture, and eighteenth century rug will make this an outstanding part of the tour.

The second house on the tour will be that of Mrs. Appleton Gregory, 7 Green Street. It is an old stone house with graceful interior and a below street level garden. The home of the Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Oudemool dates back to 1749. An authentic Delft tile fireplace, antique furniture and china lend to the charm of the house. At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard St. John, 27 Burgevin Street will be found a display of hand hooked rugs created by Mrs. A. J. Bushnell. "The Knoll" in Hurley is a new house owned by Mr. and Mrs. Roger H. Loughran. The antique furniture and bric-a-brac are set in the atmosphere of the traditional design of the structure. The Captain Newkirk House, built in 1750, is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. MacKinnon. Among the many items of interest will be found a display of ironstone. Refreshments will be served at Vauxhall, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward deGroff.

Table settings in keeping with the period will be found in three of the homes. The tour begins at 2 p. m. and will continue until 6 p. m. Tickets may be obtained at any of the homes. Hosts and hostesses will be on hand at each of the homes. Additional information may be obtained from Mrs. Herbert Johnson or Mrs. Karl Pitcock, both of this city.

Nettle-Kelder Wedding Is Announced; Ceremony Takes Place at St. Mary's Church

MR. AND MRS. GERARD J. KELDER
(Photo Workshop)

On Sunday, Sept. 17 at 2 p. m. in St. Mary's Church, this city, Miss Kathleen Marie Nettle exchanged marriage vows with Gerard Joseph Kelder Jr. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Thomas Nettle of 34 Hunter Street, this city, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Joseph Kelder Sr., of 102 Spring Street, also this city.

Officiating during the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Edward I. Farrelly. A special blessing was received from the bride's cousin, His Excellency Robert E. Lucey, Archbishop of San Antonio, Texas.

At the organ was Theodore Riccobono and Martin Kelly, soloist, sang "Panis Angelicus," "Ave Maria," and "Mother Beloved."

The church was decorated with vases of white gladioli and pompons. Pews were marked with white satin ribbon.

Mr. Nettle gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of silk miramist taffeta fashioned with a fitted bodice, bracelet length sleeves and a scooped neckline outlined with appliques of hand clipped Alencon lace motifs. The bouffant skirt was aisle wide and featured a circular hemline. The bridal crown of imported pearlized blossoms and buds secured the bouffant veil of English illusion. She carried a lace covered prayer book with a white orchid, stephanotis and showers of satin ribbon.

Mrs. Mary Anne Hainer of Kingston was matron of honor for her sister. Also attending the bride was Mrs. Marlene Crantz, the bridegroom's sister. Both wore gowns of mauve rose peau de soie fashioned with molded bodices, abbreviated sleeves and scooped necklines. The dome shaped short skirts were draped into a flat front bow detail. They also wore pillbox type headpieces with matching tulle flirtation veils. The honor attendant carried a cascade of white carnations with pink tips and shocking pink feathers. The attendant carried a cascade of white carnations.

Darlene Crantz, the bridegroom's niece, was the flower girl in a gown styled similarly to that worn by the attendants. She carried a basket of dark pink carnations and pompons.

Fred Crantz of 102 Spring Street was best man for his brother-in-law. Ushering were Francis Tomaseski of Elmendorf Street, and Thomas Freer of Esopus, the bridegroom's cousin.

Guests were received at a reception given at the Tropical Inn in Port Ewen.

Mrs. Kelder was graduated from St. Mary's School and Kingston High School. She is employed by the Rondout National Bank. Her husband is an alumnus of Kingston High School and is employed by the U. S. Royal Tire Company in Kingston.

For her wedding trip, the bride wore a gray tweed knit dress with matching jacket and black accessories. She also wore a white orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelder Jr. will make their home in Kingston.

House Tour Sunday Includes Historic Area Landmarks

One of the many rooms open to guests on the autumn house tour scheduled for Sunday by the Women's Guild of the Old Dutch Church will be the lovely Federal dining room at the Fred Johnston home, 63 Main Street, Kingston. The Waterford chandelier, Sheraton-Hepplewhite furniture, and eighteenth century rug will make this an outstanding part of the tour.

The second house on the tour will be that of Mrs. Appleton Gregory, 7 Green Street. It is an old stone house with graceful interior and a below street level garden. The home of the Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Oudemool dates back to 1749. An authentic Delft tile fireplace, antique furniture and china lend to the charm of the house. At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard St. John, 27 Burgevin Street will be found a display of hand hooked rugs created by Mrs. A. J. Bushnell, "The Knoll" in Hurley is a new house owned by Mr. and Mrs. Roger H. Loughran. The antique furniture and bric-a-brac are set in the atmosphere of the traditional design of the structure. The Captain Newkirk House, built in 1750, is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. MacKinnon. Among the many items of interest will be found a display of ironstone. Refreshments will be served at Vauxhall, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward deGroff.

Table settings in keeping with the period will be found in three of the homes. The tour begins at 2 p. m. and will continue until 6 p. m. Tickets may be obtained at any of the homes. Hosts and hostesses will be on hand at each of the homes. Additional information may be obtained from Mrs. Herbert Johnson or Mrs. Karl Pitcock, both of this city.

Nettle-Kelder Wedding Is Announced; Ceremony Takes Place at St. Mary's Church

(Photo Workshop)

On Sunday, Sept. 17 at 2 p. m. in St. Mary's Church, this city, Miss Kathleen Marie Nettle exchanged marriage vows with Gerard Joseph Kelder Jr. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Thomas Nettle of 34 Hunter Street, this city, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Joseph Kelder Sr., of 102 Spring Street, also this city.

Officiating during the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Edward I. Farrelly. A special blessing was received from the bride's cousin, His Excellency Robert E. Lucey, Archbishop of San Antonio, Texas.

At the organ was Theodore Riccobono and Martin Kelly, soloist, sang "Panis Angelicus," "Ave Maria," and "Mother Beloved."

The church was decorated with vases of white gladioli and pompons. Pews were marked with white satin ribbon.

Mr. Nettle gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of silk miramist taffeta fashioned with a fitted bodice, bracelet length sleeves and a scooped neckline outlined with appliques of hand clipped Alencon lace motifs. The bouffant skirt was aisle wide and featured a circular hemline. The bridal crown of imported pearlized blossoms and buds secured the bouffant veil of English illusion. She carried a lace covered prayer book with a white orchid, stephanotis and showers of satin ribbon.

Mrs. Mary Anne Hainer of Kingston was matron of honor for her sister. Also attending the bride was Mrs. Marlene Crantz, the bridegroom's sister. Both wore gowns of mauve rose peau de soie fashioned with molded bodices, abbreviated sleeves and scooped necklines. The dome shaped short skirts were draped into a flat front bow detail. They also wore pillbox type headpieces with matching tulle flirtation veils. The honor attendant carried a cascade of white carnations with pink tips and shocking pink feathers. The attendant carried a cascade of white carnations.

Darlene Crantz, the bridegroom's niece, was the flower girl in a gown styled similarly to that worn by the attendants. She carried a basket of dark pink carnations and pompons.

Fred Crantz of 102 Spring Street was best man for his brother-in-law. Ushering were Francis Tomaseski of Elmendorf Street, and Thomas Freer of Esopus, the bridegroom's cousin.

Guests were received at a reception given at the Tropical Inn in Port Ewen.

Mrs. Kelder was graduated from St. Mary's School and Kingston High School. She is employed by the Rondout National Bank. Her husband is an alumnus of Kingston High School and is employed by the U. S. Royal Tire Company in Kingston.

For her wedding trip, the bride wore a gray tweed knit dress with matching jacket and black accessories. She also wore a white orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelder Jr. will make their home in Kingston.

Elizabeth Hudela Weds Albert Novak Jr. At Immaculate Conception; Holds Title

MR. AND MRS. ALBERT A. NOVAK JR.
(Photo Workshop)

Miss Elizabeth Marie Hudela, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph John Hudela of 389 Delaware Avenue, exchanged nuptial vows with Albert Andrew Novak Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert A. Novak Sr., of Pittsburgh, Pa., on Sunday, Sept. 17, at a 1:30 p. m. ceremony in Immaculate Conception Church, this city.

Officiating during the double ring ceremony was the pastor, the Rev. Joseph J. Sieczek. Selections sung by John Markett included "Veni Creator," "Ave Maria," and "Veni Jesu."

White gladioli and Fuji mums decorated the church for the occasion and the pews were marked with white satin bows.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of embossed satin brocade fashioned with a molded bodice, long tapered sleeves and a baroque neckline. The aisle wide bouffant skirt, which featured a pointed peplum, was chapel length. A bridal cap of tiny silken roses held the wide English illusion veil. The bride carried a cascade of white chrysanthemums with stephanotis and ivy.

Miss Marianne Novak of Pittsburgh, Pa., the bridegroom's sister, served as maid of honor. She wore a gown of white peau de soie styled with a circlet neckline, mid-length sleeves, and a short bell shaped skirt. The matching plateau headpiece held a tulle veil in autumn gold and she also wore gold shoes. Her crescent shaped bouquet consisted of yellow Fuji mums, bronze pompons and autumn berries.

The bridesmaids wore gowns identical in style to that of the honor attendant's except for rust colored accessories. Serving as bridesmaids were Phyllis Madajewski, 63 Marys Avenue; Frances Mooney of 423 Delaware Avenue, the bride's cousin; and Denise Hudela, 198 Washington Avenue, another cousin of the bride. All carried crescent shaped bouquets of bronze Fuji mums and yellow pompons.

The bridegroom's godchild, Valerie West, served as flower girl in a short white frock. She wore a wreath of tiny silk flowers in her hair and carried a miniature fireside basket of yellow and white pompons, sweetheart roses and ivy.

The bride's mother wore a cordial brown dress of pure silk brocade. Her accessories matched the blended tones of rose beige in the velvet leaves that were fastened to her silk brocade pillbox hat. She had a corsage of rose pink cymbidium orchids.

The bridegroom's mother wore a princess blue dress of silk with a lace bodice and matching blue silk jacket. Her accessories were also princess blue and she wore a corsage of white orchids.

Best man was Steve Stoffan of Pittsburgh, Pa. Ushering were the bride's cousin Thomas Mooney of Kingston, George Hoffman and John Robic of Pittsburgh.

A reception was given in the White Eagle Hall on Delaware Avenue for approximately 325 guests. A post-nuptial reception will also be given for the bride and bridegroom in Pittsburgh, Pa., on Saturday, Sept. 23.

The bride was graduated from Kingston High School and Alliance College, Cambridge Springs, Pa. During her senior year she won the title of "Campus Cover Girl of 1961." The contest was sponsored by the Pittsburgh Press and finalists were chosen after thousands of co-eds at 31 universities and colleges had been screened. She was featured in the April 30 issue of the Sunday Roto published by the Pittsburgh Press.

The bridegroom is an alumnus of North Catholic High School, Alliance College and the Pittsburgh Institute of Mortuary Science. While at Alliance he was president of the Student Council and a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity.

For her wedding trip, the bride wore a white wool sheath dress with black accessories and a tailored corsage of yellow and bronze pompons.

Mr. and Mrs. Novak will reside in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Ladies Aid Plans Combined Program

At a recent meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of the Ponckhockie Congregational Church, the group decided to sponsor a fair in conjunction with their annual fall dinner.

The fair and ham supper has been scheduled for Election Day, Nov. 7. Dinner will be served starting at 12 o'cock until 2 p. m. Supper will be served from 5 p. m. until all are served.

Public is cordially invited to attend. Tickets will be available from members of the society and at the door the day of the event.

Smithsonian Loan Exhibit at IBM Country Club

The Dutchess County Art Association of Poughkeepsie is sponsoring an exhibition of Arctic and sub-Arctic paintings to be held at the IBM Country Club, South Road, Poughkeepsie, from September 24 to October 9.

The paintings are on loan from the National Collection of Fine Arts of the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D. C., and are the work of one of the world's best known arctic painters, Emile Walters of Poughkeepsie.

The paintings present a panorama of the historical sites of the earliest discoveries in this hemisphere by Lief Ericsson. The work was done on special grants from the government of Iceland, the U. S. State Department and the Scandinavian Foundation.

Featured with the Vinland Saga, which is divided into the Iceland and Greenland Chapters, will be 17 paintings of the Dutchess County-Hudson Valley area.

Mr. Walters grew up in North Dakota, where he developed his abiding interest in Norse Sagas and the northern wilderness. In 1929 he made his first trip to paint the stark and unusual scenery of the Arctic and sub-Arctic regions. The artist's work is represented in museums around the world, as well as in private collections.

The IBM Country Club Gallery is open to the public from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m.

St. Peter's Church Is Scene of Wedding For Carol Hoffman to Thomas Joseph Ham

MR. AND MRS. THOMAS J. HAM
(Photo Workshop)

Miss Carol Ann Hoffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Arthur Hoffman of 68 German Street, this city, wed Thomas Joseph Ham, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ham of High Falls, on Saturday, Sept. 16 at a 2 p. m. ceremony in St. Peter's Church, this city. Officiating clergyman was the Rev. John Murray, assistant pastor.

Miss Nan Goldrick was organist and Richard Scherer was the soloist.

Pedestal baskets of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and white pompons decorated the church. The pews were marked with white satin ribbon.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white Italian silk and Chantilly lace. It was styled with Sabrina neckline outlined with iridescents and pearls. The long sleeves were tapered and the chapel length bouffant hooped skirt was designed in three tiers, each scalloped with lace. A lace and jeweled crown was attached to an imported silk illusion veil. The bride carried a lace covered white missal with rubrum lilies showered with stephanotis.

Mrs. John Bouck of 45 Harwich Street was matron of honor for her sister. She wore a full length gown of emerald green taffeta styled with a mint green cummerbund and tiers cascading down the back. Her hat was of mint green roses with a flirtation veil. She carried a fireside basket of yellow roses, snapdragons, carnations, pompons and ivy.

Serving as attendants were Helene Schatzel, the bride's cousin, and Mrs. Robert Van Wagenen, another cousin. Their gowns of mint green with emerald colored cummerbunds were identical in style to that worn by the honor attendant. They carried fireside baskets of yellow roses, snapdragons, carnations, pompons and ivy.

A junior bridesmaid and sister of the bridegroom, Deborah Ham of High Falls, was the junior bridesmaid. She wore a long gown of yellow silk styled with a very full tiered skirt and a matching crown. She carried roses, pompons and ivy in a miniature basket.

John Bouck of Kingston was best man. He is the bride's brother-in-law. Ushers were Robert Anderson of High Falls, Robert Van Wagenen of 11 Russell Street, the bride's cousin.

John Steven Bouck Jr., the bride's nephew, was the child ringbearer.

Approximately 135 guests were entertained at a reception given at Sportsmen's Park in Rosendale.

A graduate of Academy of St. Ursula, the bride is employed by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. Her husband, an alumnus of Kingston High School, is employed by Yonker's Construction Company.

For her wedding trip to Virginia, the bride wore a two piece orchid suit with black accessories and a corsage of white rubrum lilies.

Mr. and Mrs. Ham will be at home at 54 Andrew Street, this city, when they return.

Square Dancing Will Begin on Tuesday At Kingston YMCA

The Kingston YMCA will begin the first of a series of modern square dances on Tuesday, Sept. 26 at 8 p. m.

The YMCA program committee, along with Louis H. Schafer, general secretary, is making plans to accommodate a capacity attendance.

Square dancing has become very popular in many areas surrounding Kingston, according to Mr. Schafer. He also states that modern square dancing should not be mistaken for the old fashioned barn dance or the clogging routine as seen on television. It is danced to modern music which is entirely new and can be easily learned and enjoyed by all ages.

Detailed information about the classes may be obtained at the YMCA, a member agency of the Ulster County Community Chest Agencies.

Miss Carol Ann Hoffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Arthur Hoffman of 68 German Street, this city, wed Thomas Joseph Ham, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ham of High Falls, on Saturday, Sept. 16 at a 2 p. m. ceremony in St. Peter's Church, this city. Officiating clergyman was the Rev. John Murray, assistant pastor.

Miss Nan Goldrick was organist and Richard Scherer was the soloist.

Pedestal baskets of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and white pompons decorated the church. The pews were marked with white satin ribbon.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white Italian silk and Chantilly lace. It was styled with Sabrina neckline outlined with iridescents and pearls. The long sleeves were tapered and the chapel length bouffant hooped skirt was designed in three tiers, each scalloped with lace. A lace and jeweled crown was attached to an imported silk illusion veil. The bride carried a lace covered white missal with rubrum lilies showered with stephanotis.

Mrs. John Bouck of 45 Harwich Street was matron of honor for her sister. She wore a full length gown of emerald green taffeta styled with a mint green cummerbund and tiers cascading down the back. Her hat was of mint green roses with a flirtation veil. She carried a fireside basket of yellow roses, snapdragons, carnations, pompons and ivy.

Serving as attendants were Helene Schatzel, the bride's cousin, and Mrs. Robert Van Wagenen, another cousin. Their gowns of mint green with emerald colored cummerbunds were identical in style to that worn by the honor attendant. They carried fireside baskets of yellow roses, snapdragons, carnations, pompons and ivy.

A junior bridesmaid and sister of the bridegroom, Deborah Ham of High Falls, was the junior bridesmaid. She wore a long gown of yellow silk styled with a very full tiered skirt and a matching crown. She carried roses, pompons and ivy in a miniature basket.

John Bouck of Kingston was best man. He is the bride's brother-in-law. Ushers were Robert Anderson of High Falls, Robert Van Wagenen of 11 Russell Street, the bride's cousin.

John Steven Bouck Jr., the bride's nephew, was the child ringbearer.

Approximately 135 guests were entertained at a reception given at Sportsmen's Park in Rosendale.

A graduate of Academy of St. Ursula, the bride is employed by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. Her husband, an alumnus of Kingston High School, is employed by Yonker's Construction Company.

For her wedding trip to Virginia, the bride wore a two piece orchid suit with black accessories and a corsage of white rubrum lilies.

Mr. and Mrs. Ham will be at home at 54 Andrew Street, this city, when they return.

Square Dancing Will Begin on Tuesday At Kingston YMCA

The Kingston YMCA will begin the first of a series of modern square dances on Tuesday, Sept. 26 at 8 p. m.

The YMCA program committee, along with Louis H. Schafer, general secretary, is making plans to accommodate a capacity attendance.

Square dancing has become very popular in many areas surrounding Kingston, according to Mr. Schafer. He also states that modern square dancing should not be mistaken for the old fashioned barn dance or the clogging routine as seen on television. It is danced to modern music which is entirely new and can be easily learned and enjoyed by all ages.

Detailed information about the classes may be obtained at the YMCA, a member agency of the Ulster County Community Chest Agencies.

City Library Adds Book on Founder Of Zionist Group

A biography of the late Henrietta Szold, founder of Hadassah, the women's Zionist organization, is available at the Kingston City Library.

The new book, "Women of Valor," by Irving Fineman, was donated by the Kingston Chapter of Hadassah. The biography was commissioned by Hadassah and published in honor of the centennial of Miss Szold's birth.

Daughter of a Baltimore rabbi, Miss Szold taught in the public schools there for many years. During a trip to Palestine in 1909, she was appalled at conditions in that disease-ridden land and in 1912 formed a small group of American women to aid the Zionist cause and to help raise the health standards in the Holy Land.

From that group of 12 women grew Hadassah, with its 319,000 members, and from the initial project, sending a nurse to Palestine, developed the vast network of medical and social welfare service maintained by Hadassah in Israel today.

Miss Szold and Hadassah entered another phase of their work in 1933 when German Jews begged her to save their youngsters, threatened by Hitler. The first group of German-Jewish children arrived in Haifa in February, 1934, as the first "Youth Aliyah." Miss Szold took personal charge of the endeavor, which has ministered to the needs of 100 thousand Jewish children from 72 lands. Hadassah is Youth's Aliyah's official agency in the U. S. and its largest single financial backer.

The Woman's Club of Rosendale would like to thank all those who helped make their auction a success.

Ethics for School Board Members Is Topic For Mid-Hudson Institute Meeting Sept. 27

"Ethics for School Board Members" will be the discussion topic for the first general meeting of the Mid-Hudson School Board Institute which is scheduled for Wednesday, Sept. 27, at the Nelson House in Poughkeepsie at 7:30 p. m.

Sponsored by the Mid-Hudson School Study Council, an organization composed of some 45 school systems in this area, schedules four meetings during the school year to discuss problems which are important to school board members, teachers, and administrators. Dr. William J. Hageny, Professor of Education at New Paltz, is executive secretary of the organization.

Speakers for the first Institute will be Merrill C. Phillips, a member of the New York State School Boards Committee on Ethics; Dr. E. Butler Jr., a member of the staff of the School of Education, University of Rochester; and Dr. Edward J. Nauss, Assistant Professor of Philosophy at the College of Education, New Paltz.

Other institutes scheduled for the school year and the topics to be discussed include: "How Should We Pay Our Teachers," November 8; "Building Schools for the New Teaching Techniques," March 14, 1962; and "The Central Purpose of American Education," April 11, 1962. These three meetings will be held at College of Education in New Paltz.

A fire has been smouldering in a coal mine near Wilkes Barre, Pa., for the past 75 years. The smoking area is called "Burning Mountain."

Wild flowers found on Mt. Washington in New Hampshire are closely related to those of northern Alaska, Labador and Greenland.

Artist Series of College of Education At New Paltz Will Open With Hamlet

Ten outstanding programs of some of the world's finest artists will be presented by the Artist Series of the State University College of Education, New Paltz, according to Robert C. Davidson, chairman of the Artist Series Committee.

Season tickets are now available in the College Bookstore.

The first program to be presented will be the Phoenix Theater's production of "Hamlet" which won outstanding critical acclaim last season. The presentation is scheduled at New Paltz on October 5-6.

An editorial in the New York Times said, "Whoever thinks that Shakespeare's not for reading, not for playing, ought to trot right down to the Proenix and see as vibrant and moving a 'Hamlet' as has ever been seen in our generation."

On December 14-15, the Turnau Opera Company, together with 26 members of the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Orchestra, will present "The Marriage of Figaro." During the last two years, the Turnau Opera Company has established a brilliant reputation for its superior productions.

Nathan Milstein, said to be one of the world's greatest violinists, will present a concert on the campus February 15-16, 1962. Critics insist Mr. Milstein is at the very top.

On March 29-30, 1962, the Dancemakers, a young and highly talented modern dance company will perform at New Paltz. The group is composed of five professional dancers from New England whose experience and talent are combined to make them a dynamic addition to their field.

Few concert artists are able to boast as wide ranging a repertoire as Adele Addison, the noted soprano, who will appear at the college on May 3-4. It contains some 20 operas, 60 orchestral oratorio and chamber works as well as recital repertoires characterized by more than 25 composers.

All Artist Series concerts this year will be presented on Thursday and Friday evenings. Mr. Davidson explained that the college has always taken pride in the caliber of artists it has enjoyed in the past and that this year's program is presented in the same tradition.

First stoneware in Ohio was manufactured at Zanesville in 1814.

SCHOLASTIC CORNER

By ED PALLADINO

One of the original members of the DUSO League's "old guard" will be missing when the football season begins and those who knew him mourn the death of Alvin E. Chase, the Port Jervis athletic director and a staunch figure in the DUSO League.

Chase died back in May after fighting a losing battle with cancer for several months. He had been in and out of the hospital several times before finally leaving this world. Though Al Chase is dead, his memory is with those who were his competitors because he was a great one himself.

THE 'OLD FOX'

We haven't been around long enough to see Al Chase during his days as a coach but we can just imagine him out there in the thick of things. A legend in the DUSO League, Chase was known as the "Old Fox" and he piloted Port Jervis football teams to great heights during his heyday as a coach.

Despite the fact that Port Jervis is the smallest school in the football league, teams coached by Chase won seven DUSO championships. The final one came in 1947 and it's ironic that the Raiders haven't won another one since.

In addition to football, Chase coached every sport at Port Jervis at one time or another during his career. He was athletic director at Port since he arrived in 1924 and he taught in the science department in addition to his coaching.

NOT ONLY SPORTS

Chase did not limit his interest to sports activities. He served the community of Port Jervis as an alderman on two different occasions. He was also an Alderman-At-Large before joining the Air Force during World War II.

He was discharged with the rank of Captain and served as an alderman for two terms more. Chase was also a member of the Port Jervis Elks Club and was its exalted ruler.

We are sure that Al Chase will not be forgotten. Men like him don't come along very often.

A LONG YEAR FOR HARVARD

This promises to be a long, rough year for Harvard coach John Yovicin. The Crimson coach not only lost most of his squad from 1960 via graduation but he must face his Ivy League foes this season without Hobie Armstrong in the lineup.

Armstrong, who terrorized DUSO League opponents during his days at Kingston High, didn't make the grades the Ivy League demands of its athletes and he's not eligible for football this year.

There's no doubt that Harvard was counting on Armstrong. Not less than half a dozen national football magazines had touted Hobie as one of the outstanding halfbacks in the East. He led his club in rushing yardage last year as a sophomore.

DIDN'T FAIL ANY

The ironic twist here is that Hobie didn't fail any subjects. He just had a couple of marks somewhat lower than the strict standards set by the university for its athletes. Hobie isn't taking a course which requires little or no homework and which enables him to get tutoring.

With Hobie sitting in the stands this season and hoping to perform again during his senior year, the Harvard team figures to be just an also-ran this time. There aren't runners like Armstrong around every day. They're just not plucked off the branch of a tree.

Is Second Player Ever to Hit 59

MARIS BID HD

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Roger Maris' relentless assault on Babe Ruth's hallowed home run record ended in defeat Wednesday night, but in no way could it be interpreted as a failure.

The left-handed slugger, battling against almost impossible odds, missed matching the immortal Bambino's 60 homers in a 154-game season by the narrowest of margins -just one.

Trailing by two home runs with just one more game remaining, playing in a park which had throttled him in all 26 previous efforts, Maris not only walloped his 59th home run of the season but came breathlessly close to smashing two more.

Had the two he barely missed been fair instead of feet foul, the crew-cut blond from Raytown, Mo., would have achieved the feat of the century.

Only two others had seriously threatened that mark — Jimmy Foxx with 58 in 1932 and Hank Greenberg with 58 in 1938.

The crowd of 21,032, naturally devoted to Ruth, a native Baltimorean, gave Maris, 27, a standing ovation after he had sent a dribbler down the first base line on a checked swing in his last try.

"I tried," he said later. "I didn't quite make it, but I tried."

And how Maris tried.

In the first inning, facing Milt Pappas, Baltimore's ace right-hander, he drove a screaming liner to Earl Robinson in deep right.

Solid Line Drive

In the third inning, with Pappas still on the mound, he smashed a 2-1 pitch, a sort of high liner, into the right field bleachers, about 390 feet from the plate. The homer electrified the audience, which realized he still had at least two more cracks at homer No. 60.

Dick Hall, another right-hander, was on the mound when Maris came to bat in the fourth. With an 0-2 count, Roger whacked a liner which landed in the stands, about eight feet foul and some 15 feet short of the right field bleachers. Many in the crowd, on his side by that time, groaned.

Again in the seventh, Maris flirted with fame when he hit a long drive deep into the right field bleachers. This one was about 20 to 25 feet foul.

Now it was the ninth. There were two out. Hoyt Wilhelm was on the mound.

"Just one good swing," Maris muttered grimly to himself. "Just one good swing. That's all I want."

He never got that "one good swing."

The ball struck the bat and dribbled down the first base line. Wilhelm fielded the ball himself and tagged the dejected Maris just off first base.

"I'm glad it's over," Maris said later. "It's a great relief. But I'm disappointed it had to end this way. If I wasn't going to make it, at least I wanted to go down swinging. The way it turned out, I didn't get one good swing."

Reds Near That Flag

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Those amazing Cincinnati Reds, a questionable product in the National League race when the season began, have gone methodically about the business of trying to nail down their first pennant in 21 years with a potent patent on winning one-run games.

The Reds did it again Wednesday night, edging the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-2 on Wally Post's two-run homer in the eighth inning for their eighth victory in the last nine games and a 34-14 won-lost record in one-run games.

The victory went to right-hander Joey Jay (21-8), the only NL pitcher with 20 wins, and reduced the Reds' magic pennant-clinching number to four over second-place Los Angeles. The Dodgers also won by a single run, nipping Chicago 3-2 in 13 innings.

Milwaukee beat San Francisco 7-4 and Philadelphia defeated St. Louis 6-1 in other games.

His 20th Hommer

Post's 20th homer came with Vada Pinson on base via a walk and brought the Reds from behind to beat the Pirates and reliever Elroy Face (6-11).

The Dodgers, beaten two nights in a row by the seventh-place Cubs, remained five games behind the first-place Reds by pushing the winning run across in the 13th when Wally Moon singled, reached second on a ground out, moved to third on a passed ball and scored on Ron Fairly's two-out single.

Sandy Koufax (18-11) went the distance for the victory, striking out 15 for a 259 total this season, and moved within eight of tying the modern league record of 267 by Christy Mathewson of the New York Giants in 1903. Barney Schultz (7-6), third Chicago pitcher, was the loser.

It Ended With a Dribbler

Rog Disappointed He Didn't Get That Last Good Swing

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Roger Maris strode to the plate in the top of the ninth, dug in and fouled the first pitch by knuckleball specialist Hoyt Wilhelm back of the plate. Wilhelm wound up again, let go and Maris tried to check his swing. He couldn't.

The ball trickled down the first base line.

On that note ended the most serious threat to Babe Ruth's 60-homer record of 1927 as Maris, who had hit No. 59 in the third inning, failed in his final chance to tie baseball's most prized record under the 154-decision edict of Commissioner Ford Frick.

All eyes were on Maris while he took his final shots at the Babe's mark in Baltimore, where the Yankees clinched their 26th American League pennant by whipping the Orioles 4-2 Wednesday night.

"I wanted to get three good swings whether I hit it or not," said Maris in the dressing room while expressing regret over his last time at bat. "The way it turned out, I didn't get one. I would have liked to have taken a full swing."

Thus Maris joins a long list of homer hammerers who have come within range of Ruth's record, but failed. Roger, however, tied Ruth's mark of 59 in 1921. He became only the second man in major league baseball history to hit that many and still has eight games under the expanded schedule in which to match or surpass Ruth's total.

Hank Greenberg hit 58 homers for Detroit in 1938.

The honor of clinching the Yanks 11th pennant in the last 13 years went to Ralph Terry (15-3) who got the job done for the second year in a row with a four-hitter that made Ralph Houk the first rookie manager in 15 years to win a major league flag.

The last American League first year pilot to do it was Mickey Cochrane of the Detroit Tigers in 1934.

The Yankees wrapped it up with a three-run rally in the third started by Maris' homer off Milt Pappas (12-9). Yogi Berra then followed with a homer and a single by Johnny Blanchard and Elston Howard's double finished off the outburst for a 4-0 lead.

The Cincinnati Reds continued their drive toward the National League flag by beating the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-2 for their eighth win in the last nine games.

The victory cut the Reds magic number to four and maintained their five-game lead over the second-place Los Angeles Dodgers, who edged the Chicago Cubs 3-2 in 13 innings. Milwaukee whipped San Francisco 7-4 and Philadelphia defeated St. Louis 6-1.

The Detroit Tigers remained well ahead of the Orioles in the battle for second place in the AL by beating Los Angeles 6-3 when Chico Fernandez stroked a bases-loaded double that featured a four run tie-breaking rally in the seventh inning.

Chicago's Ray Herbert defeated Boston 3-1 with a seven-hitter, and Bobby DelGreco hit a two-run homer in the ninth that gave Kansas City a 4-2 win over Cleveland in other games. Minnesota-Washington was rained out.

Ralph Houk Starts Thinking About Those Cincinnati Reds

By GOERGE BOWEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP) — Manager Ralph Houk of the New York Yankees wastes no time looking back.

"We're not interested in home runs by Roger Maris or the rest of the schedule," he said only minutes after clinching the 1961 American League pennant Wednesday night in his first season as a major league manager.

"Cincinnati, or whoever it is in the World Series, is our next worry.

"In the meantime, we're going to have fun tonight."

This was in a Yankee dressing room where champagne had been iced in advance and poured freely by one player over another. When the champagne ran out, beer shampooes were in order.

In a way, it was a strange celebration. Newsmen virtually ignored Houk to converge on Maris who missed by one homer Babe Ruth's 34-year-old record of 60.

Alone in a side room attired in street clothes was Mickey Mantle, for years the best-known Yankee hitter. This season he had to take a back seat to Maris after reaching 53 homers. In the pennant-winning victory over the Baltimore Orioles he was sidelined with a cold.

But when newsmen finally got around to congratulating Houk he reminded them the 26th Yankee pennant and 11th in 13 seasons was not due entirely to Maris and Mantle.

"This was definitely a team effort," he said.

He refused to consider questions about whether he would rest Maris now that the Yankees had passed the 154th decision decreed by Commissioner Ford Frick as the last in which Ruth's homer record could be broken officially.

Outboard Races At Mirror Lake

A program of stock outboard motor races will be staged at Mirror Lake in Ulster Park on Sunday at 1 p. m.

Ten classes of boats, both utilities and hydroplanes will be competing for their class trophies. Drivers are expected from New England, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and from all parts of New York state.

One of the more interesting classes being run is the J Utility—with drivers aged 12. Speed in this class is not all important but it does provide a sense of competition and fosters sportsmanship.

The race is sponsored by Mirror Lake Lodge in conjunction with the Hudson Valley Marine Racing Assn. The contestants are governed by the rules and regulations of the American Power Boat Assn.

Chairman for the event is John F. Armour, of the Hudson Valley Marine Racing Assn. H. O. (Chick) Miller, of the Lazy Bones Boat Basin, is the boat and motor inspector.

Mrs. Maris Defied Jinx And It Hexed Roger

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Watching a telecast of the New York-Baltimore baseball game Wednesday night, Mrs. Roger Maris exchanged seats with another viewer in the ninth inning.

Then she remembered. She and Roger have a superstition that whenever she leaves her seat while watching a game, it puts a hex on him.

In the ninth, Maris came up to bat for his last chance to tie Babe Ruth's season home record of 60. He rolled out to the pitcher.

"I knew I shouldn't have moved out of that chair," Mrs. Maris said.

KMBC-TV invited Mrs. Maris to watch the game in its studio. She and Maris live in nearby Raytown.

Busy Program Scheduled For Kickoff Day Groups

An event-packed day starting at 8 a. m. has been planned for the Kingston Woman's Bowling Association Kickoff Day on Saturday, Sept. 30.

The kickoff will bring to Kingston numerous state bowling dignitaries and the windup session—a fashion variety show at the municipal auditorium at 7:45 p. m.—will be attended by a host of Ulster County personalities from all walks of life.

Following a coffee hour between 8 a. m. and 9 a. m. at the Governor Clinton Hotel, headquarters for the tournament, the visiting delegates will have a choice of touring the Woodstock art colony or visiting the historical sites in and around Kingston, including the Senate House.

The state association luncheon meeting will be held at 1 p. m. at the hotel and between 3:30 and 4:30 p. m. there will be an inspection of the tournament lanes—Ferraro's Bowlerama and Sangi's Bowlero—where the games will be rolled next March.

A KWBA buffet is scheduled between 5:30 p. m. and 6:30 and the municipal auditorium program is scheduled to start at 7:45 p. m. A midnight snack at 11:30 p. m. rounds out the full day.

The public is invited to attend the auditorium show where several acts of entertainment and an appearance by Miss New York State is scheduled.

Maris Bid Fails at 59 As Yankees Cinch Flag

SCHOLASTIC CORNER

By ED PALLADINO

One of the original members of the DUSO League's "old guard" will be missing when the football season begins and those who knew him mourn the death of Alvin E. Chase, the Port Jervis athletic director and a staunch figure in the DUSO League.

Chase died back in May after fighting a losing battle with cancer for several months. He had been in and out of the hospital several times before finally leaving this world. Though Al Chase is dead, his memory is with those who were his competitors because he was a great one himself.

THE 'OLD FOX'

We haven't been around long enough to see Al Chase during his days as a coach but we can just imagine him out there in the thick of things. A legend in the DUSO League, Chase was known as the "Old Fox" and he piloted Port Jervis football teams to great heights during his heyday as a coach.

Despite the fact that Port Jervis is the smallest school in the football league, teams coached by Chase won seven DUSO championships. The final one came in 1947 and it's ironic that the Raiders haven't won another one since.

In addition to football, Chase coached every sport at Port Jervis at one time or another during his career. He was athletic director at Port since he arrived in 1924 and he taught in the science department in addition to his coaching.

NOT ONLY SPORTS

Chase did not limit his interest to sports activities. He served the community of Port Jervis as an alderman on two different occasions. He was also an Alderman-At-Large before joining the Air Force during World War II.

He was discharged with the rank of Captain and served as an alderman for two terms more. Chase was also a member of the Port Jervis Elks Club and was its exalted ruler.

We are sure that Al Chase will not be forgotten. Men like him don't come along very often.

A LONG YEAR FOR HARVARD

This promises to be a long, rough year for Harvard coach John Yovicin. The Crimson coach not only lost most of his squad from 1960 via graduation but he must face his Ivy League foes this season without Hobie Armstrong in the lineup.

Armstrong, who terrorized DUSO League opponents during his days at Kingston High, didn't make the grades the Ivy League demands of its athletes and he's not eligible for football this year.

There's no doubt that Harvard was counting on Armstrong. Not less than half a dozen national football magazines had touted Hobie as one of the outstanding halfbacks in the East. He led his club in rushing yardage last year as a sophomore.

DIDN'T FAIL ANY

The ironic twist here is that Hobie didn't fail any subjects. He just had a couple of marks somewhat lower than the strict standards set by the university for its athletes. Hobie isn't taking a course which requires little or no homework and which enables him to get tutoring.

With Hobie sitting in the stands this season and hoping to perform again during his senior year, the Harvard team figures to be just an also-ran this time. There aren't runners like Armstrong around every day. They're just not plucked off the branch of a tree.

Is Second Player Ever to Hit 59

MARIS BID HD

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Roger Maris' relentless assault on Babe Ruth's hallowed home run record ended in defeat Wednesday night, but in no way could it be interpreted as a failure.

The left-handed slugger, battling against almost impossible odds, missed matching the immortal Bambino's 60 homers in a 154-game season by the narrowest of margins -just one.

Trailing by two home runs with just one more game remaining, playing in a park which had throttled him in all 26 previous efforts, Maris not only walloped his 59th home run of the season but came breathlessly close to smashing two more.

Had the two he barely missed been fair instead of feet foul, the crew-cut blond from Raytown, Mo., would have achieved the feat of the century.

Only two others had seriously threatened that mark — Jimmy Foxx with 58 in 1932 and Hank Greenberg with 58 in 1938.

The crowd of 21,032, naturally devoted to Ruth, a native Baltimorean, gave Maris, 27, a standing ovation after he had sent a dribbler down the first base line on a checked swing in his last try.

"I tried," he said later. "I didn't quite make it, but I tried."

And how Maris tried.

Solid Line Drive

In the third inning, with Pappas still on the mound, he smashed a 2-1 pitch, a sort of high liner, into the right field bleachers, about 390 feet from the plate. The homer electrified the audience, which realized he still had at least two more cracks at homer No. 60.

Dick Hall, another right-hander, was on the mound when Maris came to bat in the fourth. With an 0-2 count, Roger whacked a liner which landed in the stands, about eight feet foul and some 15 feet short of the right field bleachers. Many in the crowd, on his side by that time, groaned.

Again in the seventh, Maris flirted with fame when he hit a long drive deep into the right field bleachers. This one was about 20 to 25 feet foul.

Now it was the ninth. There were two out. Hoyt Wilhelm was on the mound.

"Just one good swing," Maris muttered grimly to himself. "Just one good swing. That's all I want."

He never got that "one good swing."

The ball struck the bat and dribbled down the first base line. Wilhelm fielded the ball himself and tagged the dejected Maris just off first base.

"I'm glad it's over," Maris said later. "It's a great relief. But I'm disappointed it had to end this way. If I wasn't going to make it, at least I wanted to go down swinging. The way it turned out, I didn't get one good swing."

Rog Disappointed He Didn't Get That Last Good Swing

Associated Press Sports Writer

Roger Maris strode to the plate in the top of the ninth, dug in and fouled the first pitch by knuckleball specialist Hoyt Wilhelm back of the plate. Wilhelm wound up again, let go and Maris tried to check his swing. He couldn't.

The ball trickled down the first base line.

On that note ended the most serious threat to Babe Ruth's 60-homer record of 1927 as Maris, who had hit No. 59 in the third inning, failed in his final chance to tie baseball's most prized record under the 154-decision edict of Commissioner Ford Frick.

All eyes were on Maris while he took his final shots at the Babe's mark in Baltimore, where the Yankees clinched their 26th American League pennant by whipping the Orioles 4-2 Wednesday night.

"I wanted to get three good swings whether I hit it or not," said Maris in the dressing room while expressing regret over his last time at bat. "The way it turned out, I didn't get one. I would have liked to have taken a full swing."

Thus Maris joins a long list of homer hammerers who have come within range of Ruth's record, but failed. Roger, however, tied Ruth's mark of 59 in 1921. He became only the second man in major league baseball history to hit that many and still has eight games under the expanded schedule in which to match or surpass Ruth's total.

Hank Greenberg hit 58 homers for Detroit in 1938.

The honor of clinching the Yanks 11th pennant in the last 13 years went to Ralph Terry (15-3) who got the job done for the second year in a row with a four-hitter that made Ralph Houk the first rookie manager in 15 years to win a major league flag.

The last American League first year pilot to do it was Mickey Cochrane of the Detroit Tigers in 1934.

The Yankees wrapped it up with a three-run rally in the third started by Maris' homer off Milt Pappas (12-9). Yogi Berra then followed with a homer and a single by Johnny Blanchard and Elston Howard's double finished off the outburst for a 4-0 lead.

The Cincinnati Reds continued their drive toward the National League flag by beating the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-2 for their eighth win in the last nine games.

The victory cut the Reds magic nuinber to four and maintained their five-game lead over the second-place Los Angeles Dodgers, who edged the Chicago Cubs 3-2 in 13 innings. Milwaukee whipped San Francisco 7-4 and Philadelphia defeated St. Louis 6-1.

The Detroit Tigers remained well ahead of the Orioles in the battle for second place in the AL by beating Los Angeles 6-3 when Chico Fernandez stroked a bases-loaded double that featured a four run tie-breaking rally in the seventh inning.

Chicago's Ray Herbert defeated Boston 3-1 with a seven-hitter, and Bobby DelGreco hit a two-run homer in the ninth that gave Kansas City a 4-2 win over Cleveland in other games. Minnesota-Washington was rained out.

Reds Near That Flag

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Those amazing Cincinnati Reds, a questionable product in the National League race when the season began, have gone methodically about the business of trying to nail down their first pennant in 21 years with a potent patent on winning one-run games.

The Reds did it again Wednesday night, edging the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-2 on Wally Post's two-run homer in the eighth inning for their eighth victory in the last nine games and a 34-14 won-lost record in one-run games.

The victory went to right-hander Joey Jay (21-8), the only NL pitcher with 20 wins, and reduced the Reds' magic pennant-clinching number to four over second-place Los Angeles. The Dodgers also won by a single run, nipping Chicago 3-2 in 13 innings.

Milwaukee beat San Francisco 7-4 and Philadelphia defeated St. Louis 6-1 in other games.

His 20th Hommer

Post's 20th homer came with Vada Pinson on base via a walk and brought the Reds from behind to beat the Pirates and reliever Elroy Face (6-11).

The Dodgers, beaten two nights in a row by the seventh-place Cubs, remained five games behind the first-place Reds by pushing the winning run across in the 13th when Wally Moon singled, reached second on a ground out, moved to third on a passed ball and scored on Ron Fairly's two-out single.

Sandy Koufax (18-11) went the distance for the victory, striking out 15 for a 259 total this season, and moved within eight of tying the modern league record of 267 by Christy Mathewson of the New York Giants in 1903. Barney Schultz (7-6), third Chicago pitcher, was the loser.

Ralph Houk Starts Thinking About Those Cincinnati Reds

By GOERGE BOWEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP) — Manager Ralph Houk of the New York Yankees wastes no time looking back.

"We're not interested in home runs by Roger Maris or the rest of the schedule," he said only minutes after clinching the 1961 American League pennant Wednesday night in his first season as a major league manager.

"Cincinnati, or whoever it is in the World Series, is our next worry.

"In the meantime, we're going to have fun tonight."

This was in a Yankee dressing room where champagne had been iced in advance and poured freely by one player over another. When the champagne ran out, beer shampooes were in order.

In a way, it was a strange celebration. Newsmen virtually ignored Houk to converge on Maris who missed by one homer Babe Ruth's 34-year-old record of 60.

Alone in a side room attired in street clothes was Mickey Mantle, for years the best-known Yankee hitter. This season he had to take a back seat to Maris after reaching 53 homers. In the pennant-winning victory over the Baltimore Orioles he was sidelined with a cold.

But when newsmen finally got around to congratulating Houk he reminded them the 26th Yankee pennant and 11th in 13 seasons was not due entirely to Maris and Mantle.

"This was definitely a team effort," he said.

He refused to consider questions about whether he would rest Maris now that the Yankees had passed the 154th decision decreed by Commissioner Ford Frick as the last in which Ruth's homer record could be broken officially.

Outboard Races At Mirror Lake

A program of stock outboard motor races will be staged at Mirror Lake in Ulster Park on Sunday at 1 p. m.

Ten classes of boats, both utilities and hydroplanes will be competing for their class trophies. Drivers are expected from New England, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and from all parts of New York state.

One of the more interesting classes being run is the J Utility—with drivers aged 12. Speed in this class is not all important but it does provide a sense of competition and fosters sportsmanship.

The race is sponsored by Mirror Lake Lodge in conjunction with the Hudson Valley Marine Racing Assn. The contestants are governed by the rules and regulations of the American Power Boat Assn.

Chairman for the event is John F. Armour, of the Hudson Valley Marine Racing Assn. H. O. (Chick) Miller, of the Lazy Bones Boat Basin, is the boat and motor inspector.

Mrs. Maris Defied Jinx And It Hexed Roger

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Watching a telecast of the New York-Baltimore baseball game Wednesday night, Mrs. Roger Maris exchanged seats with another viewer in the ninth inning.

Then she remembered. She and Roger have a superstition that whenever she leaves her seat while watching a game, it puts a hex on him.

In the ninth, Maris came up to bat for his last chance to tie Babe Ruth's season home record of 60. He rolled out to the pitcher.

"I knew I shouldn't have moved out of that chair," Mrs. Maris said.

KMBC-TV invited Mrs. Maris to watch the game in its studio. She and Maris live in nearby Raytown.

Busy Program Scheduled For Kickoff Day Groups

An event-packed day starting at 8 a. m. has been planned for the Kingston Woman's Bowling Association Kickoff Day on Saturday, Sept. 30.

The kickoff will bring to Kingston numerous state bowling dignitaries and the windup session—a fashion variety show at the municipal auditorium at 7:45 p. m.—will be attended by a host of Ulster County personalities from all walks of life.

Following a coffee hour between 8 a. m. and 9 a. m. at the Governor Clinton Hotel, headquarters for the tournament, the visiting delegates will have a choice of touring the Woodstock art colony or visiting the historical sites in and around Kingston, including the Senate House.

The state association luncheon meeting will be held at 1 p. m. at the hotel and between 3:30 and 4:30 p. m. there will be an inspection of the tournament lanes—Ferraro's Bowlerama and Sangi's Bowlero—where the games will be rolled next March.

A KWBA buffet is scheduled between 5:30 p. m. and 6:30 and the municipal auditorium program is scheduled to start at 7:45 p. m. A midnight snack at 11:30 p. m. rounds out the full day.

The public is invited to attend the auditorium show where several acts of entertainment and an appearance by Miss New York State is scheduled.

Baltimore Man Won't Give Up 59th HR Ball

By GORDON BEARD

BALTIMORE (AP)—A 32-year-old Baltimorean made a head-long dive in Memorial Stadium Wednesday night for a baseball that may become a collector's item. Or just a conversation piece.

Bob Reiz, an unemployed machine operator, outhustled dozens of other right-field bleacher fans to nab the ball which Roger Maris of the New York Yankees slugged into the seats for his 59th homer of the season.

The homer came in New York's 154th team decision of the season—the limit which Commissioner Ford Frick imposed on anyone taking a crack at Babe Ruth's home run record of 60 set in 1927.

But the Yanks have eight more games to play under the expanded 162-game schedule this season, and if Maris his another homer the market value of the ball owned by Reitz will diminish considerably.

Soon after running down the elusive ball, Reitz indicated he would be happy to exchange the ball for two World Series tickets and an all-expenses-paid trip to all series games in New York.

Maris, who met Reitz under the stands between innings, nixed the offer personally, and the fan returned to his seat.

"Maris shook my hand and posed for pictures," Reitz told newsmen. "Then he called for someone in the clubhouse to bring out another ball. I knew what he wanted to do—autograph another one in exchange for mine. I said 'never mind' and kept the ball."

Trapshoot Set For October 1

The Federated Sportsmen's Clubs of Ulster County will stage their annual championship trapshoot on Sunday, Oct. 1, at the Walker Valley Club field.

The field will be open for practice shooting from 9 a. m. to 10 a. m. First events are scheduled at 10 o'clock.

Defending champion in the first event, the "Champion of Champions" competition is Tom Grossi.

Following the scratch and handicap team shoots, Bruce Mauro will defend his junior championship. The last event of the day will be the individual championship open to all residents of Ulster County. Grossi is also the defender in this shoot.

Refreshments will be served and the public is invited. A practice shoot is scheduled Sunday at 1 p. m. at the Walker Valley Club.

St. Patrick's Sets Horse Show

Entries are being received for the first annual horse show sponsored by St. Patrick's Central Catholic High School of Catskill at Martin's Bar-M-Ranch, New Baltimore, on Sunday, Sept. 30.

The Rev. Bernard D. Casey, show secretary, announces that several well known stables have filed entries.

Larry Larson of Woodstock, a student at St. Patrick's, and his sister, Karen, have filed entries.

As expected, a number of the horses and riders are of calibre worthy of National Championship. Competition in the Hunter and Jumper Divisions will be particularly keen.

Judges at the show, sanctioned by the American Horse Shows Association, will be James Rooney, Albany, and Donald Sheldon, Hyde Park. The popular Horse Show Announcer, Ed Graham will provide the commentary.

Top Quarterback Stars in Action In Key Contests

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Four of the country's top college quarterbacks will pair off Saturday when the schedule is loaded with intersectional games.

There should be quite a dogfight at Berkeley, Calif., where Cal's Golden Bears, led by Randy Gold, or perhaps fast-improving Larry Balliett meet the Mike Cotten-led Texas team. Then in Laramie, Wyo., North Carolina State, with Roman Gabriel showing the way, plays Wyoming, the top Skyline team led by Chuck Lamson.

It is hard to come up with four better quarterbacks in any section, and with the exception of Gabriel, three are equally adept at running as well as passing.

Gabriel has been accorded reams of advance publicity as the nation's No. 1 college quarterback and because of this, N.C. State has been given the nod as the team to beat in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Lamson, a transfer student from Iowa State, led the Cowboys in total offense and passing, and was second in rushing last year.

Marv Levy, Cal's coach, isn't yet satisfied that Gold is his best quarterback. Last year, he was third in total offense in the Big Five and ranked second in passing with 696 yards, completing 65 of 117 attempts. Balliett has done quite a bit with Cal's first unit.

Cotten carried the ball 81 times in Coach Darrell Royal's split-T offense last year, and picked up 135 yards. He was the leading scorer with 30 points on five TDs, and 539 yards in passing.

Baltimore Man Won't Give Up 59th HR Ball

By GORDON BEARD

BALTIMORE (AP)—A 32-year-old Baltimorean made a head-long dive in Memorial Stadium Wednesday night for a baseball that may become a collector's item. Or just a conversation piece.

Bob Reiz, an unemployed machine operator, outhustled dozens of other right-field bleacher fans to nab the ball which Roger Maris of the New York Yankees slugged into the seats for his 59th homer of the season.

The homer came in New York's 154th team decision of the season—the limit which Commissioner Ford Frick imposed on anyone taking a crack at Babe Ruth's home run record of 60 set in 1927.

But the Yanks have eight more games to play under the expanded 162-game schedule this season, and if Maris his another homer the market value of the ball owned by Reitz will diminish considerably.

Soon after running down the elusive ball, Reitz indicated he would be happy to exchange the ball for two World Series tickets and an all-expenses-paid trip to all series games in New York.

Maris, who met Reitz under the stands between innings, nixed the offer personally, and the fan returned to his seat.

"Maris shook my hand and posed for pictures," Reitz told newsmen. "Then he called for someone in the clubhouse to bring out another ball. I knew what he wanted to do—autograph another one in exchange for mine. I said 'never mind' and kept the ball."

Then in Laramie, Wyo., North Carolina State, with Roman Gabriel showing the way, plays Wyoming, the top Skyline team led by Chuck Lamson.

It is hard to come up with four better quarterbacks in any section, and with the exception of Gabriel, three are equally adept at running as well as passing.

Gabriel has been accorded reams of advance publicity as the nation's No. 1 college quarterback and because of this, N.C. State has been given the nod as the team to beat in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Lamson, a transfer student from Iowa State, led the Cowboys in total offense and passing, and was second in rushing last year.

Marv Levy, Cal's coach, isn't yet satisfied that Gold is his best quarterback. Last year, he was third in total offense in the Big Five and ranked second in passing with 696 yards, completing 65 of 117 attempts. Balliett has done quite a bit with Cal's first unit.

Cotten carried the ball 81 times in Coach Darrell Royal's split-T offense last year, and picked up 135 yards. He was the leading scorer with 30 points on five TDs, and 539 yards in passing.

Record Field In Brown Jug

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — The largest field in history goes today after $70,000 in the 16th Little Brown Jug classic for 3-year-old pacers.

With three of the nation's top pacers sidelined with injuries no horse looms as a heavy favorite.

Odds-makers have Lang Hanover, owned by Samuel Huttenbauer of Cincinnati, a 2-1 choice in the 10-horse first division. Henry T. Adios is rated a 3-1 favorite to win the second in which nine horses meet.

The mile heat around Delaware County Fairgrounds' half-mile track gets under way at 2 p.m. (EST). After the second go-round, the top five horses from each division will meet. If no previous winner wins that race the three victors will go at it in a fourth heat.

Zorro Hanover, Jet Averill In 'MM' Field

MONTICELLO — Monticello Raceway will present its next-to-last harness racing program of the season Friday night and co-featured will be a Handicap Trot and a Class B-2 Pace in the fifth and seventh races.

In the fifth, eight classy Class B-2 and B-1 trotters will go postward for a purse of $1,800 including Frank Popfinger's Jet Averill, from the outside slot, and Levi Harner's Zorro Hanover from the No. 7 lane.

The rest of the field will be made up from the rail down Royal Demon, Cooper's Dream, Poplar Perk, Mogan Hanover, Oscar Patch, and Transfer Man.

Zorro Hanover has posted two victories on "off" tracks at Monticello, and is a holder of a 2:06.1 season's mark. The five-year-old Demon Hanover stallion is owned by Ted Zornow, Pittsford, N. Y.

Owner Jean Berube, Casselberry, Fla., will drive Cooper's Dream, a five-time winner this year. The eight-year-old gelding scored a 2:08.4 win in his last start at the Mighty M.

Poplar Perk has won in 2:06.3 at MR while Oscar Patch has a 2:07 triumph to his credit, and Mogan Hanover one in 2:06.2.

In the pacing event, Penny's First Lass boasts the best winning time of any of the eight starters, having won in 2:04.2 for owner-driver Art Thorne.

Penney's First Lass has drawn the outside post and will be up against such threats as King's Gambit, Milton Hanover and Pizon.

Buffalo Bisons Near IL Title

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—The Buffalo Bisons were two games away from the International Baseball League playoff championships today and an eventual berth in the Little World Series.

The Bisons defeated Rochester 4-2 Wednesday night before 8,239 fans in Red Wing stadium, on the two-hit pitching of lefty Billy Smith.

The victory boosted the Buffalo advantage in the best-of-seven series to 2-1.

Manager Kirby Farrell tapped another southpaw, Wally Seward, for tonight's game here, while Herb Moford, Rochester's steady righthander, was Manager Clyde King's selection.

Ted Savage, who won the league batting title, belted a two-run homer in the sixth inning to provide the Bisons with the winning margin.

The fourth and fifth game of the series will be played here tonight and Friday night, with the sixth and seventh games scheduled for Buffalo's War Memorial Stadium, if necessary.

Should the Bisons end the playoffs Friday night, they will meet the winner of the American Association playoffs in the Little World Series Sunday.

The winners of the playoffs will receive $8,050, League President Tommy Richardson said Wednesday night. The runnerup team will get $4,025.

Columbus, which won the pennant, but was knocked out of the playoffs by Rochester, will get $8,050 championship money, while second-place finisher Charleston gets $2,012.

Late Entries

CAMDEN, N. J. (NEA)—In the last four runnings of The Garden State, supplementary nominations at $10,000 have played a prominent part. Three won, three ran second and two finished third.

240 Drivers Set At Watkins Glen

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. (AP)—More than 240 drivers from the East, Midwest and Canada gathered today for the 14th annual sports car Grand Prix, a nine-race card Saturday over the 2.3-mile Grand Prix course.

Co-favorites for the Grand Prix itself, a 101.2-mile grind, will be Augie Pabst of Milwaukee and Walt Hansgen of Westfield, N.J.

Pabst broke both race and lap records in winning the event last year in an American-made Scarab. He finished the 44-lap race with an average speed of 88.8 miles per hour. He roared around the 42nd lap at a speed of 91.6 mph.

Hansgen, perennial competitor for the drivers championship of the Sports Car Club of America, was second last year. He has won the event three times.

Delaware Track Still Sizzling

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) —For the third consecutive day, a world mark for a half-mile harness track was broken at the fairgrounds here.

Impish, a bay filly owned by Blue Spruce Farm, Norwich, N. Y., set a 2:03 3-5-mile mark for two - year - old trotting fillies Wednesday. The figure was two-fifths of a second faster than the old mark set by Carlene Hanover at Delaware Fairgrounds in 1959 and equalled here Tuesday by Spry Rodney.

Today's events include a race against the clock by Adios Butler, often called the world's fastest pacer. He and Bye Bye Byrd share a world mark of 1:57 4-5 for the mile.

Stratton Urges Camp Drum Be Year-Round Base

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has been asked to put Camp Drum in Northern New York on a year-round operating basis because of the current arms buildup.

Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., said Thursday he sent a telegram to McNamara requesting it because of the need for additional facilities to train National Guardsmen and Army Reserve units called to active duty. Some New England governors also have asked that the base be expanded.

Stratton said use of Camp Drum all year would also have "a markedly favorable impact on the economy" of Northern New York, which is an area of unemployment.

The camp is used mainly to train National Guardsmen and Army reservists during their regular summer encampment.

Soot from burned butter was used for some eyes by the ancient Greeks and Romans.

Mitchell Asks State Ballot on Social Welfare

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Newburgh City Manager Joseph Mitchell today proposed putting the entire question of social welfare to the people in a statewide referendum next year.

In a speech prepared for a meeting of the Sons of the American Revolution, Mitchell, whose controversial 13 - point welfare clampdown has thrown him into national prominence, suggested that this question be answered by the voters:

"Do you desire local home rule in social welfare administration?"

If the answer is no, Mitchell said, "let's forget the whole thing and resolve ourselves to the fate made inevitable by the centralization of power in the hands of socially oriented bureaucrats."

But if the answer is yes, Mitchell proposed that:

1. All policies governing welfare be made by local welfare authorities.

2. The authority of the federal and state governments to supervise the activities of each district or to intervene in any way other than to audit expenditures be ended.

3. The State Board of Social Welfare be abolished, and the state commissioner of public welfare be appointed by the governor, with his duties limited to advising the governor on welfare matters and disseminating information to welfare districts.

4. The auditing of welfare expenditures involving state or federal aid be divorced from the department of welfare.

5. Appeals by aggrieved welfare applicants or recipients be settled by local appeal boards, with final decisions resting with the courts.

Porky Oliver Is Dead at 46

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—Ed (Porky) Oliver, who started out as a caddy at the age of 11 and went on to become one of the leading professional golfers during the last two decades, died Wednesday of cancer. He was 46.

His wife, Clara, was at his bedside in Memorial Hospital when he died. Oliver had been in and out of the hospital since leaving the pro circuit nearly two years ago. He had undergone two operations.

Oliver, who started as a caddy at the Wilmington Country Club and turned pro at the age of 18 in 1933, never won a major championship but he helped the U.S. Ryder Cup team to victories over England in 1947, 1951 and 1953.

Zorro Hanover, Jet Averill In 'MM' Field

MONTICELLO — Monticello Raceway will present its next-to-last harness racing program of the season Friday night and co-featured will be a Handicap Trot and a Class B-2 Pace in the fifth and seventh races.

In the fifth, eight classy Class B-2 and B-1 trotters will go postward for a purse of $1,800 including Frank Popfinger's Jet Averill, from the outside slot, and Levi Harner's Zorro Hanover from the No. 7 lane.

The rest of the field will be made up from the rail down Royal Demon, Cooper's Dream, Poplar Perk, Mogan Hanover, Oscar Patch, and Transfer Man.

Zorro Hanover has posted two victories on "off" tracks at Monticello, and is a holder of a 2:06.1 season's mark. The five-year-old Demon Hanover stallion is owned by Ted Zornow, Pittsford, N. Y.

Owner Jean Berube, Casselberry, Fla., will drive Cooper's Dream, a five-time winner this year. The eight-year-old gelding scored a 2:08.4 win in his last start at the Mighty M.

Poplar Perk has won in 2:06.3 at MR while Oscar Patch has a 2:07 triumph to his credit, and Mogan Hanover one in 2:06.2.

In the pacing event, Penny's First Lass boasts the best winning time of any of the eight starters, having won in 2:04.2 for owner-driver Art Thorne.

Penney's First Lass has drawn the outside post and will be up against such threats as King's Gambit, Milton Hanover and Pizon.

Buffalo Bisons Near IL Title

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—The Buffalo Bisons were two games away from the International Baseball League playoff championships today and an eventual berth in the Little World Series.

The Bisons defeated Rochester 4-2 Wednesday night before 8,239 fans in Red Wing stadium, on the two-hit pitching of lefty Billy Smith.

The victory boosted the Buffalo advantage in the best-of-seven series to 2-1.

Manager Kirby Farrell tapped another southpaw, Wally Seward, for tonight's game here, while Herb Moford, Rochester's steady righthander, was Manager Clyde King's selection.

Ted Savage, who won the league batting title, belted a two-run homer in the sixth inning to provide the Bisons with the winning margin.

The fourth and fifth game of the series will be played here tonight and Friday night, with the sixth and seventh games scheduled for Buffalo's War Memorial Stadium, if necessary.

Should the Bisons end the playoffs Friday night, they will meet the winner of the American Association playoffs in the Little World Series Sunday.

The winners of the playoffs will receive $8,050, League President Tommy Richardson said Wednesday night. The runnerup team will get $4,025.

Columbus, which won the pennant, but was knocked out of the playoffs by Rochester, will get $8,050 championship money, while second-place finisher Charleston gets $2,012.

Late Entries

CAMDEN, N. J. (NEA)—In the last four runnings of The Garden State, supplementary nominations at $10,000 have played a prominent part. Three won, three ran second and two finished third.

240 Drivers Set At Watkins Glen

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. (AP)—More than 240 drivers from the East, Midwest and Canada gathered today for the 14th annual sports car Grand Prix, a nine-race card Saturday over the 2.3-mile Grand Prix course.

Co-favorites for the Grand Prix itself, a 101.2-mile grind, will be Augie Pabst of Milwaukee and Walt Hansgen of Westfield, N.J.

Pabst broke both race and lap records in winning the event last year in an American-made Scarab. He finished the 44-lap race with an average speed of 88.8 miles per hour. He roared around the 42nd lap at a speed of 91.6 mph.

Hansgen, perennial competitor for the drivers championship of the Sports Car Club of America, was second last year. He has won the event three times.

Delaware Track Still Sizzling

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) —For the third consecutive day, a world mark for a half-mile harness track was broken at the fairgrounds here.

Impish, a bay filly owned by Blue Spruce Farm, Norwich, N. Y., set a 2:03 3-5-mile mark for two - year - old trotting fillies Wednesday. The figure was two-fifths of a second faster than the old mark set by Carlene Hanover at Delaware Fairgrounds in 1959 and equalled here Tuesday by Spry Rodney.

Today's events include a race against the clock by Adios Butler, often called the world's fastest pacer. He and Bye Bye Byrd share a world mark of 1:57 4-5 for the mile.

Stratton Urges Camp Drum Be Year-Round Base

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has been asked to put Camp Drum in Northern New York on a year-round operating basis because of the current arms buildup.

Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., said Thursday he sent a telegram to McNamara requesting it because of the need for additional facilities to train National Guardsmen and Army Reserve units called to active duty. Some New England governors also have asked that the base be expanded.

Stratton said use of Camp Drum all year would also have "a markedly favorable impact on the economy" of Northern New York, which is an area of unemployment.

The camp is used mainly to train National Guardsmen and Army reservists during their regular summer encampment.

Mitchell Asks State Ballot on Social Welfare

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Newburgh City Manager Joseph Mitchell today proposed putting the entire question of social welfare to the people in a statewide referendum next year.

In a speech prepared for a meeting of the Sons of the American Revolution, Mitchell, whose controversial 13 - point welfare clampdown has thrown him into national prominence, suggested that this question be answered by the voters:

"Do you desire local home rule in social welfare administration?"

If the answer is no, Mitchell said, "let's forget the whole thing and resolve ourselves to the fate made inevitable by the centralization of power in the hands of socially oriented bureaucrats."

But if the answer is yes, Mitchell proposed that:

1. All policies governing welfare be made by local welfare authorities.

2. The authority of the federal and state governments to supervise the activities of each district or to intervene in any way other than to audit expenditures be ended.

3. The State Board of Social Welfare be abolished, and the state commissioner of public welfare be appointed by the governor, with his duties limited to advising the governor on welfare matters and disseminating information to welfare districts.

4. The auditing of welfare expenditures involving state or federal aid be divorced from the department of welfare.

5. Appeals by aggrieved welfare applicants or recipients be settled by local appeal boards, with final decisions resting with the courts.

Senate Confirms Kaufman Choice

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate confirmed by voice vote today these nominations by President Kennedy of federal judges:

Circuit judges — Irving R. Kaufman of New York for the 2nd Circuit.

District judges — Thomas F. Croake for Southern New York and John F. Dooling Jr., for Eastern District of New York.

Storm Spares . . .

ager of New York Telephone said some 225 stations affecting one or more customers were experiencing trouble. However he expected service to be back to normal later today. Most of the trouble was in the northern portion of the county including Kingston, Saugerties, Woodstock, Shokan and Fleischmanns. Heider said the greatest volume of trouble calls came in between 8:30 and 10 a. m.

The City Engineer's office reported winds in Kingston at 29 MPH, high at 8:15 p. m. However it was reported winds may have reached 40 to 50 MPH in the suburbs where fallen tree damage was reoprted.

Kingston Police Department received a few reports of tree limbs down. Only one reportedly caused damage. Mrs. Anna Wood of 4 Welles Lane notified police Wednesday night that a large limb fell and damaged the siding of her home.

State police in the county reported a few limbs down on Route 9W and Route 212 between Saugerties and Woodstock. It was also reported that a number of sign boards toppled.

Saugerties Village Police Chief Arthur W. Richter said winds were gusty last night, however the village was fortunate to escape damage. No trees were reported down during the night, he said.

High Tide 12:15 p. m.

The Coast Guard Station at Turkey Point, Saugerties said there were no high waves and high water was not expected until 12:15 p. m. at high tide.

The Coast Guard's Esopus Light Station gave a similar report.

The Associated Press reported Hurricane Esther slammed past the eastern end of Long Island this morning, lashing out with winds above 100 miles an hour. But the effect on the island and in the populous metropolitan area appeared to have been mild.

The most serious consequences listed in first reports were power failures affecting more than 200,000 homes, highway flooding, broken windows, downed signboards and trees, and minor injuries to persons.

Floods Highway

The single highway to the Montauk Point resort area on the eastern tip of Long Island was put out of use by water flooding it to a depth of three feet over an eight-mile stretch between Amagansett and Montauk. Much of the highway at this point is near sea level.

About 700 people in the Montauk area had left dwellings in low spots to take refuge in emergency shelters on higher ground.

Winds up to 108 m.p.h. were recorded by the Coast Guard at the eastern end of the island, with gusts even higher. Gusts up to 60 m.p.h. were reported as far west as New York City.

Drenching rains and towering tides, reaching as much as 14 feet above normal, accompanied the hurricane as it thundered toward the New England coast.

Numerous accidents and some injuries were caused by the storm, but none was serious.

East Is Alerted

All of Eastern New York State was girded Wednesday for the big blow.

Gov. Rockefeller alerted six state agencies to stand by, with men and equipment ready to go into action, as far north as the Canadian border.

At Montauk, many families who chose not to evacuate were taken to a Coast Guard station and a resort hotel.

Fire Island, south of Long Island in the Atlantic, had flooding early today. High waves pounded steadily at the dunes on the island, where about 125 families elected to remain in their homes and sit out the storm.

Vols Stand By

Throughout Suffolk County on Long Island volunteer firemen remained on the alert for rescue operations.

New York City and most of the metropolitan area were spared the worst fringe effects of Esther. Winds up to 27 miles an hour were reported, with gusts much higher. But there was a promise of partial clearing by this afternoon. Wednesday night's forecast prompted officials to decide against closing the schools.

Car Fire Quelled

Firemen were dispatched to the new Albany Avenue interchange at 6:57 a. m. today to extinguish fire in wiring of a 1957 car owned by Emile Klipper, Cold Brook Road, Wittenberg. Firemen reported extensive damage to the wiring. Engine 3 responded to a call in charge of Deputy Chief Edwin Murphy. A short circuit caused the blaze.

AIRMAN RICHARD SHOWERS

AIRMAN JOHN FIORE

COMPLETE INITIAL COURSE — Two Kingston youths have completed their initial course of Air Force basic miliary training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, and have been selected to attend technical training courses. They are, Airman Richard A. H. Showers, son of Mrs. D. E. Showers, 572 Delaware Avenue, and Airman John F. Fiore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fiore, 22 Hanratty Street. Showers was selected to attend the technical training course for electrical repairman at Chanute Air Force Base, Illinois. Fiore was selected to attend a training course for Morse intercept operator at Keesler Air Force Base, Mississippi. Both airmen are graduates of Kingston High School. Upon completion of special technical training at an Air Force training center, airmen are assigned to operational units of the USAF Aerospace Force.

compound were the two children of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Smith; three of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lawford; and one of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kennedy.

The President's father, Joseph P. Kennedy, and Ann Gargan, a cousin of the President, stayed at the elder Kennedy's summer home to ride out the storm.

Falmouth Families Quit

Other evacuees, Civil Defense reported, were at least 20 families from a lowlying area in Falmouth, also on Cape Cod.

Southern New England geared for a heavy rainfall with flash flooding in many places.

The slowdown of Esther, the Weather Bureau said, meant it would not reach southern Cape Cod until afternoon.

At Fairhaven, Mass., near New Bedford, about 1,000 families, totaling 4,000 persons, were evacuated to higher-ground shelters.

A battery of National Guardsmen was ordered to duty by Falmouth selectmen.

Nantucket Islanders, who grimly battened everything down Wednesday when informed the eye of the hurricane might pass over the island, reported that up to midforenoon the blow had fallen far short of the 60-65-mile gales to which islanders are accustomed.

3-4 Inch Rain Due

Highest velocity measured was a 48-mile gust. Sustained northnortheast winds were 28 to 38 miles an hour at the time the Nantucket Weather Bureau radar tracking station reported the eye of the hurricane 50 miles southeast of Block Island, R.I.

The expected rise of five to nine feet in the forenoon tide failed to reach that height at Nantucket. Only eight of some 40 families heeded warnings to leave the waterfront area.

More than an inch and a half of rain fell at Boston in little more than eight hours, and the Weather Bureau predicted three to four inches.

The hurricane, described by the Weather Bureau as "capricious and dangerous," speeded up early today and its forward advance, previously about 15 miles an hour, increased to 18. This led the Weather Bureau to predict the center would cross the southern coast of Massachusetts at 9 a.m.

At 7 a.m. the center of the storm was located about 50 miles south of Block Island, R.I.

No Deaths Reported

There were as yet no reports of loss of life and no known heavy damage although Rhode Island was just beginning to feel the hurricane's effects.

Hurricane warnings flew from Long Island to Eastport, Maine. A hurricane watch was in effect over western Long Island and Connecticut.

The Weather Bureau estimated winds in the center of the hurricane at 115 m.p.h. with hurricane force winds—75 m.p.h. and higher —extending 100 miles to the east and 75 miles to the west. Gale winds extended outward 350 miles to the east and 200 miles to the west.

The Weather Bureau predicted the size and intensity of the storm would remain about the same for the next 18 to 24 hours.

Boats Hauled Ashore

Up and down the coast, small boats by the hundreds had been hauled ashore or packed into protected harbors. Destroyers moved to safe moorings, military planes flew to inland fields, emergency vehicles scattered to danger spots. Disaster agencies — Red Cross, Civil Defense, police, National Guard—all were alerted.

On Cape Cod, President Kennedy's two children—Caroline, 3½, and John, almost 10 months—spent the night with six cousins at the big home of their grandfather, former ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy. The house at Hyannis Port faces Nantucket Sound but is on high ground.

request was denied according to Anthony Cashara, president of Local 1562.

A sitdown strike, which began Wednesday afternoon, was continued today and is alleged to have spread to another department. A union spokesman said an announcement was made over the plant public address system this morning to the effect that the plant would be closed down until further notice.

A meeting of Local 1562 was scheduled for noon today.

State Has Three New Polio Cases, Total Is Now 71

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Three new, paralytic polio cases reported today raised to 71 this year's total for a three-county area of Central New York.

Two cases were reported in Syracuse and one in Rome.

Both polio victims in Syracuse —a 17-year-old girl and a 35-year-old man — had received all three Salk vaccine inoculations and the Sabin oral vaccine.

A 20-year-old man in Rome had not received any vaccine, the State Health Department reported.

The current polio outbreak covers the counties of Madison, Oneida and Onondaga. Nearly a half-million persons in the area have received the Sabin vaccine in special clinics.

party's opposite to Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., leader of the conservative wing.

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, also a potential candidate for the 1964 nomination, has been identified as the leader of the moderate, middle-of-the-road Republicans.

Moving Closer

Rockefeller appears to be moving closer to the main stream of Republicanism to avoid a situation in which Nixon would be considered a logical compromise between the extreme liberal and conservative blocs.

In other comments, Rockefeller said that "people in increasing numbers have lost confidence" in the whole program of public welfare.

He said that he was looking to an investigation commission he appointed recently to produce recommendations that, when enacted into law, would restore that confidence.

Turning to Newburgh, which has sought to enact local rules to cu tback welfare costs, Rockefeller declared that "local governments have got to operate within the framework of state and local laws."

The state has challenged the Newburgh program in the courts on the ground most of the city program is illegal.

Last week, however, the state said court papers Newburgh filed showed that the city had "substantially abandoned" its 13-point program. City Manager Joseph Mitchell said the papers merely spelled out the city's original intentions.

UAW Using New

June 28 and the strikes began a week ago Monday after the union authorized walkouts at plants not having agreement on local demands. More than 250,000 of GM's 350,000 hourly workers were idled at the peak of the strike that paralyzed GM production.

Flare-Up Follows Tension

Tribesmen on Warpath Before Firing Ceased In Katanga Province

EDITOR'S NOTE—Andrew Borowiec, seasoned correspondent of The Associated Press, has arrived in Elisabethville, capital of Katanga Province, which was cut off from direct communication with the outside world nine days ago. The following dispatch by Borowiec was filed six minutes after a cease-fire was supposed to have gone into effect.

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

ELISABTHEVILLE, Katanga, the Congo (AP) — Hungry Baluba tribesmen went on the warpath from their giant refugee camp on the outskirts of this battle-torn city shortly before agreement was reached on a cease-fire between Katangan and U.N. forces.

Hundreds spilled outside the camp, attacking Katangan policemen and white and black civilians. At least three Europeans were wounded by Baluba tribesmen who were screaming and waving machetes.

The flare-up followed several days of rising tension in the camp, organized by the United Nations to house the tribesmen seeking refuge from Kasai Province.

More than 100 Balubas were wounded and killed when Katangan gendarmerie lobbed mortar shells into the camp, housing 30,000 refugees, at the height of the U.N.-Katangan fight.

Ambulance crews from Queen Hospital, fearing for their lives, refused to enter the camp.

The tribesmen emerged from the camp in several groups, attacking passers-by and the homes of Europeans.

They stormed the house of Belgian settler Claude Lambot, waving knives and screaming.

"I grabbed a carbine and killed three of them right away," said Lambot. "But they managed to hack my father with a machete."

Ambulances one after another pulled up and Belgian doctors and nurses attended the wounded.

In the nearby U.N. hospital, doctors and nurses wrung their hands in despair. There was no water, no electricity, and no one could operate on two young boys, one with a bullet in his head, the other injured in the abdomen.

At noon, apparently bored by the whole thing, a large number of Katangan troops withdrew to camps despite the orders of their white officers to attack U.N. positions again. But gun fire by snipers and occasional mortar shelling kept up the atmosphere of terror through the eighth day.

President Asks $55 Million More For Storm Losses

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy rushed to Congress today a request for an extra $55 million to help pay for the damage of hurricanes Carla and Esther and other possible natural disasters.

The federal government now believes the damage from hurricane Carla, which hit primarily in Texas and Louisiana, plus the effects of Esther which is still hammering New England, could run as high as the total for three storms which struck the east coast in August and September 1955. The damage then was close to a billion dollars, and the federal government put nearly $65 million into disaster relief.

Kennedy also officially declared that six Louisiana parishes (counties) are major disaster areas, and thus eligible for federal financial help. A number of Texas counties previously had been declared disaster areas.

The Louisiana parishes: Calcasieu, Cameron, Iberia, LaFourche, St. Bernard and Vermilion.

East Is Alerted

All of Eastern New York State was girded Wednesday for the big blow.

Gov. Rockefeller alerted six state agencies to stand by, with men and equipment ready to go into action, as far north as the Canadian border.

At Montauk, many families who chose not to evacuate were taken to a Coast Guard station and a resort hotel.

Fire Island, south of Long Island in the Atlantic, had flooding early today. High waves pounded steadily at the dunes on the island, where about 125 families elected to remain in their homes and sit out the storm.

Vols Stand By

Throughout Suffolk County on Long Island volunteer firemen remained on the alert for rescue operations.

New York City and most of the metropolitan area were spared the worst fringe effects of Esther. Winds up to 27 miles an hour were reported, with gusts much higher. But there was a promise of partial clearing by this afternoon. Wednesday night's forecast prompted officials to decide against closing the schools.

Car Fire Quelled

Firemen were dispatched to the new Albany Avenue interchange at 6:57 a. m. today to extinguish fire in wiring of a 1957 car owned by Emile Klipper, Cold Brook Road, Wittenberg. Firemen reported extensive damage to the wiring. Engine 3 responded to a call in charge of Deputy Chief Edwin Murphy. A short circuit caused the blaze.

AIRMAN RICHARD SHOWERS

AIRMAN JOHN FIORE

COMPLETE INITIAL COURSE — Two Kingston youths have completed their initial course of Air Force basic miliary training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, and have been selected to attend technical training courses. They are, Airman Richard A. H. Showers, son of Mrs. D. E. Showers, 572 Delaware Avenue, and Airman John F. Fiore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fiore, 22 Hanratty Street. Showers was selected to attend the technical training course for electrical repairman at Chanute Air Force Base, Illinois. Fiore was selected to attend a training course for Morse intercept operator at Keesler Air Force Base, Mississippi. Both airmen are graduates of Kingston High School. Upon completion of special technical training at an Air Force training center, airmen are assigned to operational units of the USAF Aerospace Force.

compound were the two children of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Smith; three of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lawford; and one of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kennedy.

The President's father, Joseph P. Kennedy, and Ann Gargan, a cousin of the President, stayed at the elder Kennedy's summer home to ride out the storm.

Falmouth Families Quit

Other evacuees, Civil Defense reported, were at least 20 families from a lowlying area in Falmouth, also on Cape Cod.

Southern New England geared for a heavy rainfall with flash flooding in many places.

The slowdown of Esther, the Weather Bureau said, meant it would not reach southern Cape Cod until afternoon.

At Fairhaven, Mass., near New Bedford, about 1,000 families, totaling 4,000 persons, were evacuated to higher-ground shelters.

A battery of National Guardsmen was ordered to duty by Falmouth selectmen.

Nantucket Islanders, who grimly battened everything down Wednesday when informed the eye of the hurricane might pass over the island, reported that up to midforenoon the blow had fallen far short of the 60-65-mile gales to which islanders are accustomed.

3-4 Inch Rain Due

Highest velocity measured was a 48-mile gust. Sustained northnortheast winds were 28 to 38 miles an hour at the time the Nantucket Weather Bureau radar tracking station reported the eye of the hurricane 50 miles southeast of Block Island, R.I.

The expected rise of five to nine feet in the forenoon tide failed to reach that height at Nantucket. Only eight of some 40 families heeded warnings to leave the waterfront area.

More than an inch and a half of rain fell at Boston in little more than eight hours, and the Weather Bureau predicted three to four inches.

The hurricane, described by the Weather Bureau as "capricious and dangerous," speeded up early today and its forward advance, previously about 15 miles an hour, increased to 18. This led the Weather Bureau to predict the center would cross the southern coast of Massachusetts at 9 a.m.

At 7 a.m. the center of the storm was located about 50 miles south of Block Island, R.I.

No Deaths Reported

There were as yet no reports of loss of life and no known heavy damage although Rhode Island was just beginning to feel the hurricane's effects.

Hurricane warnings flew from Long Island to Eastport, Maine. A hurricane watch was in effect over western Long Island and Connecticut.

The Weather Bureau estimated winds in the center of the hurricane at 115 m.p.h. with hurricane force winds—75 m.p.h. and higher —extending 100 miles to the east and 75 miles to the west. Gale winds extended outward 350 miles to the east and 200 miles to the west.

The Weather Bureau predicted the size and intensity of the storm would remain about the same for the next 18 to 24 hours.

Boats Hauled Ashore

Up and down the coast, small boats by the hundreds had been hauled ashore or packed into protected harbors. Destroyers moved to safe moorings, military planes flew to inland fields, emergency vehicles scattered to danger spots. Disaster agencies — Red Cross, Civil Defense, police, National Guard—all were alerted.

On Cape Cod, President Kennedy's two children—Caroline, 3½, and John, almost 10 months—spent the night with six cousins at the big home of their grandfather, former ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy. The house at Hyannis Port faces Nantucket Sound but is on high ground.

request was denied according to Anthony Cashara, president of Local 1562.

A sitdown strike, which began Wednesday afternoon, was continued today and is alleged to have spread to another department. A union spokesman said an announcement was made over the plant public address system this morning to the effect that the plant would be closed down until further notice.

A meeting of Local 1562 was scheduled for noon today.

State Has Three New Polio Cases, Total Is Now 71

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Three new, paralytic polio cases reported today raised to 71 this year's total for a three-county area of Central New York.

Two cases were reported in Syracuse and one in Rome.

Both polio victims in Syracuse —a 17-year-old girl and a 35-year-old man — had received all three Salk vaccine inoculations and the Sabin oral vaccine.

A 20-year-old man in Rome had not received any vaccine, the State Health Department reported.

The current polio outbreak covers the counties of Madison, Oneida and Onondaga. Nearly a half-million persons in the area have received the Sabin vaccine in special clinics.

party's opposite to Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., leader of the conservative wing.

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, also a potential candidate for the 1964 nomination, has been identified as the leader of the moderate, middle-of-the-road Republicans.

Moving Closer

Rockefeller appears to be moving closer to the main stream of Republicanism to avoid a situation in which Nixon would be considered a logical compromise between the extreme liberal and conservative blocs.

In other comments, Rockefeller said that "people in increasing numbers have lost confidence" in the whole program of public welfare.

He said that he was looking to an investigation commission he appointed recently to produce recommendations that, when enacted into law, would restore that confidence.

Turning to Newburgh, which has sought to enact local rules to cu tback welfare costs, Rockefeller declared that "local governments have got to operate within the framework of state and local laws."

The state has challenged the Newburgh program in the courts on the ground most of the city program is illegal.

Last week, however, the state said court papers Newburgh filed showed that the city had "substantially abandoned" its 13-point program. City Manager Joseph Mitchell said the papers merely spelled out the city's original intentions.

UAW Using New

June 28 and the strikes began a week ago Monday after the union authorized walkouts at plants not having agreement on local demands. More than 250,000 of GM's 350,000 hourly workers were idled at the peak of the strike that paralyzed GM production.

Tribesmen on Warpath Before Firing Ceased In Katanga Province

EDITOR'S NOTE—Andrew Borowiec, seasoned correspondent of The Associated Press, has arrived in Elisabethville, capital of Katanga Province, which was cut off from direct communication with the outside world nine days ago. The following dispatch by Borowiec was filed six minutes after a cease-fire was supposed to have gone into effect.

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

ELISABTHEVILLE, Katanga, the Congo (AP) — Hungry Baluba tribesmen went on the warpath from their giant refugee camp on the outskirts of this battle-torn city shortly before agreement was reached on a cease-fire between Katangan and U.N. forces.

Hundreds spilled outside the camp, attacking Katangan policemen and white and black civilians. At least three Europeans were wounded by Baluba tribesmen who were screaming and waving machetes.

The flare-up followed several days of rising tension in the camp, organized by the United Nations to house the tribesmen seeking refuge from Kasai Province.

More than 100 Balubas were wounded and killed when Katangan gendarmerie lobbed mortar shells into the camp, housing 30,000 refugees, at the height of the U.N.-Katangan fight.

Ambulance crews from Queen Hospital, fearing for their lives, refused to enter the camp.

The tribesmen emerged from the camp in several groups, attacking passers-by and the homes of Europeans.

They stormed the house of Belgian settler Claude Lambot, waving knives and screaming.

"I grabbed a carbine and killed three of them right away," said Lambot. "But they managed to hack my father with a machete."

Ambulances one after another pulled up and Belgian doctors and nurses attended the wounded.

In the nearby U.N. hospital, doctors and nurses wrung their hands in despair. There was no water, no electricity, and no one could operate on two young boys, one with a bullet in his head, the other injured in the abdomen.

At noon, apparently bored by the whole thing, a large number of Katangan troops withdrew to camps despite the orders of their white officers to attack U.N. positions again. But gun fire by snipers and occasional mortar shelling kept up the atmosphere of terror through the eighth day.

President Asks $55 Million More For Storm Losses

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy rushed to Congress today a request for an extra $55 million to help pay for the damage of hurricanes Carla and Esther and other possible natural disasters.

The federal government now believes the damage from hurricane Carla, which hit primarily in Texas and Louisiana, plus the effects of Esther which is still hammering New England, could run as high as the total for three storms which struck the east coast in August and September 1955. The damage then was close to a billion dollars, and the federal government put nearly $65 million into disaster relief.

Kennedy also officially declared that six Louisiana parishes (counties) are major disaster areas, and thus eligible for federal financial help. A number of Texas counties previously had been declared disaster areas.

The Louisiana parishes: Calcasieu, Cameron, Iberia, LaFourche, St. Bernard and Vermilion.
